Congo Army Divided On Tribal Lines

Both Leaders Claim Loyal Supporters, But Others Waver

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The Congo army, counted as a deciding factor in the struggle between President Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Patrice Lumumba, today appeared disintegrating into tribal lines.

No one was sure whether Lumumba or Kasavubu held the upper hand in the undisciplined army. It was clear both leaders could rely on a hard core of their tribal supporters, but the rest of the force wavered back and forth between the two political camps.

A senior Congo government official who claims to be non-partisan, said the soldiers have been gradually regrouping themselves into their tribal attachments in the 10 weeks since they mutinied against their Belgian officers following Congo independence.

Both Kasavubu and Lumumba have been trying to fire each other, and seize full control but neither has had solid enough support from the army to make the order stick.

The situation became more confused Tuesday night when Lumumba defied a new Kasavubu arrest warrant and strode into a joint session of Parliament which gave the premier a rousing cheer and voted him dictatorial powers.

The vote meant little, since a majority of the senators and deputies were absent, but Lumumba jubilantly hailed it as a legal mandate empowering him to "arrest any person causing trouble."

"I did not ask for full powers," Lumumba asserted. "It is the parliament which has offered it because of the gravity of the situation."

Most opposition members refused to show up for the session held under the guns of helmeted Congo troops.

The vote came after a fiery speech by Lumumba who accused Kasavubu of fomenting an army uprising and credited himself with preventing a civil war when he was arrested Monday by Kasavubu supporters.

Heart Ailment Cited In Death

William McLaughlin Services Set Friday

William L. McLaughlin, 73, of Radio Heights suffered a fatal heart attack Tuesday morning while driving his pickup truck down the Shadyside Ave. hill, causing the truck to plunge off the highway, Dr. R. C. Costello, deputy coroner, reported today.

Mr. McLaughlin had been under medical care for a heart condition, and had taken medication prior to leaving home yesterday morning in the truck which was loaded with milk cans.

He died instantly of the natural cause, and Dr. Costello said the death was not a traffic fatality since there were no contributing injuries.

Services for Mr. McLaughlin will be held Friday at 9:30 a. m. at St. Aloysius Catholic Church. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call Thursday at the Dawson Funeral Home.

Meanwhile, the victim's son, William J. McLaughlin, 28, of R. D. 1, was involved in a traffic mishap about 10 a. m. Tuesday at Monroe and W. 7th Sts. while rushing to City Hospital at the time of his father's death, police said.

McLaughlin's car was involved in a collision with a 1959 sedan driven by James H. Jackson, 67, of 441 Thompson Ave., officers reported.

Jackson filed the report at headquarters. He said he was driving west on W. 7th St. and attempting to turn left onto Monroe when McLaughlin — traveling on Monroe—failed to make the turn and hit the Jackson car broadside. After identifying himself and explaining the reason for his haste, McLaughlin went on to the hospital.

Preview Of Autumn As Mercury Hits 47

With autumn only a week or so away, the East Liverpool area was given a preview of the next season when the mercury fell to a chilly 47 degrees at Dam 8 at Newell this morning.

Harry Springer, lockmaster, said the low point was recorded at 6 and 7 a.m. after a high of only 63 degrees Tuesday afternoon.

The forecast is for another cool evening with a low of 45 to 50. Today's high will be 68 to 72. Thursday will be sunny and warmer.

Autumn is due Sept. 22.

Some Hurt In New York Crackup

All 75 Are Believed Safe In Crash Of U.S. Airliner

NEW YORK (AP)—An American Airlines Electra turboprop plane, carrying 70 passengers and a crew of five from Boston, hit a dike while landing at La Guardia Airport today, flipped over and burst into roaring flames. No one was reported killed but some passengers were injured.

Six of the passengers were rushed to Flushing Hospital after astonishing rescue operation of all aboard the flaming craft.

Others injured were treated in airport hangars. Airport police said none of these appeared seriously hurt.

American Airlines said the flight today reported no trouble as it made a landing approach before striking the eight-foot-high dike. The dike was one of a number erected at edges of the airport along Flushing Bay during an airport construction program.

Crew members were: Capt. Gordon Staples, First Officer Herbert Schleicher, engineer Kenneth Thoman and stewardess Margaret Fleming and Donna Gilligan.

Fire fighters were not immediately able to get the blaze under control.

The crash occurred in sunny but hazy weather.

Because of a huge construction program now under way at LaGuardia, runway No. 31 is the only one available.

The craft flipped over and skidded about 500 feet, shearing off the left wing, before coming to a halt in a grassy area off the runway.

One observer was quoted as saying the landing gear hit the dike and snapped off, throwing the craft into a spin.

A supervisory check pilot of the airline, Sheldon E. Pangburn, was piloting the plane at the time of the crash. He said the craft was struck by a downdraft just as it made its runway approach.

One Limps Safely To Ireland

Plane Hunted In Atlantic After 2 U.S. Craft Collide

SHANNON, Ireland (AP)—Two U.S. Air Force B47 jet bombers on a three-plane flight from the United States collided over the storm-tossed Atlantic today. One spun down through the overcast. The other limped 300 miles to Shannon with an engine dangling from one wing.

With visibility closing in and waves running high, five Royal Air Force rescue planes and a British destroyer were ordered to the area to search for the three-man crew of the downed plane.

The search operation also was reported to include three U.S. submarines on duty in the area.

Search headquarters said the first ship may not reach the crash site until midnight, leaving the survivors, if any, to be tossed about for hours on their small rubber escape rafts.

The B47s involved were bound from Plattsburgh Air Force Base, N.Y., to the U.S. base at Brize Norton, England.

While air authorities in Britain and Ireland said they were satisfied the plane was down at sea, U.S. Air Force officials at Plattsburgh clung to a belief it might have managed a safe landing somewhere on European soil. They listed it officially as missing.

The B47 is a six-engined jet with a maximum speed of 650 miles per hour and a ceiling of 50,000 feet.

Shannon Airport officials said they did not know whether the pilot of the ditched bomber was able to set it down in the water successfully, or whether it hit the sea hard and broke up.

Air Force crewmen on overwater slights carry rafts with radio transmitters which can signal their position.

At U. S. Air Force headquarters in Ruislip, near London, a spokesman said the three B47s, of the Strategic Air Command, were bound for England "as part of a normal deployment exercise."

"The planes were not carrying weapons," he said.

The U.S. Air Force sent out a Neptune flying boat and two Albatross amphibian aircraft to seek survivors of the downed bomber.

Coast Guards said visibility in the search area was "very poor" and that gale winds were kicking up high seas.

The pilot of the crippled bomber, Capt. John Brennan of Evansville, Ind., told reporters he didn't know exactly what happened.

"We were at 33,000 feet when the incident occurred," he said. "I saw one of the other two bombers spinning downwards.

"We were in poor shape ourselves and we turned around and headed for Shannon. I can tell you we were very happy to see the green fields of Ireland."

Brennan and the other two crew members — Capt. Richard Glogowski of Chicago, and Lt. John Canocran of Denville, N. J., refused to answer further questions.

Defense Due To Begin In Beaver Murder Case

The murder trial of Jobie Lee Lewis of Aliquippa continued today at Beaver, with the defense expected to begin presentation of its case.

The prosecution was heard Tuesday. Lewis is on trial for the murder of Robert L. Sligh, 23, of Aliquippa. He allegedly hit Sligh over the head with a baseball bat early May 23 during an argument outside an Aliquippa social club.

There were no Midland trials.

Ike's Address At U.N. Slated For Sept. 22

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will address the United Nations General Assembly next Thursday, the White House announced today.

Eisenhower "will have specific proposals to make to the United Nations delegates at that time," press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen.

Eisenhower's address is timed to precede that of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, now en route by boat to speak before the Assembly.

The General Assembly opens Tuesday, Sept. 20, but Thursday is the first day for speech-making.

Under the General Assembly schedule, Brazil will have the first opportunity to speak, followed by the United States.

Eisenhower will replace Secretary of State Christian A. Herter in making the opening speech for the United States.

12 More Days To Register

To be eligible to vote in East Liverpool at the Nov. 8 general election, you must register with the County Election Board at 129 W. 6th St. if:

You haven't voted at a primary, general or special election in the last two years; you've changed your name by marriage or court action; you've changed your residence since the last election; you've become 21 since the last election or will be 21 on or before Nov. 8, the general election date.

A new resident is qualified to vote after he has resided in Ohio for a year and in Columbiana County and his precinct 40 days prior to Election Day. Special application may be made to vote in the Presidential election with less than a year's residence. East Liverpool is the only community in the county where voter registration is required.

Cactus Bar's Owner Fined $4,500; Faces 2 Hancock Charges

Cumberland Grand Jury Indicts 20

Panel Also Accuses 3 Of Watson's Staff In Chester Tavern

William A. Watson, operator of the Cactus Bar on Route 30 east of Chester, was indicted on 2 misdemeanor counts by the Hancock County Grand Jury, which was dismissed until further notice after reporting this morning in the Courthouse in New Cumberland.

The panel, headed by Stanley F. Ruskoski of Weirton, heard testimony of witnesses from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Tuesday when it was adjourned until 11 this morning by Judge J. Harold Brennan.

Watson was one of 20 persons indicted by the September Grand Jury and is the first county tavern operator to be named in an indictment since the West Virginia Crime Commission concluded its hearings on vice and gambling in the Northern Panhandle.

The indictments charges him with keeping and exhibiting a gaming device (slot machine), and keeping and exhibiting a gaming table.

Three Cactus Bar employes, arrested in a raid by state police Aug. 30, also were indicted on illegal gaming device charges.

The jury also indicted Donald Eugene Saunders, 31, of Wellsburg, who was the driver of a car which crushed a Waterford Park guard against a steel fence in June.

Saunders was indicted on two felony counts of attempted murder and felonious assault, on Steve Yurka. Yurka, badly injured when crushed against a fence at the track by Saunders' auto, testified on crutches before the Grand Jury.

Others indicted are:

Martha Nola, 35, of Hookstown, R. D. 1, 2 misdemeanors, keeping and exhibiting a gaming device (slot machine) and keeping and exhibiting a gaming table (blackjack), at the Cactus Bar.

Hazel Shovlin, 31, of 506 E. 5th St., East Liverpool, 2 misdemeanors, exhibiting a gaming device (slot machine) and keeping and exhibiting a gaming table (blackjack), at the Cactus Bar.

Lambrose Louis Fellouzis, 28, of 121 W. 4th St., East Liverpool, misdemeanor, betting and playing a blackjack table at the Cactus Bar.

James Edward Shephard, three felonies, forgery, and one misdemeanor, delivery of a check with intent of fraud.

Earl Johnson, felony, forgery.

Carl Eugene Jones, breaking and entering, a felony.

James B. Hall, misdemeanor, contributing to the delinquency of two minors.

David Archie Letchoe, felony, felonious and malicious assault.

George Henry Hopkins, felony, felonious assault.

Chester Laymen Act

Weirton Pastors Asked To Help In Hancock Cleanup

Laymen from the Chester area have appealed to the Weirton Ministerial Association for help in organizing a movement to clean up Hancock County.

A date of Oct. 18 has been set tentatively for a mass meeting in Weirton for county residents to discuss vice conditions in Weirton, Chester, New Cumberland and Newell.

The Weirton Ministerial Association has appointed a five-member committee to meet with a community-betterment organization in Chester to organize the cleanup campaign.

The Chester laymen's group apparently includes a number of residents who signed petitions backing the reform movement of Mayor Ray Collins and presented the petitions to the West Virginia Crime Commission last week in Wheeling.

Tentative plans for a general conference of representatives of churches throughout Hancock County to meet with political candidates for a discussion on vice in the county are being weighed by a citizens group and the ministers.

The Crime Commission, in a week of hearing testimony from public officials and tavern operators, was told of widespread illegal liquor sales and gambling in the county.

The public mass meeting of citizens would be held in Weirton, the county's largest city.

Don Chaney of the Chester Citizens for Better Government conferred Tuesday with members of the Weirton association concerning the proposed dinner meeting.

Chaney said candidates in the November election have not been approached yet, but it hoped a number may be able to attend.

Plans call for a dinner meeting at the Weirton Community Center with 10 representatives from each county church to attend.

Meanwhile, the Rev. Ellsworth Crispens of First Methodist Church, said petitions were circulated among three of the Newell churches requesting that the commission look into conditions in the community.

He added he did not learn of disposition of the petitions and they did not crop up in a testimony reported at the group's hearing in Wheeling.

Newell has no municipal government and depends on the Hancock County sheriff's deputies for policing.

U.N. Council Recalled On Congo Crisis

Soviet Charges Dag Violated Resolutions With Own Policies

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council was called back into session today for another attempt to sort out the tangled terror in the Congo.

Before the council were Soviet charges that Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold personally violated Security Council resolutions and sided against Soviet-supported Premier Patrice Lumumba by his policies in the Congo.

These were bolstered by Yugoslav accusations that Belgium, from which the Congo got its independence June 30, still maintained armed units on Congo territory despite Security Council attempts to get them out.

Hammarskjold last week condemned — without identifying either the Soviets or the Belgians by name — countries that were supplying rival factions in the Congo with military aid outside the U.N. program.

The Soviet delegation chief, Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin, tried to build up a backfire against the charges directed at Soviet aid. He claimed Hammarskjold is playing along with a U.S.-NATO coalition designed to bring the Congo again under colonial rule.

The Security Council adjourned indefinitely Monday, at U.S. urging, until the situation became more clear. But members of the council, delegates from the African group, and other interested parties conferred in private throughout Tuesday.

A Lumumba delegation headed by Thomas Kanza, designated by the embattled premier as his representative here, managed to talk with Hammarskjold.

But nobody would say whether the Kanza envoys or a rival group sent by President Joseph Kasavubu would appear at the council table.

U.S. Stands Firm On K's Confinement

Rejects Protest On Restricting Him To Manhattan Island

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States held firmly today to its plan to confine Nikita Khrushchev to Manhattan Island during his U.N. visit despite expectations that the Soviet premier would seek to exploit the issue.

U.S. Puts Restriction On Castro During Visit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today ordered Cuba's Fidel Castro restricted to Manhattan Island when he attends the United Nations general assembly session in New York, beginning next week.

The limitations imposed on Castro's movements are the same as those previously set on the travels in this country of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and two other Soviet bloc leaders.

Sure enough, in a new move today the Soviets, already rebuffed by the U.S. State Department, carried the issue directly to U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, saying they expected him to act to get the travel ban lifted. Hammarskjold did not reply immediately.

Khrushchev is heading the Soviet delegation to the United Nations General Assembly meeting starting Sept. 20. Both the White House and the State Department said Tuesday his movements are being restricted only to assure his safety.

In cool but correct terms, a U.S. note speedily rejected a formal protest that the Sept. 9 U.S. order restricting Khrushchev to Manhattan was an unfriendly act, unlawful and aimed at hindering the work of the Soviet delegation.

Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov delivered the Soviet protest Tuesday. The State Department reply was delivered by messenger to the Soviet Embassy Tuesday night.

Watson Hit By 3 Fines In U.S. Court

3 Others In Chester Area Assessed But No Jail Terms Given

Ten tavern owners in the Northern Panhandle of West Virginia, including 4 from the Chester area, were fined a total of $11,250 Tuesday in U.S. District Court at Wheeling for failure to purchase federal gambling device tax stamps.

Hearings were held on motions for dismissals for two others, one from Chester. The cases were the result of raids conducted in January by agents of the Internal Revenue Service.

No jail sentences were imposed on any of the 10 who had pleaded guilty Aug. 25 to charges of wilfully and unlawfully avoiding purchase of the $250 federal gaming device stamp.

The stamps are required for the use of coin-operated gambling devices.

The heaviest fine was handed by Judge Charles F. Paul to William Watson, operator of the Route 30 Tavern and Cactus Bar at Chester.

Watson was fined $4,500, or $1,500 on each of 3 counts.

The fines ranged from $250 to $4,500.

Atty. Russell Goodwin Jr., of Wheeling, who appeared on behalf of several of the tavern owners, interjected the recent Crime Commission hearing into the Federal Court proceedings.

Goodwin said because of the recent publicity he wanted to make comments regarding his Hancock County clients in particular. Goodwin said they are not "commercial gamblers but "small tavern owners . . . trying to make a living.

Goodwin said none of the defendants were operators of "big gambling casinos."

Judge Paul said "this court will not attempt to enforce the gambling laws of the state."

The primary interest of the court, Judge Paul said, was the violation of the federal laws. The enforcement of the state concerning liquor and gambling must be handled through state courts.

Operators fined included Robert F. Fryer, trading as Bob's Tavern, Route 30 Chester, total of $2,000 at $500 each on 4 counts; James Lekandis, Jimmie's Top Hat Bar, Wheeling; Elsie Dorothy Mattix, Dot's Grill, Valley Grove; Wayne A. Wood, Glenwood Lunch, Wheeling.

James Henthorn, Menow Cafe, Wheeling, Marion Eurela, Club Sands, Weirton, $1,000; Jean Gillis, Clover Club, Chester, $750 on 2 counts; Russell A. Cook, Club 66, Chester, $500 on 2 counts, and Galdo J. DiCarlo, DiCarlo's Tavern, Wheeling.

Judge Paul also heard arguments in the cases of Mary I. Spatafore, operator of Morgan's Half - Way House, Valley Grove, and Fannie Derifield, doing business as Fannie's Tavern, Chester. Both had asked for dismissal of their cases.

Fire Causes Damage To Brookes St. Home

Fire caused heavy damage to the side and roof of the home of Delbert DeNoon, 511 Brookes St., Tuesday night at 11.

City firemen said the blaze was started by a defective chimney. The fire started at the bottom of the outside wall, burned up through the partition and was burning in the eaves and roof when firemen arrived.

No estimate was made on the loss to the two-story frame home. Firemen responded to the call with three trucks. Some 500-feet of 2½-inch line was laid.

Firemen were called Tuesday afternoon at 4:08 to the home of Harry McHenry, 704 Armstrong Ln., when a clothes drier became overheated.

Chester Laymen Act

Weirton Pastors Asked To Help In Hancock Cleanup

Laymen from the Chester area have appealed to the Weirton Ministerial Association for help in organizing a movement to clean up Hancock County.

A date of Oct. 18 has been set tentatively for a mass meeting in Weirton for county residents to discuss vice conditions in Weirton, Chester, New Cumberland and Newell.

The Weirton Ministerial Association has appointed a five-member committee to meet with a community-betterment organization in Chester to organize the cleanup campaign.

The Chester laymen's group apparently includes a number of residents who signed petitions backing the reform movement of Mayor Ray Collins and presented the petitions to the West Virginia Crime Commission last week in Wheeling.

Tentative plans for a general conference of representatives of churches throughout Hancock County to meet with political candidates for a discussion on vice in the county are being weighed by a citizens group and the ministers.

The Crime Commission, in a week of hearing testimony from public officials and tavern operators, was told of widespread illegal liquor sales and gambling in the county.

The public mass meeting of citizens would be held in Weirton, the county's largest city.

Don Chaney of the Chester Citizens for Better Government conferred Tuesday with members of the Weirton association concerning the proposed dinner meeting.

Chaney said candidates in the November election have not been approached yet, but it hoped a number may be able to attend.

Plans call for a dinner meeting at the Weirton Community Center with 10 representatives from each county church to attend.

Meanwhile, the Rev. Ellsworth Crispens of First Methodist Church, said petitions were circulated among three of the Newell churches requesting that the commission look into conditions in the community.

He added he did not learn of disposition of the petitions and they did not crop up in a testimony reported at the group's hearing in Wheeling.

Newell has no municipal government and depends on the Hancock County sheriff's deputies for policing.

Watson Hit By 3 Fines In U.S. Court

3 Others In Chester Area Assessed But No Jail Terms Given

Ten tavern owners in the Northern Panhandle of West Virginia, including 4 from the Chester area, were fined a total of $11,250 Tuesday in U.S. District Court at Wheeling for failure to purchase federal gambling device tax stamps.

Hearings were held on motions for dismissals for two others, one from Chester. The cases were the result of raids conducted in January by agents of the Internal Revenue Service.

No jail sentences were imposed on any of the 10 who had pleaded guilty Aug. 25 to charges of wilfully and unlawfully avoiding purchase of the $250 federal gaming device stamp.

The stamps are required for the use of coin-operated gambling devices.

The heaviest fine was handed by Judge Charles F. Paul to William Watson, operator of the Route 30 Tavern and Cactus Bar at Chester.

Watson was fined $4,500, or $1,500 on each of 3 counts.

The fines ranged from $250 to $4,500.

Atty. Russell Goodwin Jr., of Wheeling, who appeared on behalf of several of the tavern owners, interjected the recent Crime Commission hearing into the Federal Court proceedings.

Goodwin said because of the recent publicity he wanted to make comments regarding his Hancock County clients in particular. Goodwin said they are not "commercial gamblers but "small tavern owners . . . trying to make a living.

Goodwin said none of the defendants were operators of "big gambling casinos."

Judge Paul said "this court will not attempt to enforce the gambling laws of the state."

The primary interest of the court, Judge Paul said, was the violation of the federal laws. The enforcement of the state concerning liquor and gambling must be handled through state courts.

Operators fined included Robert F. Fryer, trading as Bob's Tavern, Route 30 Chester, total of $2,000 at $500 each on 4 counts; James Lekandis, Jimmie's Top Hat Bar, Wheeling; Elsie Dorothy Mattix, Dot's Grill, Valley Grove; Wayne A. Wood, Glenwood Lunch, Wheeling.

James Henthorn, Menow Cafe, Wheeling, Marion Eurela, Club Sands, Weirton, $1,000; Jean Gillis, Clover Club, Chester, $750 on 2 counts; Russell A. Cook, Club 66, Chester, $500 on 2 counts, and Galdo J. DiCarlo, DiCarlo's Tavern, Wheeling.

Judge Paul also heard arguments in the cases of Mary I. Spatafore, operator of Morgan's Half - Way House, Valley Grove, and Fannie Derifield, doing business as Fannie's Tavern, Chester. Both had asked for dismissal of their cases.

U.N. Council Recalled On Congo Crisis

Soviet Charges Dag Violated Resolutions With Own Policies

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council was called back into session today for another attempt to sort out the tangled terror in the Congo.

Before the council were Soviet charges that Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold personally violated Security Council resolutions and sided against Soviet-supported Premier Patrice Lumumba by his policies in the Congo.

These were bolstered by Yugoslav accusations that Belgium, from which the Congo got its independence June 30, still maintained armed units on Congo territory despite Security Council attempts to get them out.

Hammarskjold last week condemned — without identifying either the Soviets or the Belgians by name — countries that were supplying rival factions in the Congo with military aid outside the U.N. program.

The Soviet delegation chief, Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin, tried to build up a backfire against the charges directed at Soviet aid. He claimed Hammarskjold is playing along with a U.S.-NATO coalition designed to bring the Congo again under colonial rule.

The Security Council adjourned indefinitely Monday, at U.S. urging, until the situation became more clear. But members of the council, delegates from the African group, and other interested parties conferred in private throughout Tuesday.

A Lumumba delegation headed by Thomas Kanza, designated by the embattled premier as his representative here, managed to talk with Hammarskjold.

But nobody would say whether the Kanza envoys or a rival group sent by President Joseph Kasavubu would appear at the council table.

Rejects Protest On Restricting Him To Manhattan Island

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States held firmly today to its plan to confine Nikita Khrushchev to Manhattan Island during his U.N. visit despite expectations that the Soviet premier would seek to exploit the issue.

U.S. Puts Restriction On Castro During Visit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today ordered Cuba's Fidel Castro restricted to Manhattan Island when he attends the United Nations general assembly session in New York, beginning next week.

The limitations imposed on Castro's movements are the same as those previously set on the travels in this country of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and two other Soviet bloc leaders.

Sure enough, in a new move today the Soviets, already rebuffed by the U.S. State Department, carried the issue directly to U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, saying they expected him to act to get the travel ban lifted. Hammarskjold did not reply immediately.

Khrushchev is heading the Soviet delegation to the United Nations General Assembly meeting starting Sept. 20. Both the White House and the State Department said Tuesday his movements are being restricted only to assure his safety.

In cool but correct terms, a U.S. note speedily rejected a formal protest that the Sept. 9 U.S. order restricting Khrushchev to Manhattan was an unfriendly act, unlawful and aimed at hindering the work of the Soviet delegation.

Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov delivered the Soviet protest Tuesday. The State Department reply was delivered by messenger to the Soviet Embassy Tuesday night.

Fire Causes Damage To Brookes St. Home

Fire caused heavy damage to the side and roof of the home of Delbert DeNoon, 511 Brookes St., Tuesday night at 11.

City firemen said the blaze was started by a defective chimney. The fire started at the bottom of the outside wall, burned up through the partition and was burning in the eaves and roof when firemen arrived.

No estimate was made on the loss to the two-story frame home. Firemen responded to the call with three trucks. Some 500-feet of 2½-inch line was laid.

Firemen were called Tuesday afternoon at 4:08 to the home of Harry McHenry, 704 Armstrong Ln., when a clothes drier became overheated.

Delegates to the 27th annual conference of the 6th District Quota International were named at the opening fall luncheon of the Quota Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel. Some 20 attended.

Set for Sept. 23-25 at the Cleveland-Sheraton Hotel in Cleveland, the delegates will be Mrs. Edna Jones and Mrs. Jane Jolly. Mrs. Eleanor Boice and Mrs. Mary McCullough will be alternates.

Miss Justine Miller, president, presided. Mrs. Eleanor Boice read the minutes and Mrs. Irma McGarey the financial report.

Miss Mildred McGregor announced the Hearing and Speech Clinic will open Sept. 24 at Westgate School. Therapists are under the direction of Dr. William Weidner of the Kent State University teaching program. Miss McGregor, schedules the appointments and Miss Phyllis Crook is receptionist. Money was appropriated for printing brochures to be sent to parents of prospective students.

The new booklet of charter, by-laws and rules of procedure was distributed.

Dr. Edith Gilmore, ways and means chairman, asked members to save tax stamps and take orders for fruit cake.

Miss Ann Allison was a guest.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p. m. Sept. 27 at the high school. Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Jolly are program chairmen.

Lisbon Exceeds Quota For Donation Of Blood

LISBON — For the second time within six months, residents of Lisbon and vicinity, gave 131 pints of blood to the Red Cross Bloodmobile stationed at the American Legion Home Monday for the semi-annual visit. The blood is credited to the blood banks at Salem City Hospital and Salem Central Clinic and is available to area patients for a charge of administration only.

This is not the highest total as 138 pints were given in September 1956 but they have also been as low as 65 pints on one visit. The quota is 125 pints each visit.

Mrs. Jayne Calhoun was general co-ordinator.

Twenty-seven gave blood for the first time. Last visit, there were 22 new donors, according to Mrs. Ed Kauffman, recruiting chairman. Some have given blood at each visit since 1956.

Traffic Change Made In Street At Midland

A one-way section of Woodland Ave. in Midland will be used for two-way traffic for brief periods in the forenoons, starting today in order to facilitate school bus traffic, borough authorities announced.

The section in the 1st St. area, ordinarily for west-bound traffic only, will be used by school buses from Midland Heights and rural areas for travel east from 7:45 to 8:30 a. m. daily, Police Sgt. Vincent D'Itri said.

The move was made to avoid descending bus traffic on the steep 3rd St. grade to Midland Ave. where it has been found the extended rears of the buses drag on the pavement, causing a spark fire hazard for gasoline tanks and possible bus damage.

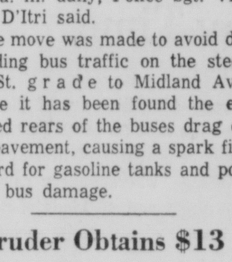

Intruder Obtains $13 In Burglary At Library

A burglar escaped with $13 in currency and silver after breaking into the Carnegie Public Library Sunday night or early Monday, police were told.

The intruder gained entrance to the basement by breaking a window on the E. 4th St. side of the building, officers said. Then he entered the main floor of the building, forcing open 3 drawers and taking 5 $1 bills and $8 in silver, officers said. Several other drawers were ransacked, but they contained nothing of value, police said.

Sen. Kennedy Has Cleared The Air

In his address before the Greater Houston Ministerial Assn., Sen John F. Kennedy came to grips with the political difficulty created for him by his Roman Catholic religion.

The state of Texas, he knew, might be alienated by the doubt of its Protestants that a Roman Catholic in the White House could be independent of his church in making temporal decisions.

Sen. Kennedy resolved the doubt with the forthright statement that he would make all decisions in accordance with his own conscience, "without regard to outside religious pressures or dictates."

This affirmed what Sen. Kennedy had been saying ever since discussion of his religion entered the campaign, but this time it was said in a context and in a manner that cleared the air.

HE DECLARED that he, as a Roman Catholic in the United States, does not believe in the church-state connection that has given the Vatican powerful influence over Old World governments.

He said that his church and its leaders had no more right to advise him on public policy than Protestant ministers had to tell their parishioners how to vote.

Sen. Kennedy stated that public officials in the United States should not request or accept instructions on public policy either directly or indirectly from any ecclesiastical source seeking to impose its will on the general public.

There is nothing more to say on this subject that has stirred doubts in the 1960 election. The doubts never did concern Sen. Kennedy's personal sincerity in his oft-stated desire to keep his religion from being a factor in the November election, either for him or against him. It has been conceded all along that he, like Vice President Nixon, wanted to be appraised on his merit aside from religion.

THE CHURCH-STATE relationship of Roman Catholicism in other countries could not be ignored.

It was imperative for the Roman Catholic candidate in the 1960 election to say clearly that he did not believe the relationship ever should exist here and would not be tolerated here if he reached the White House.

It is impossible to think of anything more that could be said or needs to be said, as far as the religious aspects of the presidential candidacy of John F. Kennedy are concerned.

If he wanted to clear the air—and he obviously did want to—he had to say sometime that he did not believe the church-state concept of Roman Catholicism should be tolerated in the United States.

He has said it as plainly as it could be said. We believe him. We think Richard Nixon believes him.

The two gentlemen should now concentrate on the issues of the 1960 election.

Hereafter, when they are asked to comment on religion they should reply that there is nothing more that needs to be said.

There isn't anything more that needs to be said.

Gentlemen, Please Be Seated

The Sept. 20 opening of the United Nations General Assembly promises to be the high mark in the still brief history of this international agency. The first session of the General Assembly was convened in London on Jan. 10, 1946.

The high mark in prospect is the result of a decision initiated by Chairman Khrushchev of the Soviet Union and followed up by the Communist leaders of Hungary, Romania, Albania, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and Poland, to attend the opening sessions of the U.N. General Assembly in person.

The United Nations, it now becomes obvious, has been staked out by the Communist bloc for special attention.

They are looking forward to the time when Communist-bloc countries can take full advantage of an instrumentality proposed by the United States and use it as an international sounding board for their ideology.

Having proved themselves to be masters of the art of infiltrating the governments of nations, they now are putting on a demonstration of the art of infiltrating the international association of nations.

There is nothing new in a Russian-led campaign to assert influence in the United Nations; that has been done tirelessly by a succession of Russian negativists. What is new in 1960 is evidence that a Russian-led campaign to assert positive influence is shaping up.

The "debating society" on the East River side of Manhattan Island is about to be overloaded with the international stars of Marxist dialectics.

The agency that the United States has been accused of dominating, both by its financial support and the choice of New York City as its locale, is about to witness a peremptory challenge from leading spokesmen of the Communist Conspiracy.

What is strange is the defeatism this Communist move has generated here. The coming of the Communist bloc's top spokesmen is being regarded as a setback for the United States. The idea seems to be that they have outwitted the U.S. State Department by coming here in a body.

Couldn't it be possible that the U.S. State Department, instead, might pull up its socks and take advantage of a golden opportunity to swat an entire batch of Marxist gadflies in one sweep?

If it's necessary, the Republicans could spare Henry Cabot Lodge from the vice-presidential campaign to help hold up the U.S. end in the General Assembly. In the past, the Communists never were able to intimidate him or out-talk Ambassador Lodge.

With a little imagination, what threatens to be an invasion by Communists could be turned into a rout by the anti-Communists.

Lesson From The Caribbean

Nothing could be more presumptous than a non-Floridian point of view on a Florida problem.

But when the point of view comes by way of the Caribbean, it picks up credence along the way. It concerns the feasibility of massive investment in that part of Florida most susceptible to hurricanes—the part where the peninsula narrows down, with Key West dangling at the tip.

This is where the most nearly irreparable damage is done in a major hurricane. This is where restoration of roads and facilities is most expensive.

Elsewhere in Florida, the perennial optimists who built it from a sandy waste into a paradise for refugees from the North are hopeful of rising above the setback administered by hurricane Donna—most destructive in Florida history. There is no reason to believe they can't make the world forget what happened and even go beyond that. They can make the world forget that it could happen again. There is no ceiling on the capabilities of men and women who want to believe what it is good to believe.

But in the Caribbean it was known long ago that there is a ceiling on the possibility of making permanent improvements in hurricane paths. In places like Puerto Rico, where hurricane damage is a way of life, improvements are for the time between the last and the next big wind.

This makes it difficult for visitors to understand housing standards, for example. It is not easy to understand attitudes of fatalism among the natives, either. But in the part of Florida where some of the more irreparable items of damage that is estimated to total as much as a billion dollars are being viewed askance, it should be easier to understand than it was before why highways running to Key West aren't worth what it costs to rebuild them. Railroads were given up years ago.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Cherokee Indians of Carolinas have a framed plaque reading: "Before the white man came there were no taxes and women did all the work."

The "Injun" has something there. He was sometimes savage, but not so savage as many white men as they wade through tax forms. He had no housing problems, no slums and no landlord troubles.

There was no Indian word for "inflation." A few clamshells or beads didn't fluctuate much. No tepee heard loud arguments over the decline in purchasing power of an Indian blanket or a mirror.

The costs of feathers was stable and he never said: "When I was a boy this headpiece could be had for a fifth of what it costs today."

All the Indian needed for happiness was a pony, bow and arrow, moccasins and a strong squaw who could do all the work with the kids on her back. The Indian ponies didn't come in new models every year, with the head and hooves listed as extras.

He kept no books, filled out no blank forms and, no matter how the fight at the pass came out, there were no peace terms requiring him to listen to airwave commercials.

He got up when he pleased, went fishing and hunting according to his moods and just said to the wife, "Get busy and finish plowing that field. You're slowing up."

His dwelling was a tepee or tent and the modern white man is working back to similar accomodations in housing. They are not much roomier and they leak more than Indian tents ever did.

MOLOTOV HAS BEEN switched from Outer Mongolia to Vienna by Moscow. Is this a pardon for good behavior or a late claim that he beat all the Olympics' high and distance jumpers?

Sen. Kennedy's slogan is "On to the new frontiers!" But too many Americans think they are frontier-men if they are struggling along with a one-car garage and last year's TV set.

"We are in the midst of a period of which the least to be said is that it is agitated"—Charles de Gaulle. The understatement of the century.

Remember away back when no dance ended in a riot-call?

One of New York's famous library lions is now pure white while the other is a dark gray. It is not a step toward two-tone library lions. The "uptown lion" has been repaired and sandblasted. He looks more supercilious than ever. The "downtown lion" has a little happier look unwashed.

Census bureau still has trouble over wrong counts on some cities. Well, a lot of people are not sure where they are these days, which makes it even.

The French national anthem is the "Marseillaise". It was composed in 1792 by Rouget de l'Isle.

Are We Falling Down Some Place?

Meany Won't Be Present At U.N.

By Victor Riesel

Thousands of greeting placards are stored along Manhattan's waterfront waiting Chairman Khrushchev's arrival. These messages will be waved aloft and are guaranteed to ruffle the premier's hackles, for they are written in such longshore-man-ese as "K you're a bum. . . . K go Home. . . . K Is a Murderer. . . . K Go Home."

Victor Riesel

I'm told there will be 10,000 dockwallopers on the river front to show the visiting chief of state the sentiment of the most rough hewn American proletariat.

Furthermore, the U.N. or the Soviet Embassy will need to have its own luggage haulers. International Longshoremen's Assn. general organizer, Teddy Gleason, says, "We won't go near that Baltika. We won't touch their stuff. They'll have to dock the ship and unload it themselves."

Other labor leaders are expecting Mr. K to leapfrog around New York in a helicopter.

However, amid the turbulence swirling around the United Nations, it seems to me a significant domestic political story has been overlooked. There is a face missing from the U.S. delegation to the U.N. It is the face of George Meany, the face of America's union leadership.

FOR THE FIRST TIME since 1957, President Eisenhower failed to name a labor leader to the delegation. Most of the intervening years saw AFL-CIO President Meany serving along side Henry Cabot Lodge.

One year Mr. Eisenhower even named the cool and debonair George Harrison, leader of the Railway Clerks Union and head of the labor section of the Democratic party.

This time the White House took Sherman Adams' advice years after it was given. Mr. Eisenhower dropped labor from the delegation for several reasons — not the least of which is the fact that the unions were automatically turning on his administration regardless of what it did.

It is a fact, for example, that many labor men have been appointed through the years to diplomatic posts and foreign missions such as the group which accompanied Dwight Eisenhower to South America some months back.

Before Sherman Adams left the White House he attempted to switch this policy. He opposed the appointment of George Meany or any labor leader to the U.N. or any other important post.

Adams argued that such appointments not only built the prestige of men who would, each four years, fight to destroy the prestige of Mr. Eisenhower and his successors in the GOP but also would build the reputation of men whose philosophies broke sharply with the Republicans.

But always it was the influence of Labor Secretary Jim Mitchell which won representation for the labor leaders in foreign affairs. Always it was Jim Mitchell's influence which worked lines into presidential speeches praising labor's work abroad. Always this was backed by Richard Nixon.

SUDDENLY the policy shifted. To this observer it appears that neither Mr. Nixon nor Mr. Eisenhower now is willing to continue to build his political enemies in the strongest section of the Democratic campaign machinery.

What makes this as significant as a new pitcher's warm up in the bull pen is that it tips off Richard Nixon's policies on labor should he become president of the United States.

He will give up all hope of ever successfully wooing union leaders. He will be neutral. So will his secretary of labor. His current adviser, Jim Mitchell, will become secretary of defense if he stays in the government.

What has nettled Mr. Nixon is not labor's opposition. He expected that. He is startled and surprised by the bitterness of the attack upon himself, such as Meany's blast at the Machinists convention.

There the labor chief said Mr. Nixon had been "100 per cent wrong on labor." In view of Mr. Nixon's help to the Steelworkers, for example, the vice president's associates say the labor men are unfair.

The little known "incident" backstage at the U.N. is the first sign of what's to come.

Khrushchev, The Noisy Man

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

As the man said to the storekeeper back in the Capone days: "You got a nice business going, without no trouble, and if you don't want none from now in you better start paying off."

Back in November 1958, when Premier Nikita Khrushchev began to develop a yen for a summit meeting, he started making threats to shut West Berlin off from the West.

The Western statesmen didn't know whether this was just a noisy man talking or a man meaning what he said.

He kept on talking for months, getting meaner about it, until the West began to realize he could make an awful mess if he did shut off Berlin. Then a summit meeting began to look not so bad.

Khrushchev even got something extra—an invitation to come over here last September for a visit with President Eisenhower and a trip around. But even with everything going nice he blew up a storm.

This was when he wasn't allowed to visit Disneyland because of the danger in crowds, the delay, and things like that. Khrushchev sulked out loud.

But something is always getting Khrushchev's goat. Just before the summit meeting the American U2 spy plane flew over Russia without being asked. Khrushchev got so mad he called off the summit.

Still, he sounded pretty nice about Berlin. He said he'd wait until a new American president took over in 1961 before considering a summit meeting again and meanwhile he was willing to let West Berlin stay quiet.

He let it stay quiet until he got another yen. This time he decided to come over for the opening of the United Nations General Assembly next Tuesday. Almost at that very moment, he began putting the heat on West Berlin again.

The Communists began blockading the city, a little bit here, a little there, stepping up the pressure.

Then the United States nixed Khrushchev again. It said when he got to New York he couldn't leave Manhattan Island.

Khrushchev was already on the ship bringing him here, but he got out the word he didn't like it, and his government filed a formal protest. It cramps Khrushchev's style not to move around, and he wanted more room to roam.

The State Department, backed up by the White House, said nothing doing. It's going to be Manhattan Island and no farther for Khrushchev.

In no time at all the Soviet Union warned the West against what it called the misuse of the air corridors to Berlin.

If a blockade is in Khrushchev's mind, or if he is doing all this now as a threat only, what will he want or demand when he gets to this country next week?

He's no patsy. If he wants to make trouble, and if this country doesn't want trouble, it's going to have to do business with him.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The school enrollment in Hancock County for the new term totaled 7,000, an increase of 600 over 1929.

About 450 members of the freshman class of the high school were initiated by the 850 members of the three upper classes at Patterson Field.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Members of the B'nai Jacob congregation burned the mortgage on the synagogue at E. 3rd St. and Crook Alley.

Sixty-six foreign-born residents of Columbiana County were inducted into citzenship at Lisbon.

Silver anniversary of the Zoar Association, a worldwide guild movement in the Baptist Churches, was observed at the First Baptist Church here by 65 parishioners.

TEN YEARS AGO — After listening to a lengthy argument from opposing groups of businessmen and householders, City Council enacted a parking ban on W. 8th St. between Dresden Ave. and Starkey Ln.

A severe shortage of rental housing existed in East Liverpool, despite a mild postwar building boom.

Harry L. Pelley, son of Paul Pelley, 759 Sophia St., began his duties as superintendent of the Sullivan Centralized School in Ashland County.

Public Notice

It is basic to the American way of doing things to require most public business to be done in the open.

Some things such as crime detection and certain aspects of national security require degrees of secrecy. But in the main the principle of "openness" is a good and long established practice.

One means of insuring that the public is kept informed is to provide for open hearings.

This is so that members of the public may attend such hearings if they wish. In any event, such hearings on public matters are often open to the press and the radio-TV so that the public can be kept informed of developments through these media.

The policy of open hearings on matters that concern the public is closely related in principle to the equally important one of public notice.

Such notices affect the community at large, various corporate or other interests and, especially, individuals. These notices are a means of safeguarding various rights and to be put on notice is one way of protecting those rights.

The bona fide newspaper of general circulation is a long established medium for such notices as provided by law or by official designation.

This is only one of the many public services provided by the newspaper. In principle, the publication of such notices is also an important part of the American way.

Deepening Mystery

By David Lawrence

Russian Design Seen In Defectors' Statements

The mystery as to what the two traitors, Mitchell and Martin, were really up to before they went to the Soviet Union appears to be getting deeper.

David Lawrence

Some of the things they did can only be attributed to unbalanced minds but the insidious hand of the Soviet government, acting through agents in this country and Mexico, appears throughout.

It was a smart move for the American government to suppress for a brief interval the text of the note which the defectors left at a Maryland bank. It played havoc with the plan of the Soviets, who thought they would have two separate barrages of propaganda for which the United States would set the world stage.

As it turns out, there was an opportunity for the free countries to compare on the same day the statements issued before and after the defectors reached the Soviet Union.

ONE PORTION of the statement issued in Moscow by the two traitors indicates their own confusion as follows:

"In February 1959 we obtained an appointment with a congressman who had publicly expressed concern over the State Department's concealing from Congress pertinent facts about the C130 incident . . .

"We explained to him the nature of the C130 intelligence mission and indicated that we felt such violations of the airspace of other nations were dangerous to world peace.

"Our conversation was interrupted when the congressman received a telephone call from the assistant secretary of state for congressional relations, William Macomber, who requested him to refrain from further public discussion of the C130 incident."

Now, it is interesting to note that Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, who is chairman of one of the subcommittees of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and a former president of the NATO Parliamentary Organization, says that two men once called on him and showed credentials which he thought were from the Central Intelligence Agency but which might have been from the National Security Agency.

They seemed to think more information about the C130 flight should be made public.

Mr. Hays adds that he talked the matter over with the chairman of the Armed Services Committee and the chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and that they explored all the possibilities but nobody suspected at the time that the two NSA men might be disloyal.

Speaking of the two visitors, whose faces he says he does not recognize from the pictures transmitted from Moscow last week, Mr. Hays declared to this correspondent:

"They made the point to me that in a democracy they thought the executive department ought to keep the Congress informed of things they were doing which might later result in war.

"As I look back over it now, they seemed to want us to hold a public hearing of some kind. I think they were hunting publicity. Mr. Macomber never telephoned me as they claim."

MR. MACOMBER confirmed that he never telephoned Mr. Hays in connection with the episode.

Mr. Hays recalls that he and other members of Congress obtained from the State Department at the time all the information they sought about the C130 incident, which satisfied them, and they thought no more about it.

In fact they didn't even notify any of the executive agencies about the visit of the two men.

The statements of Martin and Mitchell illustrate the effect of Soviet pressure on the minds of persons they have blackmailed and persistently intimidated to the point where they accept "guidance" and write whatever documents are desired.

There is, for example, the pointed comment of the two defectors on the atheism issue — which doesn't seem to have the slightest connection with their home backgrounds.

They statement they left behind in America said:

"One cannot argue convincingly that the Soviets are evil because they have corrupted Christian virtue. If most Soviet citizens do not accept Jesus Christ as their personal savior, it is their business."

The Soviet propagandists were not content to rest the case there. They contrived to have Mitchell and Martin repeat the idea in their statement issued at Moscow as follows:

"In the state of Maryland where we lived, in order to hold any post whatsoever with the state government, it is necessary to take an oath to the effect that one believes in God."

THE SAME STATEMENT, moreover, covers other objectives of Soviet propaganda.

It attacks congressional committees that investigate un-American activities and internal security matters.

The State Department likewise is assailed for seeking passage of new laws governing the issuance of passports.

The Moscow government doesn't realize that this attitude on its part will help to preserve such committee investigations and to secure the passage of new laws on passports.

Also, to espouse the cause of atheism before the American people is about the worst mistake any Soviet propagandist could make.

Oopsy-Daisy Time

By Truman Twill

Lively interest always can be stirred up by discussions of education in this bootstrap-lifting republic. Americans are the original eager beavers when the subject is learning.

But they never ask the kids what they think about it. They're afraid they might find out something that would go contrary to their own thoughts — their own misconceptions.

Yes, misconceptions. Parents know no more about the educational experiences of their own children than a pig knows about Thanksgiving. They think of school as it was when they were making like pupils, which may have been when pupils still dipped water out of a wooden bucket with a gourd and carried wood for a "base-burner."

They have no more idea than a rabbit what is being taught in schools now, and in many cases if they knew they'd be shocked. When they went to school, the fellow who taught physics was still droning that what went up had to come down and muttering that the smallest particle of matter was the atom, which could not, of course, be split.

James Fenimore Cooper was still regarded as a contributor to American belles lettres. White men still were bearing their "burden" east of Suez, and what pupils learned in fuddy-duddy civics books bore no resemblance to anything even then in use in any government on earth.

Children were sewed up in heavy underwear from freezing to thawing each winter. Congo rhymed with bongo, no one had run a four-minute mile, and no one had heard of William Faulkner or the figures that would fill in the blank places on the chart of the elements that hung on the wall in the chemistry room.

That is the trouble with parents, relative to education. They say it's a great thing, because that's what they are supposed to say. But they resent the way education keeps rolling along and he way each generation must discover the world on its own terms. It's like the co-ed who wrote to her parents a generation ago that she weighed 110 pounds undressed for gym and they wired back in alarm, "Who's Gym?"

It takes a lot of parental moxie to push a birdling out of the nest when it's time for the big push that sends the poor thing fluttering away to college, where hungry cats will be waiting and all kinds of doubtful birds are going to be encountered.

Some of the experiences will not be good. Feathers will be ruffled. Beaks will get bent. Some of the early worms will turn out to be plastic, with strings attached. There will be stubbed toes, many a distressed fluttering in crosswinds and indigestible substances that will stick in craws.

It is grim prospect. No parent worth his mortgages can face it without feeling ill inside. No maw and paw can help but be aware of the possibility their birdling might fall in with starlings or old crows.

Only one thing makes the prospect endurable, and September is the time to remember it. Sooner or later, every birdling must fly under its own power. This is one thing no one else can do for it.

The surest way is to push it out of the nest. If it can't make its wings go by this time, something's wrong with it and a cat will get it anyway. So, oopsy-daisy, out you go! The birdlings love it. Ask them.

The first "mirror" existed for ancient man in the still waters of ponds and streams. Later, the Egyptians, Greeks, and Romans used highly polished metals as mirrors. Glass mirrors, with lead or tin backings for reflectors, were manufactured in Venice about 600 years or so ago. The Venetians were also the first to mix mercury with tin, which produced greater reflection.

This is where the most nearly irreparable damage is done in a major hurricane. This is where restoration of roads and facilities is most expensive.

Elsewhere in Florida, the perennial optimists who built it from a sandy waste into a paradise for refugees from the North are hopeful of rising above the setback administered by hurricane Donna—most destructive in Florida history. There is no reason to believe they can't make the world forget what happened and even go beyond that. They can make the world forget that it could happen again. There is no ceiling on the capabilities of men and women who want to believe what it is good to believe.

But in the Caribbean it was known long ago that there is a ceiling on the possibility of making permanent improvements in hurricane paths. In places like Puerto Rico, where hurricane damage is a way of life, improvements are for the time between the last and the next big wind.

This makes it difficult for visitors to understand housing standards, for example. It is not easy to understand attitudes of fatalism among the natives, either. But in the part of Florida where some of the more irreparable items of damage that is estimated to total as much as a billion dollars are being viewed askance, it should be easier to understand than it was before why highways running to Key West aren't worth what it costs to rebuild them. Railroads were given up years ago.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Cherokee Indians of Carolinas have a framed plaque reading: "Before the white man came there were no taxes and women did all the work."

The "Injun" has something there. He was sometimes savage, but not so savage as many white men as they wade through tax forms. He had no housing problems, no slums and no landlord troubles.

There was no Indian word for "inflation." A few clamshells or beads didn't fluctuate much. No tepee heard loud arguments over the decline in purchasing power of an Indian blanket or a mirror.

The costs of feathers was stable and he never said: "When I was a boy this headpiece could be had for a fifth of what it costs today."

All the Indian needed for happiness was a pony, bow and arrow, moccasins and a strong squaw who could do all the work with the kids on her back. The Indian ponies didn't come in new models every year, with the head and hooves listed as extras.

He kept no books, filled out no blank forms and, no matter how the fight at the pass came out, there were no peace terms requiring him to listen to airwave commercials.

He got up when he pleased, went fishing and hunting according to his moods and just said to the wife, "Get busy and finish plowing that field. You're slowing up."

His dwelling was a tepee or tent and the modern white man is working back to similar accomodations in housing. They are not much roomier and they leak more than Indian tents ever did.

MOLOTOV HAS BEEN switched from Outer Mongolia to Vienna by Moscow. Is this a pardon for good behavior or a late claim that he beat all the Olympics' high and distance jumpers?

Sen. Kennedy's slogan is "On to the new frontiers!" But too many Americans think they are frontier-men if they are struggling along with a one-car garage and last year's TV set.

"We are in the midst of a period of which the least to be said is that it is agitated"—Charles de Gaulle. The understatement of the century.

One of New York's famous library lions is now pure white while the other is a dark gray. It is not a step toward two-tone library lions. The "uptown lion" has been repaired and sandblasted. He looks more supercilious than ever. The "downtown lion" has a little happier look unwashed.

Census bureau still has trouble over wrong counts on some cities. Well, a lot of people are not sure where they are these days, which makes it even.

Are We Falling Down Some Place?

Meany Won't Be Present At U.N.

By Victor Riesel

Thousands of greeting placards are stored along Manhattan's waterfront waiting Chairman Khrushchev's arrival. These messages will be waved aloft and are guaranteed to ruffle the premier's hackles, for they are written in such longshore-man as "K you're a bum. . . . K go Home. . . . K Is a Murderer. . . . K Go Home."

Victor Riesel

I'm told there will be 10,000 dockwallopers on the river front to show the visiting chief of state the sentiment of the most rough hewn American proletariat.

Furthermore, the U.N. or the Soviet Embassy will need to have its own luggage haulers. International Longshoremen's Assn. general organizer, Teddy Gleason, says, "We won't go near that Baltika. We won't touch their stuff. They'll have to dock the ship and unload it themselves."

Other labor leaders are expecting Mr. K to leapfrog around New York in a helicopter.

However, amid the turbulence swirling around the United Nations, it seems to me a significant domestic political story has been overlooked. There is a face missing from the U.S. delegation to the U.N. It is the face of George Meany, the face of America's union leadership.

FOR THE FIRST TIME since 1957, President Eisenhower failed to name a labor leader to the delegation. Most of the intervening years saw AFL-CIO President Meany serving along side Henry Cabot Lodge.

One year Mr. Eisenhower even named the cool and debonair George Harrison, leader of the Railway Clerks Union and head of the labor section of the Democratic party.

This time the White House took Sherman Adams' advice years after it was given. Mr. Eisenhower dropped labor from the delegation for several reasons — not the least of which is the fact that the unions were automatically turning on his administration regardless of what it did.

It is a fact, for example, that many labor men have been appointed through the years to diplomatic posts and foreign missions such as the group which accompanied Dwight Eisenhower to South America some months back.

Before Sherman Adams left the White House he attempted to switch this policy. He opposed the appointment of George Meany or any labor leader to the U.N. or any other important post.

Adams argued that such appointments not only built the prestige of men who would, each four years, fight to destroy the prestige of Mr. Eisenhower and his successors in the GOP but also would build the reputation of men whose philosophies broke sharply with the Republicans.

But always it was the influence of Labor Secretary Jim Mitchell which won representation for the labor leaders in foreign affairs. Always it was Jim Mitchell's influence which worked lines into presidential speeches praising labor's work abroad. Always this was backed by Richard Nixon.

SUDDENLY the policy shifted. To this observer it appears that neither Mr. Nixon nor Mr. Eisenhower now is willing to continue to build his political enemies in the strongest section of the Democratic campaign machinery.

What makes this as significant as a new pitcher's warm up in the bull pen is that it tips off Richard Nixon's policies on labor should he become president of the United States.

He will give up all hope of ever successfully wooing union leaders. He will be neutral. So will his secretary of labor. His current adviser, Jim Mitchell, will become secretary of defense if he stays in the government.

What has nettled Mr. Nixon is not labor's opposition. He expected that. He is startled and surprised by the bitterness of the attack upon himself, such as Meany's blast at the Machinists convention.

There the labor chief said Mr. Nixon had been "100 per cent wrong on labor." In view of Mr. Nixon's help to the Steelworkers, for example, the vice president's associates say the labor men are unfair.

The little known "incident" backstage at the U.N. is the first sign of what's to come.

Khrushchev, The Noisy Man

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

As the man said to the storekeeper back in the Capone days: "You got a nice business going, without no trouble, and if you don't want none from now in you better start paying off."

Back in November 1958, when Premier Nikita Khrushchev began to develop a yen for a summit meeting, he started making threats to shut West Berlin off from the West.

The Western statesmen didn't know whether this was just a noisy man talking or a man meaning what he said.

He kept on talking for months, getting meaner about it, until the West began to realize he could make an awful mess if he did shut off Berlin. Then a summit meeting began to look not so bad.

Khrushchev even got something extra—an invitation to come over here last September for a visit with President Eisenhower and a trip around. But even with everything going nice he blew up a storm.

This was when he wasn't allowed to visit Disneyland because of the danger in crowds, the delay, and things like that. Khrushchev sulked out loud.

But something is always getting Khrushchev's goat. Just before the summit meeting the American U2 spy plane flew over Russia without being asked. Khrushchev got so mad he called off the summit.

Still, he sounded pretty nice about Berlin. He said he'd wait until a new American president took over in 1961 before considering a summit meeting again and meanwhile he was willing to let West Berlin stay quiet.

He let it stay quiet until he got another yen. This time he decided to come over for the opening of the United Nations General Assembly next Tuesday. Almost at that very moment, he began putting the heat on West Berlin again.

The Communists began blockading the city, a little bit here, a little there, stepping up the pressure.

Then the United States nixed Khrushchev again. It said when he got to New York he couldn't leave Manhattan Island.

Khrushchev was already on the ship bringing him here, but he got out the word he didn't like it, and his government filed a formal protest. It cramps Khrushchev's style not to move around, and he wanted more room to roam.

The State Department, backed up by the White House, said nothing doing. It's going to be Manhattan Island and no farther for Khrushchev.

In no time at all the Soviet Union warned the West against what it called the misuse of the air corridors to Berlin.

If a blockade is in Khrushchev's mind, or if he is doing all this now as a threat only, what will he want or demand when he gets to this country next week?

He's no patsy. If he wants to make trouble, and if this country doesn't want trouble, it's going to have to do business with him.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The school enrollment in Hancock County for the new term totaled 7,000, an increase of 600 over 1929.

About 450 members of the freshman class of the high school were initiated by the 850 members of the three upper classes at Patterson Field.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Members of the B'naf Jacob congregation burned the mortgage on the synagogue at E. 3rd St. and Crook Alley.

Sixty-six foreign-born residents of Columbiana County were inducted into citizenship at Lisbon.

Silver anniversary of the Zoar Association, a worldwide guild movement in the Baptist Churches, was observed at the First Baptist Church here by 65 parishioners.

TEN YEARS AGO — After listening to a lengthy argument from opposing groups of businessmen and householders, City Council enacted a parking ban on W. 8th St. between Dresden Ave. and Starkey Ln.

A severe shortage of rental housing existed in East Liverpool, despite a mild postwar building boom.

Harry L. Pelley, son of Paul Pelley, 759 Sophia St., began his duties as superintendent of the Sullivan Centralized School in Ashland County.

Public Notice

It is basic to the American way of doing things to require most public business to be done in the open.

Some things such as crime detection and certain aspects of national security require degrees of secrecy. But in the main the principle of "openness" is a good and long established practice.

One means of insuring that the public is kept informed is to provide for open hearings.

This is so that members of the public may attend such hearings if they wish. In any event, such hearings on public matters are often open to the press and the radio-TV so that the public can be kept informed of developments through these media.

The policy of open hearings on matters that concern the public is closely related in principle to the equally important one of public notice.

Such notices affect the community at large, various corporate or other interests and, especially, individuals. These notices are a means of safeguarding various rights and to be put on notice is one way of protecting those rights.

The bona fide newspaper of general circulation is a long established medium for such notices as provided by law or by official designation.

This is only one of the many public services provided by the newspaper. In principle, the publication of such notices is also an important part of the American way.

Deepening Mystery

By David Lawrence

Russian Design Seen In Defectors' Statements

The mystery as to what the two traitors, Mitchell and Martin, were really up to before they went to the Soviet Union appears to be getting deeper.

David Lawrence

Some of the things they did can only be attributed to unbalanced minds but the insidious hand of the Soviet government, acting through agents in this country and Mexico, appears throughout.

It was a smart move for the American government to suppress for a brief interval the text of the note which the defectors left at a Maryland bank. It played havoc with the plan of the Soviets, who thought they would have two separate barrages of propaganda for which the United States would get the world stage.

As it turns out, there was an opportunity for the free countries to compare on the same day the statements issued before and after the defectors reached the Soviet Union.

ONE PORTION of the statement issued in Moscow by the two traitors indicates their own confusion as follows:

"In February 1959 we obtained an appointment with a congressman who had publicly expressed concern over the State Department's concealing from Congress pertinent facts about the C130 incident . . .

"We explained to him the nature of the C130 intelligence mission and indicated that we felt such violations of the airspace of other nations were dangerous to world peace.

"Our conversation was interrupted when the congressman received a telephone call from the assistant secretary of state for congressional relations, William Macomber, who requested him to refrain from further public discussion of the C130 incident."

Now, it is interesting to note that Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, who is chairman of one of the subcommittees of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and a former president of the NATO Parliamentary Organization, says that two men once called on him and showed credentials which he thought were from the Central Intelligence Agency but which might have been from the National Security Agency.

They seemed to think more information about the C130 flight should be made public.

Mr. Hays adds that he talked the matter over with the chairman of the Armed Services Committee and the chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and that they explored all the possibilities but nobody suspected at the time that the two NSA men might be disloyal.

Speaking of the two visitors, whose faces he says he does not recognize from the pictures transmitted from Moscow last week, Mr. Hays declared to this correspondent:

"They made the point to me that in a democracy they thought the executive department ought to keep the Congress informed of things they were doing which might later result in war.

"As I look back over it now, they seemed to want us to hold a public hearing of some kind. I think they were hunting publicity. Mr. Macomber never telephoned me as they claim."

MR. MACOMBER confirmed that he never telephoned Mr. Hays in connection with the episode.

Mr. Hays recalls that he and other members of Congress obtained from the State Department at the time all the information they sought about the C130 incident, which satisfied them, and they thought no more about it.

In fact they didn't even notify any of the executive agencies about the visit of the two men.

The statements of Martin and Mitchell illustrate the effect of Soviet pressure on the minds of persons they have blackmailed and persistently intimidated to the point where they accept "guidance" and write whatever documents are desired.

There is, for example, the pointed comment of the two defectors on the atheism issue — which doesn't seem to have the slightest connection with their home backgrounds.

They statement they left behind in America said:

"One cannot argue convincingly that the Soviets are evil because they have corrupted Christian virtue. If most Soviet citizens do not accept Jesus Christ as their personal savior, it is their business."

The Soviet propagandists were not content to rest the case there. They contrived to have Mitchell and Martin repeat the idea in their statement issued at Moscow as follows:

"In the state of Maryland where we lived, in order to hold any post whatsoever with the state government, it is necessary to take an oath to the effect that one believes in God."

THE SAME STATEMENT, moreover, covers other objectives of Soviet propaganda.

It attacks congressional committees that investigate un-American activities and internal security matters.

The State Department likewise is assailed for seeking passage of new laws governing the issuance of passports.

The Moscow government doesn't realize that this attitude on its part will help to preserve such committee investigations and to secure the passage of new laws on passports.

Also, to espouse the cause of atheism before the American people is about the worst mistake any Soviet propagandist could make.

Oopsy-Daisy Time

By Truman Twill

Lively interest always can be stirred up by discussions of education in this bootstrap-lifting republic. Americans are the original eager beavers when the subject is learning.

But they never ask the kids what they think about it. They're afraid they might find out something that would go contrary to their own thoughts — their own misconceptions.

Yes, misconceptions. Parents know no more about the educational experiences of their own children than a pig knows about Thanksgiving. They think of school as it was when they were making like pupils, which may have been when pupils still dipped water out of a wooden bucket with a gourd and carried wood for a "base-burner."

They have no more idea than a rabbit what is being taught in schools now, and in many cases if they knew they'd be shocked. When they went to school, the fellow who taught physics was still droning that what went up had to come down and muttering that the smallest particle of matter was the atom, which could not, of course, be split.

James Fenimore Cooper was still regarded as a contributor to American belles lettres. White men still were bearing their "burden" east of Suez, and what pupils learned in fuddy-duddy civics books bore no resemblance to anything even then in use in any government on earth.

Children were sewed up in heavy underwear from freezing to thawing each winter. Congo rhymed with bongo, no one had run a four-minute mile, and no one had heard of William Faulkner or the figures that would fill in the blank places on the chart of the elements that hung on the wall in the chemistry room.

That is the trouble with parents, relative to education. They say it's a great thing, because that's what they are supposed to say. But they resent the way education keeps rolling along and he way each generation must discover the world on its own terms. It's like the co-ed who wrote to her parents a generation ago that she weighed 110 pounds undressed for gym and they wired back in alarm, "Who's Gym?"

It takes a lot of parental moxie to push a birdling out of the nest when it's time for the big push that sends the poor thing fluttering away to college, where hungry cats will be waiting and all kinds of doubtful birds are going to be encountered.

Some of the experiences will not be good. Feathers will be ruffled. Beaks will get bent. Some of the early worms will turn out to be plastic, with strings attached. There will be stubbed toes, many a distressed fluttering in crosswinds and indigestible substances that will stick in craws.

It is grim prospect. No parent worth his mortgages can face it without feeling ill inside. No maw and paw can help but be aware of the possibility their birdling might fall in with starlings or old crows.

Only one thing makes the prospect endurable, and September is the time to remember it. Sooner or later, every birdling must fly under its own power. This is one thing no one else can do for it.

The surest way is to push it out of the nest. If it can't make its wings go by this time, something's wrong with it and a cat will get it anyway. So, oopsy-daisy, out you go! The birdlings love it. Ask them.

The first "mirror" existed for ancient man in the still waters of ponds and streams. Later, the Egyptians, Greeks, and Romans used highly polished metals as mirrors. Glass mirrors, with lead or tin backings for reflectors, were manufactured in Venice about 600 years or so ago. The Venetians were also the first to mix mercury with tin, which produced greater reflection.

Shirley Anne Bailey Weds Resident Of New Waterford

Wearing a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle, Miss Shirley Anne Bailey, daughter of Mrs. Wilma Bailey of Leetonia and the late Victor Bailey, became the bride of William J. Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Baker of New Waterford, Saturday morning at 11 o'clock in St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Leetonia.

Fr. Warren F. Braun, pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar enhanced with vases of white gladioli and white carnations.

Joseph Hornick presented nuptial music at the organ and Thomas McKenna of Lisbon sang "Ave Maria" and "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother."

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Thomas Kiliany. Her floor-length gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice, featuring a scalloped Sabrina neckline and long, pointed sleeves.

The bouffant skirt had a back panel of lace and tulle ruffles over an underskirt of nylon net ruffles. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held in place with a queen's crown of sequins and seed pearls. She carried a 73-year-old prayer book belonging to her grandmother. It was topped with a white orchid, stephanotis, carnations and trailing sweet heart ivy. She observed all the familiar traditions.

Miss Judy O'Neill of Lisbon, served as maid of honor and wore a ballerina gown of peacock blue silk organza with matching petal leaf headpiece.

Miss Joyce Baker of New Waterford, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Ronald Bower of Coshocton were bridesmaids and junior bridesmaids were Misses Mary Ann Eskay of Leetonia and Barbara Kuna of Pittsburgh, cousins of the bride.

They were identically attired in gowns of shrimp organza with matching headpieces similar to that of the maid of honor and carried cascade bouquets of white carnations and ivy.

Cindy Kiliany of Leetonia and Lois Ann Davner of Lisbon, cousins of the bride, were flower girls dressed in white and they carried baskets of colorful fall flowers.

Robert Bailey of Leetonia, brother of the bride, was best man and ushers were Dave and Keith Baker of New Waterford, brothers of the bridegroom, Ronald Bower of Coshocton, friend of the bridegroom, and Bill Davner of Youngstown, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Bailey chose a gold sheath dress and black accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a pink sheath dress with white accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

St. George Parish Hall in Lisbon was the scene of a 1 o'clock dinner for members of the immediate families and a reception for some 300 followed in the evening.

The bride's table was laid in white and centered with a four-tier wedding cake decorated with pastel pink roses and with white swans holding each layer. Double crystal holders held white tapers at either side and a floral arrangement of white carnations and ivy completed the setting.

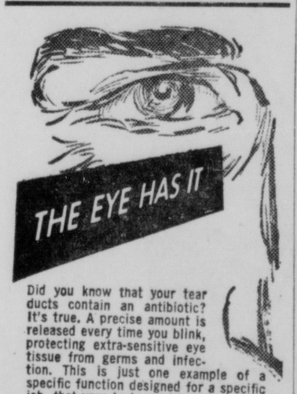

Mrs. John Eskay of Leetonia, godmother of the bride, cut the cake and Misses Marie Welling and Judy Davner of Lisbon, cousins of the bride, served. Miss Marian Glenn received the gifts and Miss Alice Baker, sister of the bridegroom, registered guests from Salem, Leetonia, Lisbon, Youngstown, New Waterford, Salineville, Kensington, Pittsburgh, Michigan, Maryland and Virginia.

The bride is a graduate of Lisbon High School and is employed at Hamilton's Drugstore in Lisbon. Her husband is a Fairfield High School graduate and is employed at Orshburn's IGA store in Kensington as a meat cutter.

For her honeymoon to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a blue sheath dress with blue accessories and her white orchid.

The couple will reside with the bride's mother in Leetonia.

A party following rehearsal Friday night was held at Valley Golf Club in Columbiana for the wedding participants with a buffet lunch. It was given by the bridegroom's mother.

Teacher Speaks, Shows Slides At Fellowship Event

Miss Hazel McShane, a teacher at Westgate School, was guest speaker for the quarterly meeting of the Christian Women's Fellowship Monday night in the social rooms of the First Church of Christ.

She screened slides of her recent trip to South America and gave a commentary on the various countries she visited.

Miss Betsy Eunson, director of Christian education, led the youth fellowship group in a choral reading, "And No One Asked." The Scripture reference was Gal. 3: 27-29. The group repeated the CWF prayer and sang "We've a Story to Tell to the Nations."

Mrs. Juanita Clendenning, president, conducted business. Reports were given by Mrs. Cecil Bennett, secretary, and Mrs. Nellie Osborn, treasurer. The new budget was approved.

Mrs. Ruth Pearson, literature chairman, announced that the missionary books for the current season will be placed in the church library along with the subscription to World Call.

The benediction was read from the program booklet.

Refreshments were served 45 by Circle 1. An arrangement of plum-color zinnias, flanked by yellow tapers, highlighted the buffet table.

The next meeting is Oct. 3 at the church.

Charles Dahms and Carl Paxton of Salem were registered as engineers in training.

Certificates will be awarded to new registrants at a meeting at Canton Nov. 10.

Campanella And Wife Patch Up Difficulties

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP)—Roy Campanella and his wife have settled their marital difficulties—for their children's sake.

Campanella, partially paralyzed from an auto accident 2½ years ago, announced last month he was seeking a separation from his wife, Ruthe, after 13 years of marriage.

In announcing the reconciliation Tuesday, Campanella, former Brooklyn Dodger catcher, said: "We both think it's best for the children. With prayer and faith I believe we can pick up the ties that once held us so closely together."

Man Receives Hand Burns

A city man, burned by ignited gas in his furnace at home, was among nine adults and youngsters treated at City Hospital Tuesday.

Karl Samples, 28, of 1827 Allison St. suffered first and second degree burns of the right hand when the gas flared out from the furnace. He was treated at 11:50 p. m.

George Tivis, 50, of 1799 Arthur Ave., Wellsville, suffered a laceration of the right thumb while cutting corn.

George Keller, 26, of 930 St. Clair Ave., employe of the Homer Laughlin China Co., received cuts and injuries of the left wrist when caught between a ware buggy and metal post at work.

In a fall, Thomas Jones, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Jones of New Cumberland R. D., received a cut of the forehead and abrasions of the nose.

William Persohn, 34, of Campground Rd. suffered a laceration of the right foot on a chain saw.

Mrs. Clarence Yovich of Beaver R. D. 2 was treated for a cut finger suffered on a glass jar while canning.

Kenneth Rosak, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rosak of Georgetown R. D. 1, received a possible fracture of the right hand while playing football.

While at play, Randy Davis, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar, Davis, 824 Pennsylvania Ave., received a cut over the right eyebrow.

Paul Hart, 44, of Chester R. D. 1 suffered a cut of the scalp on a tractor crank while trying to crank the vehicle at home.

Appeals Court Takes 4 Actions For Study

LISBON — The 7th District Court of Appeals met in an abbreviated session Tuesday and heard four cases which were taken under advisement. The three judges began their session at 12:30 p. m. and continued until after 4.

The case of Ira W. Cunningham, involved in the Burbick Hardware burglary, was continued after Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville told the court he had not received Prosecutor G. William Brokaw's briefs, which Brokaw sent out Sept. 8 by registered mail. The case was continued for arguments at Youngstown or Warren at the call of the court, after fall cases are heard.

Other cases heard were Lois Partridge vs. James A. Pidgeon Jr.; Kenneth Watson vs. Buckeye Coal Mining Co.; Glenna Daniels vs. Warren J. Dickey and state of Ohio vs. James Harold Maras.

Club Elevates Teacher

Charles Wilfing Heads Kiwanis At Wellsville

Charles Wilfing, 208 7th St., a teacher at Wellsville High School, was elevated to president of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club during election of officers Tuesday night at Piatt's Tea Room.

Wilfing, who had served the past year as second vice president, succeeds Richard Brown.

Other officers named were Richard Grills, first vice president; Cedric Stanway, second vice president, and Thomas Piatt, re-elected treasurer.

Named to the Board of Directors were the Rev. Robert Andrews of the First Christian Church, Thomas Grafton, the Rev. William Hewitt of the Central Methodist Church, Richard Jones, Carlton Nicolaus, Myron Weis and George T. Wilson.

Jones, Grafton and Weis were re-elected. Installation will be held in December.

The new officers will assume their duties Jan. 1.

It was announced Atty. William Bush will attend the state convention Sunday at Cincinnati.

Ralph Hatch, general manager of the Hanna Coal Co. at Cadiz, was guest speaker. He gave a layman's talk on religion with the theme, "Preparing for Eternity."

Twenty-six were present. Ken Woods, head football coach of Wellsville High School, will be the speaker at the meeting next Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. at Piatt's.

"Ladies Night" will be held Sept. 27, also at Piatt's. Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Fisher of East Liverpool will screen slides on the Holy Land.

Wilfing has taught social studies in Wellsville schools for eight years. He is sponsor of the high school Annual, Key Club and Senior Class. A veteran of World War II, he served in Europe with the 44th Infantry Division.

He received his bachelor of arts degree from Mt. Union College and his master's degree from Ohio State University and has attended the University of Pittsburgh. He is president of the Wellsville City Teachers Association.

CHARLES WILFING
He Succeeds Richard Brown.

Wilfing has been a member of the club for five years and is division chairman of the vocational guidance committee. He helped found the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce and is a director of the Wellsville Red Cross Chapter, having served as co-chairman of the 1958-59 fund drive.

He also is an instructor and chief air raid warden in the Wellsville Civil Defense. Wilfing is married and has a daughter, Janice.

Leetonia Girl Presides At 4-H Club Congress

LISBON — Miss Pat Converse of Leetonia R. D. 1, presided as mistress of ceremonies at the opening session of the Ohio 4-H Club Congress at Columbus over the weekend, according to Joseph Burger, county extension agent in 4-H work.

Don Watson of Salineville R. D. 1 and Miss Converse are counselors and both are students at Ohio State University.

Miss Audrey Harrold of Leetonia accompanied the Columbiana County members as chaperon, Burger said.

Hearing Fixed In Check Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a preliminary hearing Tuesday, Oct. 4, for Mario Pace of Akron, accused of issuing a fraudulent check for $1,792 to the Central Service Co. of W. 7th St. on Dec. 12, 1957.

The affidavit signed by Basil Mangano, president of the auto agency, alleges the check was issued "purposely with intent to defraud" because Pace wrote the check "knowing that he had insufficient funds" to his credit to cover the total.

The check was drawn on the Bridgeville National Bank in McDonald, Washington County, Pa., the affidavit alleges. The charge was filed Aug. 10.

As in all cases where the law permits a charge to be treated either as a felony or a misdemeanor, the local court will hear the evidence to determine if there is cause to hold the defendant for the Grand Jury, judge Chertoff said.

Atty. Ben H. Berman appeared for the defendant and Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark represented the state.

More than half the patients who occupy hospital beds in the U. S. are suffering from a mental disorder of some kind, surveys show.

IN STATE GROUP. James E. Elliott, assistant treasurer of the Hancock County Federal Savings & Loan Association of Chester, was appointed to the Board of Directors of the West Virginia Savings & Loan League at its three-day convention that ended Saturday at the Greenbrier Hotel in White Sulphur Springs. He also is office manager of the Chester firm.

The first jockey to account for a triple crown was Johnny Loftus, who rode Sir Barton to victory in the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes of 1919.

Grandview PTA Picks Committees

Nine committees were named by Mrs. Charles Wagner, president, at a meeting of the Grandview Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday night at the school near Chester.

Appointed were: Hospitality — Mrs. Alvin Hillyard; program — Mrs. Lawrence Cullifer, C. B. Smith and Mrs. Robert Bryan; ways and means — Mrs. Russell Smith, Mrs. Vern Whittington and Mrs. Herbert Gallop.

Membership—Mrs. Robert Mayes and Mrs. Dennis Adkins; publications — Mrs. William Hillyard; playground — Mrs. Charles Wright and Mrs. Donald Brown; safety—Walter Sayre; juvenile protection —Earl Cheuvront, and publicity—Mrs. Victor Reed.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner were named delegates to the State PTA convention Oct. 6-7 at Martinsburg. The attendance prize was won by the third and fourth grades taught by Smith, principal.

The next meeting will be Oct. 4.

Child Health Council Plans Outlined For Chester Club

Objectives of the "Help the Child Health Council" being organized in Newell were outlined by Atty. Ruth Cox Turner at a meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at the City Hall.

Mrs. Turner said the purpose of the council is to furnish medical and dental assistance for needy children in emergency cases in Grant District. It is sponsored by the Newell Women's Club.

The council comprises one member from each of the contributing organizations in the district. The council is asking a contribution of $20 from each.

Mrs. Charlotte Logston of Newell, county health nurse who will supervise and determine the needy cases, believes a budget of $300 to $400 will be required annually, Mrs. Turner said.

Meetings will be held quarterly and no salaries will be paid any officials, she added. Names of youngsters requiring help will not be devulged publicly, according to Mrs. Turner, who said the organization is similar to one operated at Weirton.

Dr. Howard Matthew, Chester dentist and Kiwanian, said the cause is worthwhile and is greatly needed.

The Board of Directors of the Kiwanis Club voted to contribute $25 to the council, and William W. Harper was named club representative to the council.

The board also authorized a contribution of $10 to the East Liverpool Child Counseling Center.

Appointed to a nominating committee for election at the meeting Oct. 4 were R. M. McFarland, Eugene Seeley, Thomas Ridge, Eugene Boyce and Dean Bryan.

Further plans were discussed for the annual pancake supper Nov. 2-3.

Alvin Arner, president, was in charge.

Tom McCall, line coach, spoke on the football team.

Williams led in prayer.

Refreshments were served 25 by Mrs. Charles Smith.

The next meeting will be Oct. 11. Roy Cashdollar will serve refreshments.

ASC Office Gets New Set Of Aerial Maps

LISBON — A new set of aerial photographs of Columbiana County have been received at the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office, according to Earl Lora, manager.

The 160 photos cover the entire county, with each print representing an area 3 miles square.

Their principal use in the county office is for the determination of field or farm acreages.

They may also be used to advantage by cities or groups planning industrial or housing developments, Lora said.

The photos may be inspected at the ASC office in the Farmers National Bank Building and forms will be furnished to any one wishing to purchase one or more of the prints.

Woman At Salineville Honored At Reunion

Mrs. Margaret McNichol of Jefferson St., Salineville, was honor guest at a family reunion Sunday at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Atty. and Mrs. Webster Moore, of Alliance, marking her birthday anniversary. A cake with candles centered the table decorated with fall flowers.

Mrs. Thomas Burnip, Mrs. Karl Lindner and Mrs. Alice Roberts left Monday for a vacation in New York City.

Mrs. Mary McPherson and daughter, Becky, of Wellsville R. D. 1, visited here Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Knezea of McDonald spent Sunday with her father, Richard Russell, of Jefferson St.

Kaycees' Annual Picnic Will Be Held Sunday

Discussion of plans for the annual picnic Sunday at Thompson Park and a report on the current statewide Youth Fund drive featured the meeting of Carroll Council 509, Knights of Columbus, Tuesday night in the K. of C. Hall.

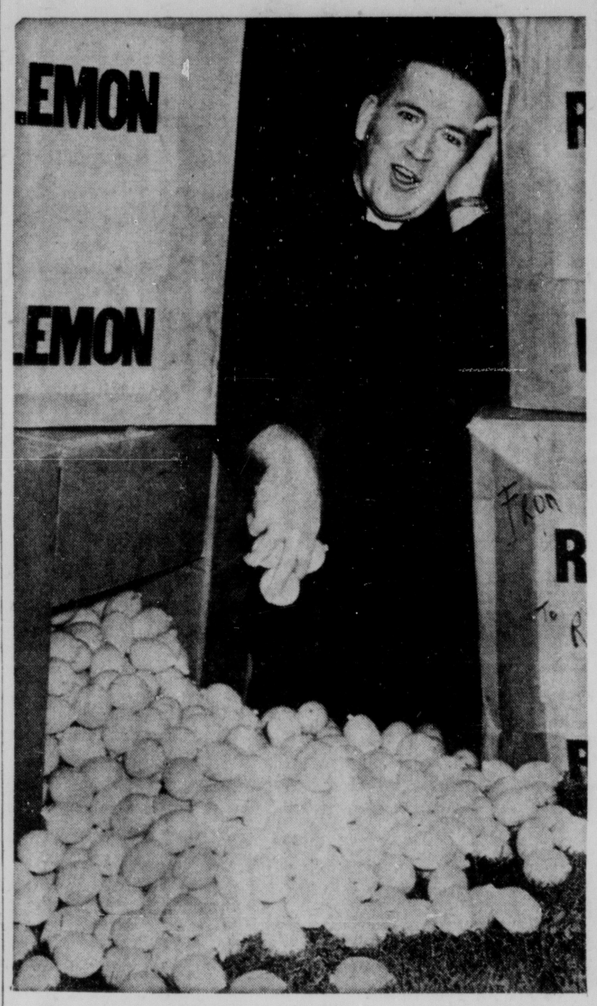

The picnic will be held for parishioners of St. Aloysius and St. Ann Churches.

The committee includes James Buchheit, Kevin O'Brien, James McGowan, Charles McBride, Ralph Yanni and Robert Hissam.

Harold McNicol, chairman of the drive, gave a preliminary report.

Bazaar Given Boost

Plastic Lemons Galore

What do you do with 4,000 plastic lemons?

That's the problem of Fr. Robert Garland, pastor of the Presentation Catholic Church in Midland, shown here after he received the big surprise Monday from a Chicago manufacturer.

Sometime ago, Fr. Garland asked his parishioners to donate the household gadgets to be used in making a lemon tree for the harvest bazaar scheduled Sept. 27-29 by the church.

The request appeared in a news item and someone clipped it and sent it to Jack Paar, apparently hoping he would forward a few "lemons" to be used on the tree. But never in their wildest dreams did they realize the consequences.

The Realemon Co. of Chicago was notified and loaded a big tractor-trailer with 4,000 of the artificial lemons. Representatives of the manufacturer in Pittsburgh accompanied the truck to Midland and made the presentation to Fr. Garland, who is surrounded by crates of the lemons.

"When I saw the truck, I had a horrible vision. The truck was as big as the rectory," Fr. Garland commented.

The bazaar will be held on Ohio Ave. in front of the church, rectory and convent. Proceeds will go to the building fund.

Honor Society Elects At Wells High School

Officers were elected at the initial meeting of the term of the Nu Theta Chapter of the National Honor Society at Wells High School in Newell Tuesday.

Joe May was named president; Harry Hutton, vice president; Denise Bowen, secretary; Susan Logston, treasurer; Priscilla Camerlin, reporter, and William Moffitt, representative to the Student Council.

Moffitt, retiring president, presided for the afternoon meeting.

Democrats Lead In Voter Signup

Midland area Democrats outnumbered Republicans 2-to-1 during the Beaver County voter field registration held Monday at the Midland Borough Building.

Registering were 228 Democrats, 106 Republicans and 8 for other parties. There was no immediate breakdown on figures for Midland. There were 103 changes of address recorded.

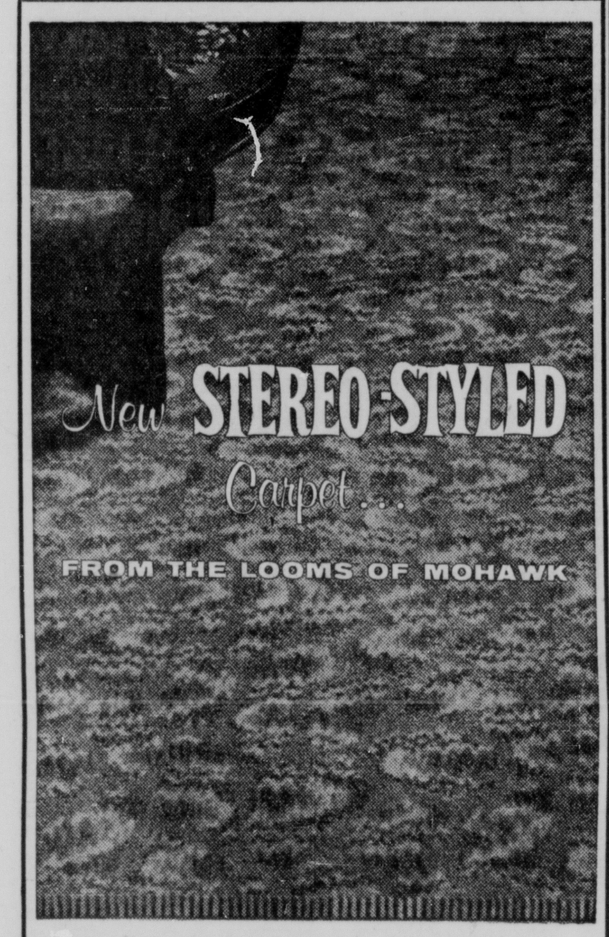

The area includes Midland, Industry and Glasgow Boroughs and Ohio Township.

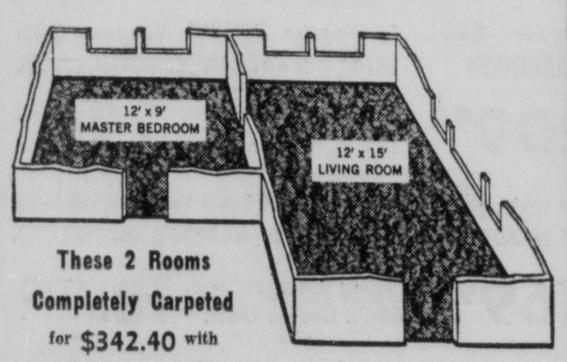

According to a Democratic spokesman, some 78 Midland Democrats and 22 Midland Republicans had registered by 4 p. m., giving the Democrats almost a 3-to-1 lead. Most Republicans registering were from outside the borough, he said.

The total registered in Beaver County yesterday included 397 Democrats and 193 Republicans.

Deaths and Funerals

Brief Illness Claims Potter

Donald Heitger, 53, of rear 689 Lincoln Ave., died this morning at 9:25 at City Hospital after a brief illness.

He lived here virtually his lifetime and was employed last as a liner in the decorating shop of the Sterling China Co. in Wellsville. He retired in February 1959. He was a native of Rochester.

He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Jean Ann Seevers of Chester and Mrs. Helen Petrosky of Midland; a son, Robert Heitger, stationed with the Marines at Oceanside, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Edna Harmon of East Liverpool, and Mrs. Alma Keller of Steubenville, and five grandchildren.

The Dawson Funeral Home is arranging services.

Negley Man Involved In Courts Kills Self

Services will be held Thursday for Edison Snyder, Negley area structural steel worker involved in court cases in Beaver and Columbiana Counties, who took his own life Tuesday.

Mr. Snyder, 59, was found with .22-caliber rifle wound in his head yesterday morning about 9:15 in his trailer home by a neighbor, according to Dr. R. C. Costello, deputy coroner, who ruled it was self-inflicted.

Mr. Snyder was slated to appear yesterday in Court at Beaver on a charge of subornation of perjury in connection with a previous trial on a traffic charge.

He was also slated to appear as complaining witness before the Grand Jury at Lisbon against two women—one from Rogers and the other from East Palestine—charged in the theft of money.

Mr. Snyder, who resided in a house trailer by himself about a mile west of Negley along Route 154, had been depressed, and was unemployed.

He was born in Ohio Dec. 31, 1900, a son of Benjamin and Delila Burdine Snyder. He had worked as a structural steel worker in the Beaver Valley area for a number of years.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Robert Boles of Beaver, Mrs. Paul Smith, Mrs. Ralph Graham and Miss Veronica Snyder, all of Venice, Calif.; two sons, Edison Snyder of Venice and Pfc. Dale Snyder at Ft. Lewis, Wash., two sisters, Mrs. Henry Cook and Mrs. Agnes Thomas, and seven grandchildren.

Services will be held Thursday afternoon at 1:30 at the VanDyke Funeral Home at East Palestine by the Rev. Robert Schoff of the East Palestine Church of the Nazarene.

Burial will be in Sylvania Hills Memorial Park at New Brighton.

Friends may call tonight at the funeral home.

Mrs. Margaret Heiney

Mrs. Margaret Mercer Heiney, 419 14th St. Wellsville, widow of Ivan R. Heiney, died this morning at City Hospital, where she had been a patient since Thursday. She was 74.

The MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville is arranging services.

County Grand Jury Reported On Schedule

LISBON—The Columbiana County Grand Jury is right on schedule, according to Prosecutor G. William Brokaw.

Thursday's session calls for 23 witness in 9 cases which includes the second degree murder charge against Frank W. Fish, 56, of Salem R. D. 5.

The jury visited the County Jail after being sworn in Tuesday by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who will handle criminal trials this term.

SENATOR CLAIMED. Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.) died at his home in Washington, D. C., Tuesday following a lingering illness. Hennings had been ill since May 4 when he underwent abdominal surgery at Mayo Brothers Clinic in Rochester, Minn. He was 57. (UPI Telephoto)

2 Southerners Held On Theft

Industry Borough police turned two North Carolina men over to Rochester police Tuesday night on a stolen car charge.

Willie R. Williams, 28, of Charlotte, N. C., was found guilty earlier Tuesday evening before Justice of the Peace George Baacke of Industry Borough on a charge of driving without a license.

With only 18 cents in his pocket and unable to pay a fine or costs, he would have been committed to the Beaver County jail except he is wanted on the stolen car charge.

Williams and a passenger, Raymond Veasey, 27, formerly of Beaver Falls, were taken to Rochester by John (Tex) Arnold, Industry police officer.

Arnold and Marko Ratkovich, also an Industry police officer, stopped the pair's car Monday at 2 p. m. on the Cooks Ferry Hill. Williams was suspected of having no driver's license and a check was made by State Police.

Arnold said that Veasey was released to go to Rochester to get papers to show ownership of the car but he did not return. Veasey went to Midland to pay charges on the impounded car and was picked up by Midland police.

Industry police did not learn until Monday 9 p. m. that the car was stolen. A 1951 sedan, it belongs to Willie Robinson of South Carolina, who is visiting relatives in Rochester.

The pair were scheduled for a hearing this afternoon.

er, Robert Mercer, Homer Fisher, Leonard Brown, Riley Jennings and Cora Jones, felonies, breaking and enterings in Weirton.

The Grand Jury panel included Julia I. Creamer, 314 Carolina Ave., John S. Jordan, 206 Carolina Ave., Clyde F. Chaney, 504 Harker Ave., and Verna B. Ferguson, 540 Indiana Ave., Chester, and Charles W. Bennett, Washington St. Newell.

John E. Mitchell of Sedgwick St., John P. McSwegin of 3rd Ave., and Joseph M. Burskey of Filmore St., New Cumberland.

Charles F. Baier, George C. Wilson, Joseph Koper, Okey Drummond, Selden Stone, John F. Puskarich and Casper DeJaro and Ruskoski, all of Weirton.

A total of 42 have been summoned as petit jurors to hear civil and criminal cases in the September term of Circuit Court.

Criminal cases will be heard between Sept. 21 and Sept. 27, the sheriff's office said. Juvenile Court is scheduled Monday.

50 Units Seen For Parade

About 50 units are expected to participate in the Wellsville volunteer fire department's annual homecoming parade Saturday night at 7.

Jack Phillips, chairman, said about 30 units have returned cards confirming they will participate.

He said it is not known who will lead the parade. The Wellsville High School Band will be attending the football game in Freedom and is not available.

The parade will form on Broadway, preoceed to 3rd St. and then on to Main St. The parade then will go down Main to 15th St. and then to Commerce St. where it will disband. Thd judges haven't been selected, Phillips said.

He said 34 children from the Jefferson County Children's Home at Cadiz will be guests of the volunteers. They will be seated on the lawn of the First Christian Church.

Cold weather has held down the crowds at the carnival at Central Park, he said. A baby elephant and two chimpanzes are being featured. Phillips said he has received several calls, complimenting the Degeller Amusement Co. on having a very clean unit.

Music Group Plans Drive For Members

Plans for launching the annual fall membership campaign were discussed at the Executive Board meeting of the Civic Music Association Tuesday night in the office of Asst. Supt. Paul Blair at the high school.

Ernest Lowe, president, presided. Preparatory Week was set next week and the Campaign Week Oct. 10. The campaign will include residents of Midland, Chester, Newell, Wellsville, Irondale and Lisbon.

The kick-off meeting is scheduled Oct. 10 at the Memorial Auditorium. There will be a musical program and refreshments.

Mrs. William Malkin, secretary, reported on the response from the initial letters sent to some 700 former members. Membership lists were revised and the board will contact members for renewal so that the campaign time may be used for obtaining new memberships.

Board members attending were Mrs. Myer Alpern, Miss Louella Thompson, E. King Mathews, Blair and Leslie Blumentahl.

The group will meet at 8:30 p. m. Sept. 22 at Blair's home on Dairy Ln, when reports will be given on contacting of former members and division leaders will be named.

Civil War Roundtable Airs History, Causes Of Conflict

A panel discussion on the historical background and causes of the American Civil War was held at a meeting of the Civil War Roundtable Tuesday night at the Carnegie Public Library.

Mrs. Robert Lindsey of Chester reviewed the historical events leading to the conflict, John Markanton of Apples Corners discussed military resources of the North and South and Probate Judge Louis Tobin spoke on political aspects of the sectional differences.

A general discussion of economic, social and political aspects of the pre-war period followed. Glenn Waight of East Liverpool was moderator.

About 28 attended the meeting at which Judge Tobin, chairman, presided. Tentative plans for future programs were discussed.

A number of Civil War weapons, equipment, currency and relics were displayed, along with a number of books on the war and a film copy of the East Liverpool Mercury, a newspaper published during the conflict.

The recently organized group's constitution was approved on final reading and dues were set at $3 annually, starting in January, with a $1 fee to be collected for the remainder of the current year.

Progress of the membership drive was discussed by Joseph Robbins of East Liverpool, and plans were made for a promotion campaign to obtain additional members for the next meeting Oct. 12.

4th Degree Kaycees Expect 75 For Dinner

Seventy-five are expected to attend the annual Constitution dinner to be held tonight at 6:30 at the St. George Parish Hall in Lisbon by Cardinal Mercier Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus.

Atty. Joseph Bryan of Youngstown, grand knight of Fr. Gallagher Council, will be guest speaker. Stephen Vano of Youngstown, newly-appointed Eastern Ohio District master, will be the honored guest. He succeeds John E. Johnston of East Liverpool.

Atty. Lawrence W. Smith of East Liverpool will be toastmaster. John LaScola is the faithful navigator.

Midland Boy Struck And Injured By Auto

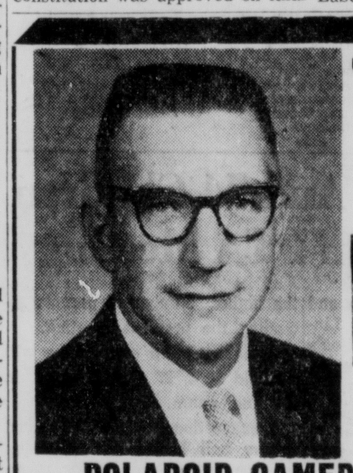

A 5-year-old Midland boy is in "fairly good" condition today at Rochester General Hospital after he was knocked to the pavement Tuesday afternoon by a slowly moving auto on Woodlane Ave. at 2nd St.

Willie James Glover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Pete Glover, 30 2nd St., suffered brush burns of the body and face when knocked down by the front bumper of an auto operated by Mrs. Rose Mort of 62-B, Midland Heights, according to Midland police.

The boy was treated by a physician then taken to Rochester General Hospital.

Mrs. Mort told police she was driving on Woodlane when the youth dashed suddenly in front of the car. Police said she was traveling slowly, and was able to halt before the wheels passed over the boy.

Patrick Henry was admitted to the legal bar after only six weeks of study.

Deaths and Funerals

Brief Illness Claims Potter

Donald Heitger, 53, of rear 689 Lincoln Ave., died this morning at 9:25 at City Hospital after a brief illness.

He lived here virtually his lifetime and was employed last as a liner in the decorating shop of the Sterling China Co. in Wellsville. He retired in February 1959. He was a native of Rochester.

He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Jean Ann Seevers of Chester and Mrs. Helen Petrosky of Midland; a son, Robert Heitger, stationed with the Marines at Oceanside, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Edna Harmon of East Liverpool, and Mrs. Alma Keller of Steubenville, and five grandchildren.

The Dawson Funeral Home is arranging services.

Negley Man Involved In Courts Kills Self

Services will be held Thursday for Edison Snyder, Negley area structural steel worker involved in court cases in Beaver and Columbiana Counties, who took his own life Tuesday.

Mr. Snyder, 59, was found with .22-caliber rifle wound in his head yesterday morning about 9:15 in his trailer home by a neighbor, according to Dr. R. C. Costello, deputy coroner, who ruled it was self-inflicted.

Mr. Snyder was slated to appear yesterday in Court at Beaver on a charge of subornation of perjury in connection with a previous trial on a traffic charge.

He was also slated to appear as complaining witness before the Grand Jury at Lisbon against two women—one from Rogers and the other from East Palestine—charged in the theft of money.

Mr. Snyder, who resided in a house trailer by himself about a mile west of Negley along Route 154, had been depressed, and was unemployed.

He was born in Ohio Dec. 31, 1900, a son of Benjamin and Delila Burdine Snyder. He had worked as a structural steel worker in the Beaver Valley area for a number of years.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Robert Boles of Beaver, Mrs. Paul Smith, Mrs. Ralph Graham and Miss Veronica Snyder, all of Venice, Calif.; two sons, Edison Snyder of Venice and Pfc. Dale Snyder at Ft. Lewis, Wash., two sisters, Mrs. Henry Cook and Mrs. Agnes Thomas, and seven grandchildren.

Services will be held Thursday afternoon at 1:30 at the VanDyke Funeral Home at East Palestine by the Rev. Robert Schoff of the East Palestine Church of the Nazarene.

Burial will be in Sylvania Hills Memorial Park at New Brighton.

Friends may call tonight at the funeral home.

Mrs. Margaret Heiney

Mrs. Margaret Mercer Heiney, 419 14th St. Wellsville, widow of Ivan R. Heiney, died this morning at City Hospital, where she had been a patient since Thursday. She was 74.

The MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville is arranging services.

County Grand Jury Reported On Schedule

LISBON—The Columbiana County Grand Jury is right on schedule, according to Prosecutor G. William Brokaw.

Thursday's session calls for 23 witness in 9 cases which includes the second degree murder charge against Frank W. Fish, 56, of Salem R. D. 5.

The jury visited the County Jail after being sworn in Tuesday by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who will handle criminal trials this term.

SENATOR CLAIMED. Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.) died at his home in Washington, D. C., Tuesday following a lingering illness. Hennings had been ill since May 4 when he underwent abdominal surgery at Mayo Brothers Clinic in Rochester, Minn. He was 57. (UPI Telephoto)

2 Southerners Held On Theft

Industry Borough police turned two North Carolina men over to Rochester police Tuesday night on a stolen car charge.

Willie R. Williams, 28, of Charlotte, N. C., was found guilty earlier Tuesday evening before Justice of the Peace George Baacke of Industry Borough on a charge of driving without a license.

With only 18 cents in his pocket and unable to pay a fine or costs, he would have been committed to the Beaver County jail except he is wanted on the stolen car charge.

Williams and a passenger, Raymond Veasey, 27, formerly of Beaver Falls, were taken to Rochester by John (Tex) Arnold, Industry police officer.

Arnold and Marko Ratkovich, also an Industry police officer, stopped the pair's car Monday at 2 p. m. on the Cooks Ferry Hill. Williams was suspected of having no driver's license and a check was made by State Police.

Arnold said that Veasey was released to go to Rochester to get papers to show ownership of the car but he did not return. Veasey went to Midland to pay charges on the impounded car and was picked up by Midland police.

Industry police did not learn until Monday 9 p. m. that the car was stolen. A 1951 sedan, it belongs to Willie Robinson of South Carolina, who is visiting relatives in Rochester.

The pair were scheduled for a hearing this afternoon.

John E. Mitchell of Sedgwick St., John P. McSwegin of 3rd Ave., and Joseph M. Burskey of Filmore St., New Cumberland.

Charles F. Baier, George C. Wilson, Joseph Koper, Okey Drummond, Selden Stone, John P. Puskarich and Casper DeJaro and Ruskoski, all of Weirton.

A total of 42 have been summoned as petit jurors to hear civil and criminal cases in the September term of Circuit Court.

Criminal cases will be heard between Sept. 21 and Sept. 27, the sheriff's office said. Juvenile Court is scheduled Monday.

50 Units Seen For Parade

About 50 units are expected to participate in the Wellsville volunteer fire department's annual homecoming parade Saturday night at 7.

Jack Phillips, chairman, said about 30 units have returned cards confirming they will participate.

He said it is not known who will lead the parade. The Wellsville High School Band will be attending the football game in Freedom and is not available.

The parade will form on Broadway, preoceed to 3rd St. and then on to Main St. The parade then will go down Main to 15th St. and then to Commerce St. where it will disband. Thd judges haven't been selected, Phillips said.

He said 34 children from the Jefferson County Children's Home at Cadiz will be guests of the volunteers. They will be seated on the lawn of the First Christian Church.

Cold weather has held down the crowds at the carnival at Central Park, he said. A baby elephant and two chimpanzes are being featured. Phillips said he has received several calls, complimenting the Degeller Amusement Co. on having a very clean unit.

Music Group Plans Drive For Members

Plans for launching the annual fall membership campaign were discussed at the Executive Board meeting of the Civic Music Association Tuesday night in the office of Asst. Supt. Paul Blair at the high school.

Ernest Lowe, president, presided. Preparatory Week was set next week and the Campaign Week Oct. 10. The campaign will include residents of Midland, Chester, Newell, Wellsville, Irondale and Lisbon.

The kick-off meeting is scheduled Oct. 10 at the Memorial Auditorium. There will be a musical program and refreshments.

Mrs. William Malkin, secretary, reported on the response from the initial letters sent to some 700 former members. Membership lists were revised and the board will contact members for renewal so that the campaign time may be used for obtaining new memberships.

Board members attending were Mrs. Myer Alpern, Miss Louella Thompson, E. King Mathews, Blair and Leslie Blumentahl.

The group will meet at 8:30 p. m. Sept. 22 at Blair's home on Dairy Ln, when reports will be given on contacting of former members and division leaders will be named.

Civil War Roundtable Airs History, Causes Of Conflict

A panel discussion on the historical background and causes of the American Civil War was held at a meeting of the Civil War Roundtable Tuesday night at the Carnegie Public Library.

Mrs. Robert Lindsey of Chester reviewed the historical events leading to the conflict, John Markanton of Apples Corners discussed military resources of the North and South and Probate Judge Louis Tobin spoke on political aspects of the sectional differences.

A general discussion of economic, social and political aspects of the pre-war period followed. Glenn Waight of East Liverpool was moderator.

About 28 attended the meeting at which Judge Tobin, chairman, presided. Tentative plans for future programs were discussed.

A number of Civil War weapons, equipment, currency and relics were displayed, along with a number of books on the war and a film copy of the East Liverpool Mercury, a newspaper published during the conflict.

The recently organized group's constitution was approved on final reading and dues were set at $3 annually, starting in January, with a $1 fee to be collected for the remainder of the current year.

Progress of the membership drive was discussed by Joseph Robbins of East Liverpool, and plans were made for a promotion campaign to obtain additional members for the next meeting Oct. 12.

4th Degree Kaycees Expect 75 For Dinner

Seventy-five are expected to attend the annual Constitution dinner to be held tonight at 6:30 at the St. George Parish Hall in Lisbon by Cardinal Mercier Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus.

Atty. Joseph Bryan of Youngstown, grand knight of Fr. Gallagher Council, will be guest speaker. Stephen Vano of Youngstown, newly-appointed Eastern Ohio District master, will be the honored guest. He succeeds John E. Johnston of East Liverpool.

Atty. Lawrence W. Smith of East Liverpool will be toastmaster. John LaScola is the faithful navigator.

Midland Boy Struck And Injured By Auto

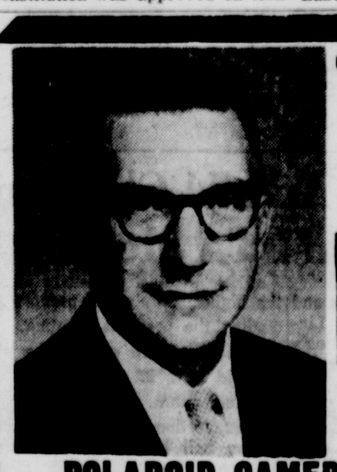

A 5-year-old Midland boy is in "fairly good" condition today at Rochester General Hospital after he was knocked to the pavement Tuesday afternoon by a slowly moving auto on Woodlane Ave. at 2nd St.

Willie James Glover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Pete Glover, 30 2nd St., suffered brush burns of the body and face when knocked down by the front bumper of an auto operated by Mrs. Rose Mort of 62-B, Midland Heights, according to Midland police.

The boy was treated by a physician then taken to Rochester General Hospital.

Mrs. Mort told police she was driving on Woodlane when the youth dashed suddenly in front of the car. Police said she was traveling slowly, and was able to halt before the wheels passed over the boy.

Patrick Henry was admitted to the legal bar after only six weeks of study.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Hitchcock Remains The Unpredictable

His love for the unpredictable notwithstanding, portly Alfred Hitchcock allows that there will be at least one predictable thing about his liberal ladlings of evil this TV season: Never, NEVER, will viewers see an automobile collision in his whodunits!

Marie Torre

Just as nobody ever had a headache in the Hitchcock series when Bristol-Myers was the sponsor (B-M defected recently after Hitchcock presumably cured all the headaches in the nation), no automobile can go to pot in his shows now that the Lincoln-Mercury Division of the Ford Motor Co. is paying his TV keep.

A DRAMATIC shackle, this sponsorial taboo, but, as Hitchcock says, what matter one little restriction when he can go on needling "the sponsor" to his heart's content!

"Since it became known that I would have a different sponsor," said Hitchcock, "people have been asking whether I will continue to be. . .er, sly toward the sponsor. I can only presume that's what the Lincoln-Mercury people bought. I hate to get personal with myself, but they didn't buy a pig in a poke!"

Under a new two-year contractual agreement with NBC, "Alfred Hitchcock Presents" will become a Tuesday night (8:30) feature—it used to be on CBS Sunday nights at 9:30. The move to an earlier time period, Hitchcock assures us, does not mean that his shows will be less chilling or less gruesome.

"OH, WE'RE NOT too gruesome," he insisted. "Take our first show of the season, 'Mrs. Bixby and the Colonel's Coat,' from Raold Dahl's 'Kiss, Kiss.'

"In this, Audrey Meadows plays the philandering wife of Les Tremayne, a dentist, who knows nothing of her affair with a colonel in Boston. As a parting gift, the colonel gives his light-o-love a magnificent mink coat.

"But how can she have it without her husband's knowing where it came from? Horns of the dilemma, in other words. Not a 'new' story, true, but then we rarely go in for originals. Too hard to find. As it is, we read 50 stories to get one."

Thus, no change in TV format. And no change, we might add, in Hitchcock's penchant for the offbeat. Even when it comes to promoting his show.

"Do you know what I wanted to do on the opening night of my series?" put in Hitchcock. "I wanted to buy advertising time on CBS at 8:29, one minute before the beginning of my show on NBC. I wanted to appear on screen at 8:29, and say to the viewers: 'No, no! Not here! The other network' "

-:-

BOB HOPE and NBC will remain together for another five years, by contractual agreement. The 1960-61 season marks the start of the 11th year in TV for Hope, who will star in from six to eight one-hour specials each year and will be available for one two-hour show each season. . . .

Dinah Shore's first "MMMmmmwah" of the season will be tossed Oct. 9, at which time she'll offer her own version of "Global Television," from Copenhagen to Hong Kong, anyway. . . .

NBC now competing with itself? Dramatizations of the same classic, Robert Louis Stevenson's "The Suicide Club," have been scheduled one month apart by two NBC programs. "The Mystery Show" will have it on Sept. 18, and "Hour of Great Mysteries" will present the Stevenson work on Oct. 18. . . .

Garry Moore's summer replacement, "Diagnosis Unknown," turned up in the Top Ten (Arbitron's), one more indication of viewer appetite for freshly minted fare in the re-run happy summertime! . . .

Color TV was voted the sixth most-wanted item in a list of 16 in a Pulse survey which asked 1,000 persons how they would spend an unexpected gift of $1,000. . . .

Steve Allen is the author of "The Unsponsored Mind," an article in Saturday Review, in which he says he's worried about not TV ratings, but mankind's rating.

Farmers Told No Signup Set For Soil Bank

LISBON — There will be no signup this fall of additional land or contracts under the soil bank conservation reserve, Ted E. Rupert, chairman of the Ohio Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today in response to inquiries from farmers regarding the status of the program.

Over 200 farmers in Columbiana County had made inquiries about this program.

Rupert also said that program contracts which expire in 1960 or later are no longer eligible to be extended for an additional period of years.

"Under the Soil Bank Act enacted in May 1956," Rupert explained, "the secretary of agriculture was authorized to enter into conservation reserve contracts with producers during the 5-year period 1956-60.

"The signup under the 1960 program was held last fall, so that farmers would know in advance of the cropping season whether their land would be accepted into the conservation reserve. Since the authorization to enter into new contracts has not been extended beyond 1960, there will be no signup period this fall.

Farmers should understand, however, that the existing contracts for 1960 and previous years will remain in effect and payments will continue to be made under them for the period of the contracts and in accordance with contract terms. The annual Department of Agriculture appropriation bills provide money with which to meet obligations already on the books," he said.

There are 8,959 conservation reserve contracts in effect this year in Ohio, involving a total of 524,785 acres. Contract periods range from 3 to 10 years, and annual rental payments for 1960 amount to approximately $9,044,186.

Nationally, there are more than 300,000 conservation reserve contracts in effect in 1960, covering a total of approximately 28.6 million acres in 48 states. The average rental payment is $11.85 per acre, and the rental payments for 1960 will amount to about $338 million.

Parking Ban Scheduled For House Moving

Parking will be banned after 10 tonight along the route on which a house will be moved from W. 3rd St. to Elysian Way, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet reminded motorists.

Paul L. Coppock & Sons, Inc., of New Waterford will move the one-story frame for Mr. and Mrs. James McCoy, who will place it on a new foundation adjacent to their present home. One of the houses removed from the path of the California Hollow-West End Freeway, it is the former property of Joseph Keuper, 337 W. 3rd St.

The house will be moved along 3rd St. to Market St. and north on Market St. through the Diamond. Then it will be moved upgrade on St. Clair Ave. to Park Blvd. and along Park Blvd. to Elysian Way. The work may be completed by noon tomorrow. It will be postponed if weather interferes.

Trucking Pioneer Dies

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Ted V. Rodgers, 72, founder of a trucking firm bearing his name and for 14 years president of the American Trucking Association, died Tuesday. In 1946 he was named chairman for life of the ATA's board of directors. He and his wife were honored by Pope Pius XII and Pope John XXIII.

150 Parents And 74 Children Attend Lisbon PTA Meeting

LISBON — Some 150 parents and 74 children attended the Lincoln Parent-Teacher Association's first meeting of the term Monday night in the school auditorium.

The children attended the Junior PTA with Mrs. Dave Edgerton in charge. They were entertained by the high school cheerleaders.

Mrs. Richard Kennedy, president, presided over the adult session. Devotions were led by the Rev. William Spengler. Mrs. Fred Steele, secretary, read the minutes and Mrs. Gerald Chapman, treasurer, gave the financial report.

Mrs. Kennedy made the report on previous executive committee meetings as follows:

The membership drive will begin in October and run concurrently with that of McKinley School; a book fair is scheduled the afternoon and evening of Nov. 14 at the Lincoln auditorium; Mrs. Kennedy will serve as trustees on the teachers' association scholarship loan fund and Monty Muntean will be representative to the Columbiana County PTA Council.

A traveling banner will be awarded each meeting to the class with the highest number of parents attending the previous meeting.

A teacher-room mother tea will be held Sept. 27 at 3:30 p. m. in the auditorium.

A suggestion box will be placed in the hall before each meeting to give an opportunity for members to express themselves.

Russell C. Armitage, new school superintendent, was introduced and spoke on some of the needs he foresaw since his arrival and also gave some of his background.

Principal David Borrow outlined school routines and parents were invited to adjourn to the rooms their children attend to meet the teacher, see the work and discuss room problems. They returned to the auditorium for coffee and the close of the meeting.

Suprise Party Given Cumberland Student

NEW CUMBERLAND — Earl Edwards, who began his sophomore year at West Liberty State College today, was honored with a surprise party Saturday night at the home of a sister, Mrs. Charles R. Matheny of Kings Creek Rd., near Weirton.

Activities included a ball game. A buffet supper was served by Mrs. Matheny, assisted by her sisters, Mrs. Robert Boag of Weirton, Mrs. Charles Briscoe of New Cumberland, her mother, Mrs. George Edwards of New Cumberland, and her sisters-in-law, Mrs. Curtis Edwards of Paris and Mrs. Margaret Boag of Weirton.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Edwards and daughter of Paris, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boag and son and Mrs. Margaret Boag of Weirton, Alex Boag of Cambridge, Mass., and Sanford Matheny of East Liverpool.

Carries Bid To Farm Belt

Nixon Asks Vote For GOP To Prevent Nuclear War

EN ROUTE WITH NIXON (AP) —Vice President Richard M. Nixon carried into the Midwest farm belt today his story that the best chance to avoid nuclear war is to vote the Republican ticket.

That, in essence, is the case he is trying to make to the voters across the country.

It stirred cheers Tuesday in Washington, Oregon and Idaho. He will tell it again today in Grand Forks, N.D., and in Peoria, Ill., as he does at every stop.

All the criticism by the Democrats, he told the cheering thousands that turned out to greet him, "can't obscure the fact that President Eisenhower got the United States out of one war, has kept us out of others, and that we have peace without surrender in America."

That, coupled with his assurances that he, the GOP presidential nominee, and Henry Cabot Lodge, his running mate, have the background and experience to carry on the Eisenhower policies, stirs every audience to roaring applause.

He has found it so effective that he almost abandoned a speech on public power Tuesday in the power-conscious Northwest. He skipped the speech at Vancouver, Wash., and barely mentioned power and reclamation at Portland. When he read most of it in Boise, Idaho it was lost in his main theme that with a strong, free and productive economy and military strength second to none, "We are going to keep America free."

A bit of excitement was stirred up when Nixon's chartered United Airlines DC6B landed at Boise with one of its four engines not operating.

But Nixon wasn't ruffled a bit when the left inboard engine lost power from a cracked cylinder shortly after leaving Portland and was feathered by pilot Perry Thomas.

Private Parking Lot Intruders Face Trouble

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Most private parking lot owners are satisfied to have intruders' cars towed away. But members of Sigma Chi and Alpha Delta Chi fraternities at the University of Michigan will inflict more severe punishment.

At the entrance to the parking lot they share, a large sign warns: "Unauthorized cars will be dismantled."

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Hitchcock Remains The Unpredictable

His love for the unpredictable notwithstanding, portly Alfred Hitchcock allows that there will be at least one predictable thing about his liberal ladlings of evil this TV season: Never, NEVER, will viewers see an automobile collision in his whodunits!

Marie Torre

Just as nobody ever had a headache in the Hitchcock series when Bristol-Myers was the sponsor (B-M defected recently after Hitchcock presumably cured all the headaches in the nation), no automobile can go to pot in his shows now that the Lincoln-Mercury Division of the Ford Motor Co. is paying his TV keep.

A DRAMATIC shackle, this sponsorial taboo, but, as Hitchcock says, what matter one little restriction when he can go on needling "the sponsor" to his heart's content!

"Since it became known that I would have a different sponsor," said Hitchcock, "people have been asking whether I will continue to be. . .er, sly toward the sponsor. I can only presume that's what the Lincoln-Mercury people bought. I hate to get personal with myself, but they didn't buy a pig in a poke!"

Under a new two-year contractual agreement with NBC, "Alred Hitchcock Presents" will become a Tuesday night (8:30) feature—it used to be on CBS Sunday nights at 9:30. The move to an earlier time period, Hitchcock assures us, does not mean that his shows will be less chilling or less gruesome.

"OH, WE'RE NOT too gruesome," he insisted. "Take our first show of the season, 'Mrs. Bixby and the Colonel's Coat,' from Raold Dahl's 'Kiss, Kiss.'

"In this, Audrey Meadows plays the philandering wife of Les Tremayne, a dentist, who knows nothing of her affair with a colonel in Boston. As a parting gift, the colonel gives his light-o-love a magnificent mink coat.

"But how can she have it without her husband's knowing where it came from? Horns of the dilemma, in other words. Not a 'new' story, true, but then we rarely go in for originals. Too hard to find. As it is, we read 50 stories to get one."

Thus, no change in TV format. And no change, we might add, in Hitchcock's penchant for the offbeat. Even when it comes to promoting his show.

"Do you know what I wanted to do on the opening night of my series?" put in Hitchcock. "I wanted to buy advertising time on CBS at 8:29, one minute before the beginning of my show on NBC. I wanted to appear on screen at 8:29, and say to the viewers: 'No, no! Not here! The other network' "

-:-

BOB HOPE and NBC will remain together for another five years, by contractual agreement. The 1960-61 season marks the start of the 11th year in TV for Hope, who will star in from six to eight one-hour specials each year and will be available for one two-hour show each season. . . .

Dinah Shore's first "MMMmmmwah" of the season will be tossed Oct. 9, at which time she'll offer her own version of "Global Television," from Copenhagen to Hong Kong, anyway. . . .

NBC now competing with itself? Dramatizations of the same classic, Robert Louis Stevenson's "The Suicide Club," have been scheduled one month apart by two NBC programs. "The Mystery Show" will have it on Sept. 18, and "Hour of Great Mysteries" will present the Stevenson work on Oct. 18. . . .

Garry Moore's summer replacement, "Diagnosis Unknown," turned up in the Top Ten (Arbitron's), one more indication of viewer appetite for freshly minted fare in the re-run happy summertime! . . .

Color TV was voted the sixth most-wanted item in a list of 16 in a Pulse survey which asked 1,000 persons how they would spend an unexpected gift of $1,000. . . .

Steve Allen is the author of "The Unsponsored Mind," an article in Saturday Review, in which he says he's worried about not TV ratings, but mankind's rating.

Farmers Told No Signup Set For Soil Bank

LISBON — There will be no signup this fall of additional land or contracts under the soil bank conservation reserve, Ted E. Rupert, chairman of the Ohio Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today in response to inquiries from farmers regarding the status of the program.

Over 200 farmers in Columbiana County had made inquiries about this program.

Rupert also said that program contracts which expire in 1960 or later are no longer eligible to be extended for an additional period of years.

"Under the Soil Bank Act enacted in May 1956," Rupert explained, "the secretary of agriculture was authorized to enter into conservation reserve contracts with producers during the 5-year period 1956-60.

"The signup under the 1960 program was held last fall, so that farmers would know in advance of the cropping season whether their land would be accepted into the conservation reserve. Since the authorization to enter into new contracts has not been extended beyond 1960, there will be no signup period this fall.

Farmers should understand, however, that the existing contracts for 1960 and previous years will remain in effect and payments will continue to be made under them for the period of the contracts and in accordance with contract terms. The annual Department of Agriculture appropriation bills provide money with which to meet obligations already on the books," he said.

There are 8,959 conservation reserve contracts in effect this year in Ohio, involving a total of 524,785 acres. Contract periods range from 3 to 10 years, and annual rental payments for 1960 amount to approximately $9,044,186.

Nationally, there are more than 300,000 conservation reserve contracts in effect in 1960, covering a total of approximately 28.6 million acres in 48 states. The average rental payment is $11.85 per acre, and the rental payments for 1960 will amount to about $338 million.

Parking Ban Scheduled For House Moving

Parking will be banned after 10 tonight along the route on which a house will be moved from W. 3rd St. to Elysian Way, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet reminded motorists.

Paul L. Coppock & Sons, Inc., of New Waterford will move the one-story frame for Mr. and Mrs. James McCoy, who will place it on a new foundation adjacent to their present home. One of the houses removed from the path of the California Hollow-West End Freeway, it is the former property of Joseph Keuper, 337 W. 3rd St.

The house will be moved along 3rd St. to Market St. and north on Market St. through the Diamond. Then it will be moved upgrade on St. Clair Ave. to Park Blvd. and along Park Blvd. to Elysian Way. The work may be completed by noon tomorrow. It will be postponed if weather interferes.

Trucking Pioneer Dies

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Ted V. Rodgers, 72, founder of a trucking firm bearing his name and for 14 years president of the American Trucking Association, died Tuesday. In 1946 he was named chairman for life of the ATA's board of directors. He and his wife were honored by Pope Pius XII and Pope John XXIII.

Adventure Of A Lifetime

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments on a Pavement Plato:

A million or so young Americans will start one of the grandest adventures of a lifetime this month—college.

A boy's first day in kindergarten and his first day in college are two great landmarks in his life. On one he leaves infancy behind forever, and on the second he begins to become a man.

The parent has a big role to play when his son is ready for college. But often he isn't college-educated himself, and isn't sure just what that role should be. He wants to help, but he isn't sure of either the possibilities or the pitfalls in college.

Here are a few scattered answers to a number of questions many of these parents are asking themselves:

Q. My son can't get into one of the famous Ivy League schools in the East. Will this ruin his future?

A. No, although attendance at these schools will be of great help if he plans to sell bonds or get on the U. S. Supreme Court.

Q. What about the big state universities?

A. Educationally, they are fine. But sometimes a boy of 17 can get lost in the crowd.

Q. Where would you prefer to send your own son?

A. To a good junior college or one of the hundreds of fine smaller colleges. Their quality of teaching is often better than in the larger universities, and their enrollment is small enough so that your son will get more individual attention. If he needs help, he is more likely to find it.

Q. My son doesn't yet know what he wants to be. What courses should be take?

A. Let him take basic courses in literature, history, economics, logic, biology, public speaking, American government, psychology—and at least one foreign language. These will give him a groundwork of wide knowledge that will benefit him all his life, and perhaps speed him to a choice of a career.

Q. What about letting my son work his way through college?

A. No, not even if you have to mortgage your home. The benefits of working one's way through college are highly over-rated. Few men who did this ever want their sons to, because they know what they missed. Going to college is a fulltime job in itself. Let your son work during his vacations.

'Spunky' Due Mental Tests

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Gordon (Spunky) Firman, 22, a one-man crime wave for a month, Tuesday was ordered to Lima State Hospital for mental examination.

Common Pleas Court Judge Fred B. Cramer issued the order after Ralph G. Marshall of Zanesville, an attorney, entered a plea of innocent to kidnaping by reason of insanity for Firman.

Firman, talkative and bragging at the time he was taken into custody after being wounded in the right hip, was silent.

The authorities took no chances with him, however, for he was handcuffed and closely guarded. Firman started his wave of violence after breaking jail at Coshocton in July.

A Butler County Grand Jury indicted him on four charges of kidnaping four Hamilton youths on Aug. 16 when he forced them to accompany him to Nelsonville while escaping from police.

Firman also faces a dozen other charges, including burglaries and automobile thefts.

Judge Cramer ordered Firman kept at the state hospital for no longer than one month. Sheriff Paul A. Pell and deputies are expected to take him to the institution Wednesday.

His mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Mason, who live near Warsaw, Ohio, attended the hearing yesterday. They had nothing to say to reporters.

To Visit Imprisoned Brother

Ex-Judge Makes Somber Trip To Communist China

A few weeks ago William C. Walsh, former attorney general of Maryland and former Judge of its Court of Appeals, set out on a somber mission—to visit his brother, a Catholic bishop, in a Communist Chinese prison. This is the first of three articles Judge Walsh has written for the Associated Press on his trip.

By WILLIAM C. WALSH

By The Associated Press

Last March, the Peoples Republic of China announced that my brother, Bishop James Edward Walsh, had been tried and convicted of espionage as a veteran American spy and sentenced to 20 years imprisonment.

My brother, who spent most of his life in missionary work in China, is 69. I had learned that relatives of four other Americans imprisoned in China had been permitted to see them, and so I likewise applied to Chinese authorities.

In July, I received a cable from the Chinese Red Cross, stating that I would be allowed to spend 14 days in China for the purpose of visiting my brother.

My wife and I arrived in Hong Kong July 28. That afternoon, as previously instructed, I got in touch with the China Travel Service. I turned over my passport to them, and three days later I was advised that the necessary visa had been received.

I was authorized to enter China Aug. 1. At 10:30 that morning the British Red Cross representative, Miss Robin Hurst, called for me at the hotel. I drove with Miss Hurst, Mr. Joseph Carniglia of the American Red Cross, and Father Michael J. McKiernan, head of the Maryknoll Fathers in Kong Kong, to the border at Shumchun.

Shortly afterwards I crossed the frontier to the Chinese mainland. My passport and visa were inspected, I went through customs with my baggage, and I filled out an entry form and currency declaration. After completion of the formalities and lunch at the station, I took the train for Canton.

On the train ride to Canton, I was accompanied by a Chinese Red Cross representative, a Mr. Wong. He is the official who receives the Red Cross packages sent in every month for American prisoners in China.

At Canton, we were met by another Chinese Red Cross representative, and the two men took me to the Hotel Aichun, where I received a good room, had dinner, and went to bed after calling Mrs. Walsh in Hong Kong to inform her of my arrival in Canton.

I got up at 5:30 next morning to catch a 7 a.m. plane for Shanghai. After 2½ hours of flight, it landed at Nanchang, and I was told we might be delayed because of a typhoon in the vicinity of Shanghai. Later in the day, the flight was canceled, and I was taken to a hotel in Nanchang along with two Chinese passengers.

The next morning, the hotel manager accompanied me to the airport, about 20 miles from the city. There was still uncertainity about the weather at Shanghai, and takeoff was delayed until noon. The hotel manager, a very nice chap, stayed with me until the plane left.

When we landed at Shanghai at 5:30 p.m., it was raining but the typhoon was over. No Chinese Red Cross or travel service representative had accompanied me on the flight, but at the airport I was met by Mr. Li of the Red Cross and Mr. Lo of the China International Travel Service.

Mr. Li, who could not speak English, was 30 years old. Mr. Lo was 23; he could speak broken English and acted as interpreter.

They took me in a car to the Peace Hotel (formerly the Cathay Hotel), one of the best-known in the city. It is a modern hotel, 10 or 11 stories high, located at the corner of Bund and Nanking Roads.

Here I was given a double room with twin beds and bath on the seventh floor. This room was to be my headquarters for my stay in Shanghai. The hotel dining room was on the eighth floor, and I usually walked up a flight of steps although there was elevator service.

My room cost me 12 yuan a day, or a little over $5 in U. S. money. I don't think my meals ran more than 8 yuan per day, so the total cost was from $8 to $10 a day.

My passport had been taken up by the Chinese Travel Service representative the evening I arrived, in order to register me at the hotel and to have the passport cleared at the Foreign Office. I got it back the afternoon that I left Shanghai eight days later. On the morning of Aug. 4, Mr. Li and Mr. Lo came to my room shortly after breakfast. With them was a Mr. Shen, a Chinese Red Cross interpreter. Later, I was received in another room of the hotel by Mr. Chang, chief of the Shanghai branch of the Chinese Red Cross. I was told the meeting was in the nature of a courtesy call.

During the morning, I suggested to Mr. Li and Mr. Lo that I might want to look around the streets of Shanghai, but they told me I was a stranger who might get lost, and so they didn't think I'd better.

In view of this, and because my passport had been taken up, I didn't go out without one or both of them accompanying me.

About 1:30 in the afternoon, Mr. Li and Mr. Shen called at my room and told me I could see my brother at 3:15. They came back for me about 2:45, and we took a car they had ready to the Shanghai jail.

Next: The brothers meet.

County Group To Hear State Director In PTA

LISBON — Mrs. Elmer James of Alliance, East District director of the Ohio Parent-Teacher Association, will be instructor for the PTA manual study course beginning tonight at 8 at the West Point School.

Approximately 65 officers and workers in PTA's in the county are expected to attend the sessions each Wednesday for the next three weeks.

Irondale Couple Will Observe 25th Date Of Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Chetock of the Irondale area will observe their 25th wedding anniversary with a family dinner Sunday.

Open house will be observed from 2 to 4 p. m. in their home in Cream City near Irondale.

They were married Sept. 30, 1935, in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church in Toronto by Msgr. Rev. A. R. Beros.

Both attend the Nativity of Our Lord Mission Church in Hammondsville. They have three sons, Julius, a student at the University of Cincinnati, Bill, a student at Kent State University, and Benny, a student of Stanton Local High School.

Mrs. Chetock is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Olesky of Irondale. He is a son of Julius Chetock and the late Sophia Chetock and is employed by the Irondale Works of the McLain Fire Brick Co. Refractories Division of the H. K. Porter Co.

Clarkson Class Plans Election On Saturday

Officers will be elected at a meeting of the Friendship Class of the Clarkson Presbyterian Church Saturday night at 8 at the church annex.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson will be host and hostess. The class will vote on whether to continue meetings because of the declining number of members. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davis will be program chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mead and daughter of Muskegon, Mich., are visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hole. They plan to leave soon for Fort Meyers, Fla., to spend the winter.

Louis Hole and sons have returned from a 6,000-mile tour of national parks in the West.

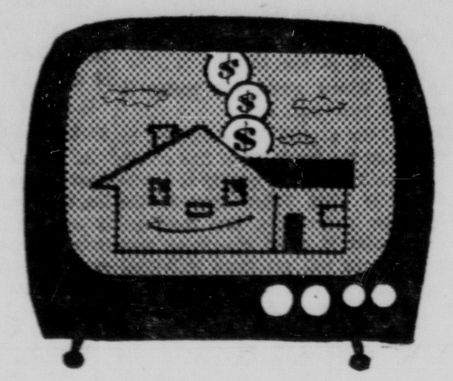

Grange To Meet

CLARKSON — The Clarkson Grange will meet Thursday night at the Grange Hall with Carl Daiger, master, in charge. Officers will be installed at the October meeting.

To Visit Imprisoned Brother

Ex-Judge Makes Somber Trip To Communist China

A few weeks ago William C. Walsh, former attorney general of Maryland and former Judge of its Court of Appeals, set out on a somber mission—to visit his brother, a Catholic bishop, in a Communist Chinese prison. This is the first of three articles Judge Walsh has written for the Associated Press on his trip.

By The Associated Press

Last March, the Peoples Republic of China announced that my brother, Bishop James Edward Walsh, had been tried and convicted of espionage as a veteran American spy and sentenced to 20 years imprisonment.

My brother, who spent most of his life in missionary work in China, is 69. I had learned that relatives of four other Americans imprisoned in China had been permitted to see them, and so I likewise applied to Chinese authorities.

In July, I received a cable from the Chinese Red Cross, stating that I would be allowed to spend 14 days in China for the purpose of visiting my brother.

My wife and I arrived in Hong Kong July 28. That afternoon, as previously instructed, I got in touch with the China Travel Service. I turned over my passport to them, and three days later I was advised that the necessary visa had been received.

I was authorized to enter China Aug. 1. At 10:30 that morning the British Red Cross representative, Miss Robin Hurst, called for me at the hotel. I drove with Miss Hurst, Mr. Joseph Carniglia of the American Red Cross, and Father Michael J. McKiernan, head of the Maryknoll Fathers in Kong Kong, to the border at Shumchun.

Shortly afterwards I crossed the frontier to the Chinese mainland. My passport and visa were inspected, I went through customs with my baggage, and I filled out an entry form and currency declaration. After completion of the formalities and lunch at the station, I took the train for Canton.

On the train ride to Canton, I was accompanied by a Chinese Red Cross representative, a Mr. Wong. He is the official who receives the Red Cross packages sent in every month for American prisoners in China.

At Canton, we were met by another Chinese Red Cross representative, and the two men took me to the Hotel Aichun, where I received a good room, had dinner, and went to bed after calling Mrs. Walsh in Hong Kong to inform her of my arrival in Canton.

I got up at 5:30 next morning to catch a 7 a.m. plane for Shanghai. After 2½ hours of flight, it landed at Nanchang, and I was told we might be delayed because of a typhoon in the vicinity of Shanghai. Later in the day, the flight was canceled, and I was taken to a hotel in Nanchang along with two Chinese passengers.

The next morning, the hotel manager accompanied me to the airport, about 20 miles from the city. There was still uncertainity about the weather at Shanghai, and takeoff was delayed until noon. The hotel manager, a very nice chap, stayed with me until the plane left.

When we landed at Shanghai at 5:30 p.m., it was raining but the typhoon was over. No Chinese Red Cross or travel service representative had accompanied me on the flight, but at the airport I was met by Mr. Li of the Red Cross and Mr. Lo of the China International Travel Service.

Mr. Li, who could not speak English, was 30 years old. Mr. Lo was 23; he could speak broken English and acted as interpreter.

They took me in a car to the Peace Hotel (formerly the Cathay Hotel), one of the best-known in the city. It is a modern hotel, 10 or 11 stories high, located at the corner of Bund and Nanking Roads.

Here I was given a double room with twin beds and bath on the seventh floor. This room was to be my headquarters for my stay in Shanghai. The hotel dining room was on the eighth floor, and I usually walked up a flight of steps although there was elevator service.

My room cost me 12 yuan a day, or a little over $5 in U. S. money. I don't think my meals ran more than 8 yuan per day, so the total cost was from $8 to $10 a day.

My passport had been taken up by the Chinese Travel Service representative the evening I arrived, in order to register me at the hotel and to have the passport cleared at the Foreign Office. I got it back the afternoon that I left Shanghai eight days later. On the morning of Aug. 4, Mr. Li and Mr. Lo came to my room shortly after breakfast. With them was a Mr. Shen, a Chinese Red Cross interpreter. Later, I was received in another room of the hotel by Mr. Chang, chief of the Shanghai branch of the Chinese Red Cross. I was told the meeting was in the nature of a courtesy call.

During the morning, I suggested to Mr. Li and Mr. Lo that I might want to look around the streets of Shanghai, but they told me I was a stranger who might get lost, and so they didn't think I'd better.

In view of this, and because my passport had been taken up, I didn't go out without one or both of them accompanying me.

About 1:30 in the afternoon, Mr. Li and Mr. Shen called at my room and told me I could see my brother at 3:15. They came back for me about 2:45, and we took a car they had ready to the Shanghai jail.

Next: The brothers meet.

County Group To Hear State Director In PTA

LISBON — Mrs. Elmer James of Alliance, East District director of the Ohio Parent-Teacher Association, will be instructor for the PTA manual study course beginning tonight at 8 at the West Point School.

Approximately 65 officers and workers in PTA's in the county are expected to attend the sessions each Wednesday for the next three weeks.

Irondale Couple Will Observe 25th Date Of Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Chetock of the Irondale area will observe their 25th wedding anniversary with a family dinner Sunday.

Open house will be observed from 2 to 4 p. m. in their home in Cream City near Irondale.

They were married Sept. 30, 1935, in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church in Toronto by Msgr. Rev. A. R. Beros.

Both attend the Nativity of Our Lord Mission Church in Hammondsville. They have three sons, Julius, a student at the University of Cincinnati, Bill, a student at Kent State University, and Benny, a student of Stanton Local High School.

Mrs. Chetock is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Olesky of Irondale. He is a son of Julius Chetock and the late Sophia Chetock and is employed by the Irondale Works of the McLain Fire Brick Co. Refractories Division of the H. K. Porter Co.

Clarkson Class Plans Election On Saturday

Officers will be elected at a meeting of the Friendship Class of the Clarkson Presbyterian Church Saturday night at 8 at the church annex.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson will be host and hostess. The class will vote on whether to continue meetings because of the declining number of members. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davis will be program chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mead and daughter of Muskegon, Mich., are visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hole. They plan to leave soon for Fort Meyers, Fla., to spend the winter.

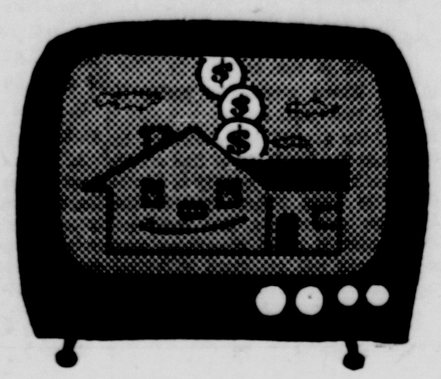

Louis Hole and sons have returned from a 6,000-mile tour of national parks in the West.

Grange To Meet

CLARKSON — The Clarkson Grange will meet Thursday night at the Grange Hall with Carl Daiger, master, in charge. Officers will be installed at the October meeting.

Elkton Child Given Party

Mrs. Dale Blazer of Elkton entertained a group Saturday night in honor of the 13th birthday anniversary of her daughter, Carla.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Daugherty and son of Fairfield Rd. and Mrs. Delmar Harrold spent the weekend with Arthur Daugherty and family of Brookville, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Apple and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eells have returned from a vacation trip to Gettysburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Williams and daughters of Cave Creek, Ariz., have returned after spending the summer with their daughters and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Glenn.

The sacrament of Christian baptism will be administered at the Methodist Church Sunday morning at 9 by the Rev. William Brown, who requested anyone interested to confer with him.

Mrs. James Hillsberry is convalescing at Salem City Hospital after a recent appendectomy.

Mrs. Earl Smith is a patient at Salem City Hospital.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make a "more interesting dish" out of stewed prunes?

A. Simmer them in the syrup drained from canned fruit (peach syrup is especially good), together with a teaspoonful of lemon juice, and a bit of grated rind. Cooked this way, prunes have a much more appealing flavor and require no sugar.

Q. How can I keep the cream from curdling in coffee?

A. If the sweetness of cream seems uncertain, stir in a pinch of soda into it. This will prevent its curdling even in hot coffee.

Q. How can I prevent the lips from cracking?

A. Cold cream, glycerine, and lettuce cream are all good remedies for roughened and cracked lips.

2,338 Youngsters In Lower Grades Get Safety Books

Patrolman Charles A. Winters today began distribution of 28-page safety manuals for 2,338 youngsters in the first four grades of East Liverpool schools.

Officer Winters will distribute the booklets to the homeroom teachers, who will pass them on to the pupils. They will go to 2,055 children in the public schools and 283 in St. Aloysius Parochial School.

Published by the Child Safety Council of Jackson, Mich., the manuals were purchased with funds contributed by 27 business and industrial concerns.

Following a "picture book" format designed to appeal to young readers, the 11-x-8-inch pages carry illustrations, jingles and slogans on the hazards of poison in a medicine closet; fire prevention; the hazard of falls; boating and water safety; caution in alighting from a school bus; the danger of firearms, proper use of a bicycle and many other safety tips.

The manual also cautions youngsters never to accompany a stranger who accosts them with an offer of candy or money. If the stranger is riding in an auto, the children are told to write down the license number.

The booklet also carries photos of Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver and a roster of the police department and "Meter Maids."

There are some 1,400 railroad tunnels in this country with a total length of about 300 miles. In recent years railroads have sought to eliminate tunnels by "daylighting"—uncovering them by blasting and grading.

2 Hurt In Crash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two persons were injured slightly Tuesday when a car struck the rear of a parked school bus, sheriff's deputies said. The injured were John J. Sammet, 31, of suburban Grove City—the driver of the car—and a bus passenger, Gerald Smith, 14, of Columbus. Sammet was cited for driving while intoxicated, having inadequate brakes and failing to keep safe distance. The accident occurred southwest of Columbus on a county road.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average 2 to 4 degrees below normal. Normal high 75 north to 79 south, normal low 54-56. A little warmer Thursday and Friday, but turning cooler again over the weekend. Precipitation will average one-quarter to three-quarter inch in showers Saturday or Sunday.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I've been going with a man for almost two years. We plan to marry as soon as we settle a few family and financial problems.

When we first started to date we played a lot of golf together. My father was a pro and I used to shoot in the low 70s. Earl's game was pretty bad and I beat him consistently. He got so mean I finally gave up playing with him.

Last summer he taught me how to handle a tennis racket. By June of this year I was beating him two out of three. When he lost his temper and broke his racket I announced I was through playing tennis with him.

Now we've started to bowl together. I've never bowled before but I seem to have a knack for it. I see trouble ahead.

My girl friend says I should let him be better at this if it kills me. I don't agree. What do you say?—TOP BANANA.

Dear Top: No man likes to have his brains beaten in, especially by a female.

It's less than smart for a woman to consistently parade her superiority whether it's intellectual or athletic.

How important is it to win the game if you lose the guy?

Romantic Interest

Dear Ann: I'm a widow in my early 30s and keeping house for a widower who is a few years younger than I. He has four children, the youngest is 6, the oldest 16.

I love the children and they treat me with great respect. I never knew their mother but she must have been a wonderful woman.

I think I'm falling in love with the man of the house. He is considerate and kind to me but that's as far as it goes.

Do you advise me to stay on and try to get over my feelings or should I leave before I get badly hurt?

I love it here and the children need me. I'm not very good looking but I could make this man happy if I had the chance. Please advise me. — SECRET HEART

Dear Secret Heart: You don't say how long you've been in the house, how long the man has been a widower or how much younger he is.

From the fragmentary information I suspect the chances for marriage are slim. Try to accept this as a reality and cultivate a social life. If in six months you're not over your romantic inclinations, make arrangements to leave.

Nibby Intruder

Dear Ann: I will soon be 13 and I have a problem. I have a girl friend who walks into our house without knocking.

She also goes into my father's desk drawers and reads things. She opens the refrigerator and helps herself without asking. Once she poured herself a glass of milk and it turned out to be the coffee cream Mom ordered for her bridge club that night.

Mom works and doesn't get home till 5 o'clock. I like this girl but I don't like some of her ways. How shall I tell her? — KATE.

Dear Kate: In plain English—and fast.

In addition to this you can lock the doors. If this girl can walk in, so can anyone else. Tell your mother for me that a 13-year-old should not come home to an empty house and that she should work half days until you're older or else hire a housekeeper.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I've been going with a man for almost two years. We plan to marry as soon as we settle a few family and financial problems.

When we first started to date we played a lot of golf together. My father was a pro and I used to shoot in the low 70s. Earl's game was pretty bad and I beat him consistently. He got so mean I finally gave up playing with him.

Last summer he taught me how to handle a tennis racket. By June of this year I was beating him two out of three. When he lost his temper and broke his racket I announced I was through playing tennis with him.

Now we've started to bowl together. I've never bowled before but I seem to have a knack for it. I see trouble ahead.

My girl friend says I should let him be better at this if it kills me. I don't agree. What do you say?—TOP BANANA.

Dear Top: No man likes to have his brains bested in, especially by a female.

It's less than smart for a woman to consistently parade her superiority whether it's intellectual or athletic.

How important is it to win the game if you lose the guy?

Romantic Interest

Dear Ann: I'm a widow in my early 30s and keeping house for a widower who is a few years younger than I. He has four children, the youngest is 6, the oldest 16.

I love the children and they treat me with great respect. I never knew their mother but she must have been a wonderful woman.

I think I'm falling in love with the man of the house. He is considerate and kind to me but that's as far as it goes.

Do you advise me to stay on and try to get over my feelings or should I leave before I get badly hurt?

I love it here and the children need me. I'm not very good looking but I could make this man happy if I had the chance. Please advise me. — SECRET HEART.

Dear Secret Heart: You don't say how long you've been in the house, how long the man has been a widower or how much younger he is.

From the fragmentary information I suspect the chances for marriage are slim. Try to accept this as a reality and cultivate a social life. If in six months you're not over your romantic inclinations, make arrangements to leave.

Nibby Intruder

Dear Ann: I will soon be 19 and I have a problem. I have a girl friend who walks into our house without knocking.

She also goes into my father's desk, drawers and reads things. She opens the refrigerator and helps herself without asking. Once she poured herself a glass of milk and it turned out to be the coffee cream Mom ordered for her bridge club that night.

Mom works and doesn't get home till 5 o'clock. I like this girl but I don't like some of her ways. How shall I tell her? — KATE.

Dear Kate: In plain English—and fast.

In addition to this you can lock the doors. If this girl can walk in, so can anyone else. Tell your mother for me that a 19-year-old should not come home to an empty house and that she should work half days until you're older or else hire a housekeeper.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Reports Of Committees Mark Meeting Of Chamber's Board

Committee reports marked a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon — its first session since June.

Summaries of recent activity and future plans were presented by the membership, highway, safety and agriculture and conservation committees.

The safety committee, of which Alvin Arner is chairman, reported on plans for the annual observance of National Fire Prevention Week in October. It also reported on co-operation in the school safety program.

The agriculture and conservation committee is arranging the annual Rural-Urban Day, scheduled Nov. 16. Residents of nearby rural areas will visit East Liverpool that day as guests of the Chamber to familiarize themselves with the activities of business and industrial concerns. Harold Allison heads the committee. The programs are held annually for an exchange of visits between rural residents and city dwellers.

George A. Shaw heads the membership committee and Atty. Francis H. Lang is chairman of the highway committee.

It was announced the fall meeting of the Ohio Chamber will be held Oct. 18 at Columbus. A local delegation may attend. A report was presented on the annual reception for new teachers in the East Liverpool and Beaver Local school systems, which the public education committee conducted on Sept. 6 in co-operation with the City Teachers' Association.

There was a general discussion of summer activities and plans for the fall program. E. R. Chandler, secretary - manager, reported on the meeting of the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants last week in Granville and a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Executives of Ohio in August at Warren, at which he was elected a director.

The board voted to accept the membership application of the Holiday Camera Shop of Market St. The application previously had been accepted by the executive committee.

The board authorized Chandler to attend the annual meeting of the American Chamber of Commerce Executives Oct. 9-12 in Louisville.

Driver Lighting Smoke Rams Into Parked Auto

A Cambridge man's auto rammed the rear of a parked auto early today on Dresden Ave., causing it to hit another parked car, when the driver took his eyes off the road momentarily to light a cigarette, police reported.

John Walter Kennedy, 29, forfeited a $56 bond today in Municipal Court on a charge of failure to have his auto under control as the aftermath of the crash at 12:43 this morning on Dresden Ave. 25 feet north of W. 7th St.

Police said Kennedy's 1954 two-door hit a 1954 auto owned by Jacob Fulmer of Shadyside Ave., causing it to strike another 1954 model owned by Herschel Taylor of Dresden Ave.

Waterford Man Cited Following Car Mishap

Howard Hollabaugh, 67, of New Waterford was cited by the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon Tuesday afternoon after his car collided with another on County Rd. 421 at the west limits of New Waterford.

Officers said Hollabaugh pulled out of Taylor Ave. making a wide right turn, and struck a car operated by Mary Kent, 23, of New Waterford R. D. 2. Damage was minor. He was charged with failure to halt for a stop sign, the patrol said.

Club To Honor Priest

SALINEVILLE — Fr. Homer Oliver of Aurora, former pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, will be honored at a "Ladies Night" meeting of the Ruritan Club Thursday night at 6:30 at the St. Patrick Church Parish Hall.

The first European university was established at Salerno, Italy, in the 9th century.

Burglar Batters Door In Bid To Enter Store

A burglar battered a door at the rear of the Frank Crook Co. furniture store in an unsuccessful attempt to gain entry, police reported Tuesday.

The would-be intruder attempted to knock a panel from the door, which leads into E. Church Ln., sometime between 5:15 p. m. Monday and 8:30 a. m. Tuesday, officers said. The intruder may have been frightened away by a passing car or pedestrian, police theorized.

Meanwhile, Arb Motors, 1340 Pennsylvania Ave., reported to police yesterday 2 wheels and tires were stolen from each of 2 1953 model autos on its used car lot sometime between 10 p. m. Monday and 8 a. m. Tuesday.

Tax Statements Ready On Personal Property

LISBON — Concluding statements of the 1960 personal property tax will be in the mail Saturday, according to county Treasurer Vincent C. Judge. The collection will carry a closing date of Oct. 10.

The general personal property tax is based on store and farm inventories as well as manufacturing equipment. The classified tax represents tax on investments, whether productive or non productive.

Judge pointed out these taxes do not apply on any real estate in the county.

40 Attend TB Meeting

LISBON — Forty health officials, nurses and school executives attended a meeting on tuberculosis control Tuesday noon at the Wick Hotel. Principal speaker was Dr. Walter Evans, tuberculosis control director of the Ohio Health Department.

Yule Program Plans Started By Merchants

A community program for the Christmas season was discussed when the East Liverpool Merchants Association met Tuesday in the Chamber of Commerce office.

A progress report on the holiday program was made by Jack Steinberg, chairman. He announced the committee will meet Friday morning at the Chamber office with a representative of a concern which sells decorations for business districts.

As it was the first general meeting since June, discussion also centered on reports of summer activities and plans for the fall. Charles Averill, chairman of the promotion committee, reported on the semi-annual Dollar Day sale in August and discussed a proposed fall promotion.

Don Eckert, chairman, reported the executive committee will meet next week to discuss some of the problems confronting the merchants. A report on the downtown improvement committee was given by E. R. Chandler, secretary, who said it is preparing to present a program at a meeting later in the fall.

Chandler also reported on a meeting of the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants which he attended last week in Granville.

Leslie Blumenthal gave a report on the merchants' trip to the Massillon football game last Friday. The ELMA members traveled as a group aboard a chartered bus. The trip included a dinner meeting with Massillon merchants.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, Oct. 4.

City Club Hears Rotary Governor

"Your are Rotary—express and expand it," Ira E. Surbey of New Philadelphia emphasized in a combined club assembly-address when the local club met Tuesday noon in the Travelers Hotel.

Surbey, controller for Marsh Wall Products, Inc., of Dover and a member and past president of the Rotary Club of New Philadelphia, made his official visit as governor of the 665th District of Rotary International.

He announced that the 1961 district conference will be held April 16-17 in New Philadelphia. Surbey was making his first visit to East Liverpool.

Reports were presented on club, vocational, international and community service during the club assembly. George Hargraves, president, introduced the visitor.

The Rev. George Bennett of Chicago, regional director of the American Leprosy Association, Inc., was a guest.

Killed In Collision

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP) — A two-car collision on U.S. 322 at Windsor, southwest of here, fatally injured Mrs. Claude Shimmon, 69, of Shaker Heights Tuesday. She was a passenger in a car driven by her grandson, Robert B. Nightingale, 22, of Elyria, who was released after treatment of injuries at St. Joseph Hospital in Warren. The driver of the other car, Daniel P. Hickey Jr. of Windsor, suffered a fractured jaw.

Reports Of Committees Mark Meeting Of Chamber's Board

Committee reports marked a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon — its first session since June.

Summaries of recent activity and future plans were presented by the membership, highway, safety and agriculture and conservation committees.

The safety committee, of which Alvin Arner is chairman, reported on plans for the annual observance of National Fire Prevention Week in October. It also reported on co-operation in the school safety program.

The agriculture and conservation committee is arranging the annual Rural-Urban Day, scheduled Nov. 16. Residents of nearby rural areas will visit East Liverpool that day as guests of the Chamber to familiarize themselves with the activities of business and industrial concerns. Harold Allison heads the committee. The programs are held annually for an exchange of visits between rural residents and city dwellers.

George A. Shaw heads the membership committee and Atty. Francis H. Lang is chairman of the highway committee.

It was announced the fall meeting of the Ohio Chamber will be held Oct. 18 at Columbus. A local delegation may attend. A report was presented on the annual reception for new teachers in the East Liverpool and Beaver Local school systems, which the public education committee conducted on Sept. 6 in co-operation with the City Teachers' Association.

There was a general discussion of summer activities and plans for the fall program. E. R. Chandler, secretary - manager, reported on the meeting of the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants last week in Granville and a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Executives of Ohio in August at Warren, at which he was elected a director.

The board voted to accept the membership application of the Holiday Camera Shop of Market St. The application previously had been accepted by the executive committee.

The board authorized Chandler to attend the annual meeting of the American Chamber of Commerce Executives Oct. 9-12 in Louisville.

Driver Lighting Smoke Rams Into Parked Auto

A Cambridge man's auto rammed the rear of a parked auto early today on Dresden Ave., causing it to hit another parked car, when the driver took his eyes off the road momentarily to light a cigarette, police reported.

John Walter Kennedy, 29, forfeited a $56 bond today in Municipal Court on a charge of failure to have his auto under control as the aftermath of the crash at 12:43 this morning on Dresden Ave. 25 feet north of W. 7th St.

Police said Kennedy's 1954 two-door hit a 1954 auto owned by Jacob Fulmer of Shadyside Ave., causing it to strike another 1954 model owned by Herschel Taylor of Dresden Ave.

Waterford Man Cited Following Car Mishap

Howard Hollabaugh, 67, of New Waterford was cited by the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon Tuesday afternoon after his car collided with another on County Rd. 421 at the west limits of New Waterford.

Officers said Hollabaugh pulled out of Taylor Ave. making a wide right turn, and struck a car operated by Mary Kent, 23, of New Waterford R. D. 2. Damage was minor. He was charged with failure to halt for a stop sign, the patrol said.

Club To Honor Priest

Burglar Batters Door In Bid To Enter Store

A burglar battered a door at the rear of the Frank Crook Co. furniture store in an unsuccessful attempt to gain entry, police reported Tuesday.

The would-be intruder attempted to knock a panel from the door, which leads into E. Church Ln., sometime between 5:15 p. m. Monday and 8:30 a. m. Tuesday, officers said. The intruder may have been frightened away by a passing car or pedestrian, police theorized.

Meanwhile, Arb Motors, 1340 Pennsylvania Ave., reported to police yesterday 2 wheels and tires were stolen from each of 2 1953 model autos on its used car lot sometime between 10 p. m. Monday and 8 a. m. Tuesday.

Tax Statements Ready On Personal Property

LISBON — Concluding statements of the 1960 personal property tax will be in the mail Saturday, according to county Treasurer Vincent C. Judge. The collection will carry a closing date of Oct. 10.

The general personal property tax is based on store and farm inventories as well as manufacturing equipment. The classified tax represents tax on investments, whether productive or non productive.

Judge pointed out these taxes do not apply on any real estate in the county.

40 Attend TB Meeting

LISBON — Forty health officials, nurses and school executives attended a meeting on tuberculosis control Tuesday noon at the Wick Hotel. Principal speaker was Dr. Walter Evans, tuberculosis control director of the Ohio Health Department.

Yule Program Plans Started By Merchants

A community program for the Christmas season was discussed when the East Liverpool Merchants Association met Tuesday in the Chamber of Commerce office.

A progress report on the holiday program was made by Jack Steinberg, chairman. He announced the committee will meet Friday morning at the Chamber office with a representative of a concern which sells decorations for business districts.

As it was the first general meeting since June, discussion also centered on reports of summer activities and plans for the fall. Charles Averill, chairman of the promotion committee, reported on the semi-annual Dollar Day sale in August and discussed a proposed fall promotion.

Don Eckert, chairman, reported the executive committee will meet next week to discuss some of the problems confronting the merchants. A report on the downtown improvement committee was given by E. R. Chandler, secretary, who said it is preparing to present a program at a meeting later in the fall.

Chandler also reported on a meeting of the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants which he attended last week in Granville.

Leslie Blumenthal gave a report on the merchants' trip to the Massillon football game last Friday. The ELMA members traveled as a group aboard a chartered bus. The trip included a dinner meeting with Massillon merchants.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, Oct. 4.

City Club Hears Rotary Governor

"Your are Rotary—express and expand it," Ira E. Surbey of New Philadelphia emphasized in a combined club assembly-address when the local club met Tuesday noon in the Travelers Hotel.

Surbey, controller for Marsh Wall Products, Inc., of Dover and a member and past president of the Rotary Club of New Philadelphia, made his official visit as governor of the 665th District of Rotary International.

He announced that the 1961 district conference will be held April 16-17 in New Philadelphia. Surbey was making his first visit to East Liverpool.

Reports were presented on club, vocational, international and community service during the club assembly. George Hargraves, president, introduced the visitor.

The Rev. George Bennett of Chicago, regional director of the American Leprosy Association, Inc., was a guest.

Killed In Collision

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP) — A two-car collision on U.S. 322 at Windsor, southwest of here, fatally injured Mrs. Claude Shimmon, 69, of Shaker Heights Tuesday. She was a passenger in a car driven by her grandson, Robert B. Nightingale, 22, of Elyria, who was released after treatment of injuries at St. Joseph Hospital in Warren. The driver of the other car, Daniel P. Hickey Jr. of Windsor, suffered a fractured jaw.

Kennedy Carries Vote Bid To Missouri And New York

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Sen. John Kennedy hit strongly today for Missouri and New York electoral votes with renewed confidence in the stability of his Texas flank.

The Democratic nominee brought his campaign for the presidency to this mouthful state Tuesday night. He encountered the wildest demonstration of an otherwise relatively placid contest with Vice President Richard M. Nixon, his Republican rival.

An unruly crowd, which refused to heed police pleas—and in fact tossed policemen around as though they were tennis — engulfed the Kennedy plane after it landed at St. Louis Municipal Airport.

It took 15 minutes and repeated appeals by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo, over a ship's foghorn loudspeaker before aides would agree to let the Democratic nominee venture into the narrow aisle that had been formed to let Kennedy pass to a ramp where he spoke briefly.

Police, who admitted they were not prepared for the big turnout, at first estimated the crowd at 10,000. Later the figure was revised upward to 20,000.

This reception, in a state where there are some Democratic doubts about the contest for 13 electoral votes, encouraged Kennedy's aides to believe the Massachusetts senator may become the sort of popular favorite former President Harry S. Truman proved himself in 1948.

Kennedy bid for active Missouri support with an early morning speech to the International Association of Machinists.

In his prepared text, Kennedy echoed a theme he sounded in his Labor Day talk in Detroit—that the American people are "tired of the drift in our national course" and want a change in administration.

His New York City schedule offered Kennedy an opportunity to do some more patching of a party organization still threatening to burst the seams of unity he needs to keep sewed up to win the state's all-important 45 electoral votes.

Woman Leaves Estate To Home For Aged

CLEVELAND (AP)—Nearly income of about $38,000 from the $760,000 estate of Mrs. Mary Bess Donahue is to be used to enrich the lives of retired persons in the A. M. McGregor Home in East Cleveland. Mrs. Donahue, who died a week ago at 85, was the daughter of Theodore Arter, an early associate of John D. Rockefeller, and she had large holdings in Standard Oil stock and bonds, her will filed in Probate Court Tuesday showed.

She said she wanted McGregor Home—where she never lived—to spend her bequest for milk and cream, eggs and bacon and other foods and flowers for the tables. She also suggested some expenditure for music, by radio or television or live entertainers "to make the residence more homelike and pleasant."

Kennedy Carries Vote Bid To Missouri And New York

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Sen. John Kennedy hit strongly today for Missouri and New York electoral votes with renewed confidence in the stability of his Texas flank.

The Democratic nominee brought his campaign for the presidency to his roughest stop Tuesday night. He encountered the wildest demonstration of an otherwise relatively placid contest with Vice President Richard M. Nixon, his Republican rival.

An unruly crowd, which refused to heed police pleas—and in fact tossed policemen around as though they were tennis — engulfed the Kennedy plane after it landed at St. Louis Municipal Airport.

Results Of Nine Primaries Shed Little Political Light

By The Associated Press

Nine states held primary elections Tuesday. There were some surprises, an upset or two. Generally, the results shed little light on the way the political tides might be running in November.

In Massachusetts, Gov. Foster Furcolo lost to a relative newcomer, Mayor Thomas J. O'Connor, 35, of Springfield, in a bid for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate.

Furcolo had the Democratic State Convention's endorsement but the party was split. O'Connor, in his first try for statewide office, campaigned hard and long, while Furcolo sat tight until a few days before the primary. O'Connor will run against Republican Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, who was unopposed for renomination.

Veteran Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts won easy renomination. It was the first time he was opposed in a primary in 35 years.

Primaries also were held in New Hampshire, Vermont, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Utah, Arizona, Colorado and Washington. In some cases, such as Wisconsin and Minnesota, major candidates were unopposed in their parties and the races shaped up as tests of relative party strength.

State outcomes included.

MINNESOTA

Democratic Gov. Orville Freeman won a fourth-term nomination by a more than 7 to 1 margin over a political unknown. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, also unopposed, was leading the top Republican candidate for his seat, Mayor P. Kenneth Peterson of Minneapolis, but the total GOP vote was bigger than Humphrey's.

Freeman's GOP opponent, Elmer Andersen, who was unopposed, was trailing the governor in the popularity poll.

WISCONSIN

Another popularity contest, this one an apparent standoff. Democratic Gov. Gaylord Nelson and his opponent, former GOP State Chairman Philip G. Kuehn, both were unopposed. They appeared about evenly matched in the light voting.

NEW HAMPSHIRE

Gov. Wesley Powell won another close victory in the Republican gubernatorial nomination race over former Gov. Hugh Gregg. With returns almost complete, Powell led 46,031 to 45,249. It was a virtual repeat of a Powell-Gregg photo finish two years ago. A third candidate trailed badly.

Bernard L. Boutin, former Democratic national committeeman, walked away with his party's gubernatorial nomination. Sen. Styles Bridges and two incumbent GOP congressmen, Reps. Chester E. Merrow and Perkins Bass, won renomination easily.

Convicted Embezzler Due Release From Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John P. Friend Jr., convicted last year of embezzling $50,951 as the Clermont County treasurer, is due to be released from prison Oct. 13. Friend, who held the county job from 1936 until he was charged last year, was granted a parole by the state pardon and parole board Tuesday.

He has been serving two sentences concurrently in Ohio Penitentiary, 1-10 years on one charge and 1-21 years on two others. He also was fined $2,217.

Lausche Praises Ike In Talk At Findlay

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Sen. Frank J. Lausche—a Democrat—devoted much of a speech here Tuesday night to praise of the Republican Eisenhower Administration, including the President's handling of the U2 incident and the summit conference.

Speaking before an audience of about 500 at the Hancock Farmers' Club annual barbecue, Lausche said that, as a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, he has heard evidence in the last few years which leads him to believe that should Russia attack the United States, this country could retaliate and defeat the Soviet Union.

Giants Top Pittsburgh, 6-3; Broglio Wins 19th In Relief

Cardinal Mound Ace Beats Braves

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the St. Louis Cardinals' success has been startling or surprising in the National League pennant race, what word do you use to describe Ernie Broglio?

In the spring, the big right-hander with the flat-top haircut was figured No. 4 or No. 5 on a staff that wasn't considered strong enough to pitch the Cardinals out of the second division. Now he's the ace, a workhorse as a starter-reliever and tied with Pittsburgh's Vern Law and Milwaukee's Warren Spahn as the majors' top winners.

After missing a start because of a neck ailment, Broglio won his 19th in relief Tuesday night as the second-place Cardinals three times came from behind and finally defeated the Braves 6-5 in 11 innings. It was Broglio's seventh victory in nine relief decisions. He is 12-5 as a starter.

That lifted the Red Birds within 6½ games of the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates, who lost 6-3 to San Francisco, and pushed them a full game ahead of Milwaukee.

Los Angeles took two at Philadelphia, 2-1 and 4-1, winning the first game in 10 innings; and Cincinnati defeated the Chicago Cubs 8-6 in the other game.

In the American League, last-place Kansas City creamed New York 12-3, but the Yankees retained a one-game lead over the Baltimore Orioles, who lost 3-1 at Detroit. Chicago's third-place White Sox crowded within two games of the lead by beating Washington 6-5 in 11 innings. Cleveland defeated Boston 5-3.

The Cardinals ended the season series with the Braves with an 11-11 split on Ken Boyer's single and Daryl Spencer's triple in the 11th off Lew Burdette (16-11), the loser in relief. Stan Musial's 16th home run, with a man on, had given the Cards a 5-5 tie in the eighth.

Ed Bressoud drove in two runs with a single as the Giants scored three in the sixth for a clinching 4-1 lead at Pittsburgh against Vinegar Bend Mizell (11-8). Mike McCormick (13-11) allowed 10 hits, one a two-run homer by Roberto Clemente, but struck out 13 as the Giants ended the season series against the Bucs with an 8-14 record.

An unearned run won the opener for the Dodgers, and a walk and Maury Wills' double wrapped up the nightcap in the second inning. Winner Johnny Podres (12-11) and reliever Larry Sherry struck out 12 Phils in the first game. Sandy Koufax (8-12) fanned 11 in the second while pitching a five-hitter.

J. Ann Abbe Wins In Scioto Downs Pace

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — J. Ann Abbe followed form and won the $1,000 Class B pace Tuesday night at Scioto Downs under a perfect drive by veteran Curly Smart.

The 4-year-old daughter of Gene Abbe, a 2-1 bet, defeated the second choice, Duke Yates, by a length in 2:04. Good Time Miss finished third in the mile event.

A harness racing rarity occurred in the first race when Royal Rod and Charlotte Sayre hit the finish wire at the same instant for a dead heat win. As a result, for the first time in Central Ohio harness racing a "double" daily double occurred.

In three seasons as Harvard football coach, John Yovicsin's teams show a 13-13 record.

Mauch Given 2-Year Pact With Phillies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — General Manager John Quinn of the Philadelphia Phillies said today Manager Gen Mauch was given a contract extension to manage the club through 1962 because "he's aggressive, uses good judgment and has done a fine job."

Asked why the 34-year-old Mauch had been given a new contract to replace a two-year pact which ran through 1961 in view of the Phillies' last-place standing in the National League, Quinn said:

"I appreciate the question. But we've got a young ball club and he's done a fine job bringing the younger players along. He has the ability and is one of the young coming managers in the league."

In announcing the contract Tuesday Quinn did not say whether Mauch had been given an increase over the two-year pact he signed at the start of the season when he took over from Eddie Sawyer, who resigned. He said it was the club's policy never to disclose terms.

'Not Good, Not Bad,' Hayes Says Of Bucks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"Not good, but not bad," was the description coach Woody Hayes gave of Ohio' state's football workout Tuesday. The Buckeyes held a light morning drill in shorts, and then put on heavy equipment for a tough afternoon practice.

Three men sat out the day: Defensive halfback Ron Houck of Troy, who has had five teeth pulled in two days; second-string quarterback Jack Wallace of Middletown, injured since last week; and guard Bob Butts of Benwood, W.Va., expected to be sidelined the rest of the week with a head injury suffered Monday.

Chisox Stick Nose Back In AL Race As New York, Baltimore Both Lose

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

There never has been a three-way playoff for a major league pennant, but the way things are going in that American League race anything is likely to happen.

Look what happened Tuesday night.

New York's first-place Yankees, who had won seven of nine decisions at Kansas City, were smeared 12-3 by the last place A's. Dick Williams, who had been batting .208 against New York drove in six runs with a homer, double and single. Bud Daley, the lefty who had been a loser in 10 of his last 12 decisions, checked the Yanks on eight hits.

The second-place Baltimore Orioles remained a game behind with their fourth loss in six games, dropping a 3-1 decision at Detroit as Jim Bunning pitched a three-hitter and Rocky Colavito socked his 29th home run. It was Bunning's first victory over the Birds this season, and Colavito's first homer off Baltimore pitching.

The third-place Chicago White Sox, who died and were buried long ago, moved within two games of the lead with their sixth straight victory, a 6-5, 11-inning decision over Washington-Don Newcombe, who won his second.

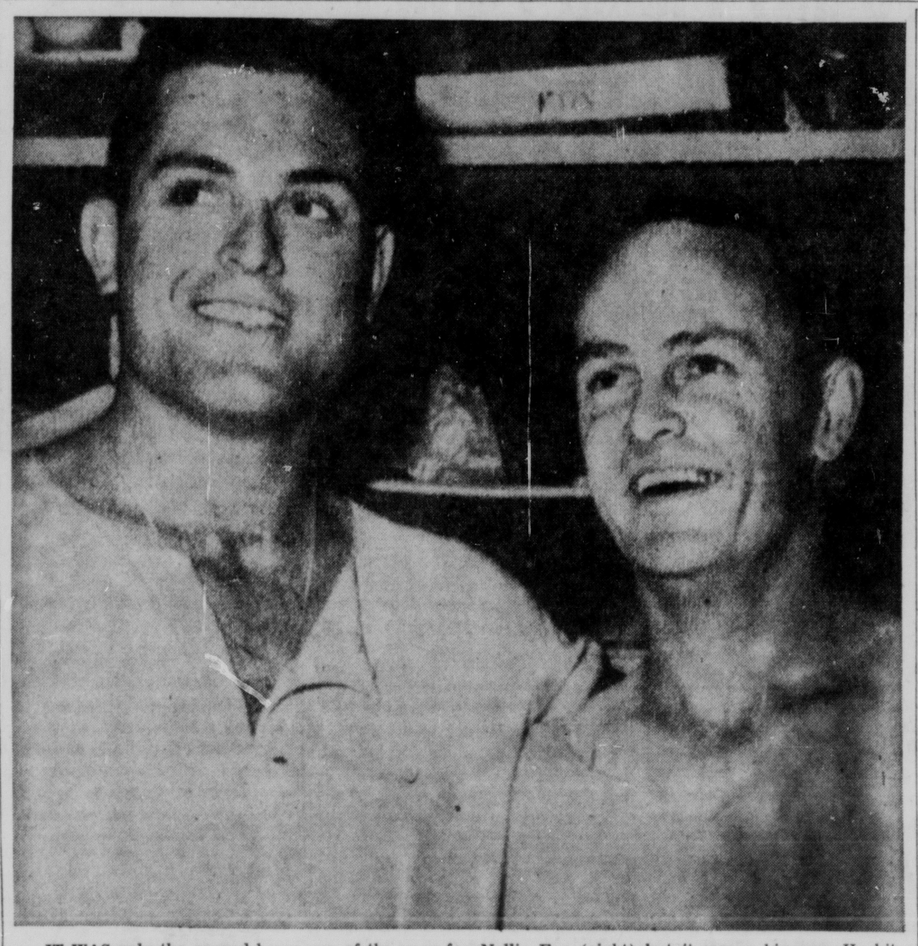

In the National League, San Francisco rapped Pittsburgh 6-3, shaving the Pirates' lead to 6½ games over the St. Louis Cardinals, who defeated Milwaukee 6-5 in 11 innings. Los Angeles took two at Philadelphia, 2-1 and 4-1, winning the opener in 10 innings. Cincinnati defeated Chicago 8-6.

Nellie Fox, a singles hitter, won it with a home run—his second of the year.

Cleveland defeated Boston 5-3 in the other AL game on 5 1-3 innings of five-hit, shutout relief by Bunning (10-12) didn't walk a man, struck out six and had the Orioles shut out on one hit until Ron Hansen belted his 21st home run in the seventh inning. Norm Cash put the Tigers ahead with a first-inning homer, his 18th, off loser Milt Pappas (13-10).

Fox's homer, off losing reliever Tom Morgan (4-5), brought the payoff for White Sox lefty Frank Baumann (11-6), who held the Nats without a hit in 3 2-3 innings of shutout relief. Fox also singled twice, triggering rallies that brought the Sox from behind. Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew homered for the Senators.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1960 PAGE 22

IT WAS only the second home run of the year for Nellie Fox (right) but it was a big one. He hit it in the 11th inning of Wednesday night's game at Chicago to beat the Washington Senators, 6-5. The victory was the sixth straight for the White Sox. Fox is shown in the dressing room with winning pitcher Frank Baumann. (UPI Telephoto)

Hayes Predicts Big Year For Sophomores In Big 10

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 1960 Big Ten football campaign should be a great one for sophomores, says Ohio State's Woody Hayes, dean of conference coaches.

"The newcomers will be a more prominent factor in the race this season than at least since 1951 when I came to Ohio State," Hayes emphasizes. "We will have as many of nine of them on our first two teams."

Hayes is trying to recoup from sharing eighth place in the Big Ten race last year with a 2-4-1 record—his poorest season. Most of his conference colleagues pick him to be among the top four this time.

"I think you can look for us to be a little more wide open with a two-platoon system," says Hayes. "We will have better overall speed than at any time since 1955, the final year for Hopalong Cassady. We are a comparatively small team, and this is not necessarily to my choosing.

"Mobility instead of ponderous brute power may be the best way of putting it. This comes mainly from having 19 former high school fullbacks converted to linemen in our squad of 65 players. One thing I am pretty sure of—we'll be better than last year.

"The conference is stronger right down the line. Right now I would say Illinois, Michigan State and Iowa should rate as the main contenders, with Purdue a dark-horse."

Hayes, who terms 1960 "the transition year," has 2 lettermen and labels four of them outstanding. These include:

Linebacker Mike Ingram, 220-pound junior from Bellaire, Ohio; Jim Tyrer, 6-6, 250-pound senior from Newark, Ohio; quarterback Tom Matte, 190, senior from East Cleveland; and fullback Bob Ferguson, 220, junior from Troy, Ohio.

"Matte is a good runner, fair passer and a fighting type of boy I like," says Hayes. "Ferguson is one of our fastest backs and helps make fullback possibly our strongest position. He averaged 6.1 yards a carry last year as a left halfback."

Another outstanding player is Tom Perude, 184-pound junior defensive end.

Hayes thinks these sophomores are the ones to watch:

Defense—Fullback Bill Mrukowski, 190, Elyria, Ohio, and right guard Gary Moeller, 205, Lima, Ohio.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching — Jim Bunning, Tigers, chilled Orioles with a three-hitter, walking none and striking out six for 3-1 victory.

Hitting — Dick Williams, A's, drove in six runs with a homer, a double and a single in 12-3 upset of Yankees.

Ted Williams has hit 30 home runs in Yankee Stadium in 18 seasons.

Pirates, Yanks, Orioles Allowed To Print Tickets

NEW YORK (AP) —The Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League and the New York Yankees and Baltimore Orioles of the American League have been authorized by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick to print tickets for the World Series, which will start Oct. 5 in the National League city.

Frick made the announcement Tuesday after a meeting with representatives of the three above clubs and of the Chicago White Sox, St. Louis Cardinals and Milwaukee Braves.

The first two games will be played in the National League city, the next three, if three are necessary, in the American League park, and the final one or two, also if necessary, back in the N.L. park.

Open dates have been allowed between games 2 and 3 and 5 and 6.

Should a playoff be necessary to decide a league champion the series dates will be changed. A playoff would be two out of three games and the series would start two days after the final playoff games.

Prices were announced as $10 for box seats, $7 for reserved grandstand seats, $4 for standing room and $2 for the bleachers.

Potter Offensive Play Led By Hall And Cunningham

Quarterback Kenny Cunningham and tackle Skip Hall topped the list of offensive grades released today by head coach Lou Venditti of the East Liverpool Potters.

After movies were screened, Cunningham received 83 per cent while Hall rated an 80. The grades are based on offense only.

Others included Joe Thompson 72, John Goodballet 65, Joe Smith 63, Larry Crook 62, Gary Montgomery 55, Tim Archer 51, Tom Kraft 50, Glenn Mays 43 and Gene Wolfe 35.

Broken Arm Shelves Miami U. Co-Captain

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Co-Capt. Ed Keating, a guard, broke his left arm in football practice Tuesday and will be lost to Miami's team for three to four weeks.

Last week, starting end Tom Mallory was sidelined by a shoulder separation and there was no indication when he could return.

Miami opens its season Saturday against Xavier of Ohio.

Pitt And 'C' Boys Pick Over UCLA

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Now that the Olympic victors have been decided we can settle down to the business of figuring out who is to be the boss in college football.

Here are the probable winners in this week's games:

Alabama over Georgia: The Bulldogs chewed up Alabama last year and that seldom happens two years in a row to any team coached by Bear Bryant. You have a chance to watch this one on your TV.

Texas Christian over Kansas: Strongboy Bob Lilly will lead the Texas Frogs to victory over one of the best teams in the expanded Big Eight.

Pittsburgh over UCLA: Now "C" them, now you don't. Cox, Clemens and Cunningham make up three-fourths of the Panther backfield and each one is a hero.

Navy over Boston College: The Sailors will be relying on Joe Bellino and Joe Matalavage and nine other guys who aren't named Joe.

Georgia Tech over Kentucky: Too many sophomores in the Wildcat lineup to handle Stann Gann and his gang.

Texas over Nebraska: The top three Texas quarterback candidates are physically below par for this one but the Longhorns are healthy at all other positions.

Army over Buffalo: The Cadets' Lonely End no longer is quite so lonely. Unless they suffer from stagefright the Buffaloes will make a match of it at the start.

Missouri over Southern Methodist: Neither team has a veteran quarterback but the game is being played on the Tigers' home lot.

Mississippi over Houston: Pretty girls and pretty good football players are common in Mississippi.

California over Tulane: The Greenies simply do not have the men to stay in there with the big ones for four full quarters.

Penn State over Boston University: Penn State is jealous of the early-season recognition being given Pittsburgh and Syracuse and will make the Terriers pay.

Washington State over Stanford: Stanford loves to fling the ball around, Washington State loves to fling the ball carriers around.

LSU over Texas A&M: Two rebuilt machines with the home fans helping the Tigers across the chalk lines.

Maryland over West Virginia: Thirty-nine towering sophomores on the Maryland squad.

Southern California over Oregon State: The McKeever twins still wear the Trojan uniforms. It is a Friday night game.

Giants Top Pittsburgh, 6-3; Broglio Wins 19th In Relief

Cardinal Mound Ace Beats Braves

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the St. Louis Cardinals' success has been startling or surprising in the National League pennant race, what word do you use to describe Ernie Broglio?

In the spring, the big right-hander with the flat-top haircut was figured No. 4 or No. 5 on a staff that wasn't considered strong enough to pitch the Cardinals out of the second division. Now he's the ace, a workhorse as a starter-reliever and tied with Pittsburgh's Vern Law and Milwaukee's Warren Spahn as the majors' top winners.

After missing a start because of a neck ailment, Broglio won his 19th in relief Tuesday night as the second-place Cardinals three times came from behind and finally defeated the Braves 6-5 in 11 innings. It was Broglio's seventh victory in nine relief decisions. He is 12-5 as a starter.

That lifted the Red Birds within 6½ games of the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates, who lost 6-3 to San Francisco, and pushed them a full game ahead of Milwaukee.

Los Angeles took two at Philadelphia, 2-1 and 4-1, winning the first game in 10 innings; and Cincinnati defeated the Chicago Cubs 8-6 in the other game.

In the American League, last-place Kansas City creamed New York 12-3, but the Yankees retained a one-game lead over the Baltimore Orioles, who lost 3-1 at Detroit. Chicago's third-place White Sox crowded within two games of the lead by beating Washington 6-5 in 11 innings. Cleveland defeated Boston 5-3.

The Cardinals ended the season series with the Braves with an 11-11 split on Ken Boyer's single and Daryl Spencer's triple in the 11th off Lew Burdette (16-11), the loser in relief. Stan Musial's 16th home run, with a man on, had given the Cards a 5-5 tie in the eighth.

Ed Bressoud drove in two runs with a single as the Giants scored three in the sixth for a clinching 4-1 lead at Pittsburgh against Vinegar Bend Mizell (11-8). Mike McCormick (13-11) allowed 10 hits, one a two-run homer by Roberto Clemente, but struck out 13 as the Giants ended the season series against the Bucs with an 8-14 record.

An unearned run won the opener for the Dodgers, and a walk and Maury Wills' double wrapped up the nightcap in the second inning. Winner Johnny Podres (12-11) and reliever Larry Sherry struck out 12 Phils in the first game. Sandy Koufax (8-12) fanned 11 in the second while pitching a five-hitter.

J. Ann Abbe Wins In Scioto Downs Pace

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — J. Ann Abbe followed form and won the $1,000 Class B pace Tuesday night at Scioto Downs under a perfect drive by veteran Curly Smart.

The 4-year-old daughter of Gene Abbe, a 2-1 bet, defeated the second choice, Duke Yates, by a length in 2:04. Good Time Miss finished third in the mile event.

A harness racing rarity occurred in the first race when Royal Rod and Charlotte Sayre hit the finish wire at the same instant for a dead heat win. As a result, for the first time in Central Ohio harness racing a "double" daily double occurred.

In three seasons as Harvard football coach, John Yovicsin's teams show a 13-13 record.

Mauch Given 2-Year Pact With Phillies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — General Manager John Quinn of the Philadelphia Phillies said today Manager Gen Mauch was given a contract extension to manage the club through 1962 because "he's aggressive, uses good judgment and has done a fine job."

Asked why the 34-year-old Mauch had been given a new contract to replace a two-year pact which ran through 1961 in view of the Phillies' last-place standing in the National League, Quinn said:

"I appreciate the question. But we've got a young ball club and he's done a fine job bringing the younger players along. He has the ability and is one of the young coming managers in the league."

In announcing the contract Tuesday Quinn did not say whether Mauch had been given an increase over the two-year pact he signed at the start of the season when he took over from Eddie Sawyer, who resigned. He said it was the club's policy never to disclose terms.

'Not Good, Not Bad,' Hayes Says Of Bucks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"Not good, but not bad," was the description coach Woody Hayes gave of Ohio' state's football workout Tuesday. The Buckeyes held a light morning drill in shorts, and then put on heavy equipment for a tough afternoon practice.

Three men sat out the day: Defensive halfback Ron Houck of Troy, who has had five teeth pulled in two days; second-string quarterback Jack Wallace of Middletown, injured since last week; and guard Bob Butts of Benwood, W.Va., expected to be sidelined the rest of the week with a head injury suffered Monday.

Chisox Stick Nose Back In AL Race As New York, Baltimore Both Lose

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

There never has been a three-way playoff for a major league pennant, but the way things are going in that American League race anything is likely to happen.

Look what happened Tuesday night.

New York's first-place Yankees, who had won seven of nine decisions at Kansas City, were smeared 12-3 by the last place A's. Dick Williams, who had been batting .208 against New York drove in six runs with a homer, double and single. Bud Daley, the lefty who had been a loser in 10 of his last 12 decisions, checked the Yanks on eight hits.

The second-place Baltimore Orioles remained a game behind with their fourth loss in six games, dropping a 3-1 decision at Detroit as Jim Bunning pitched a three-hitter and Rocky Colavito socked his 29th home run. It was Bunning's first victory over the Birds this season, and Colavito's first homer off Baltimore pitching.

The third-place Chicago White Sox, who died and were buried long ago, moved within two games of the lead with their sixth straight victory, a 6-5, 11-inning decision over Washington-Don Newcombe, who won his second.

In the National League, San Francisco rapped Pittsburgh 6-3, shaving the Pirates' lead to 6½ games over the St. Louis Cardinals, who defeated Milwaukee 6-5 in 11 innings. Los Angeles took two at Philadelphia, 2-1 and 4-1, winning the opener in 10 innings. Cincinnati defeated Chicago 8-6.

Nellie Fox, a singles hitter, won it with a home run—his second of the year.

Cleveland defeated Boston 5-3 in the other AL game on 5 1-3 innings of five-hit, shutout relief by Bunning (10-12) didn't walk a man, struck out six and had the Orioles shut out on one hit until Ron Hansen belted his 21st home run in the seventh inning. Norm Cash put the Tigers ahead with a first-inning homer, his 18th, off loser Milt Pappas (13-10).

Fox's homer, off losing reliever Tom Morgan (4-5), brought the payoff for White Sox lefty Frank Baumann (11-6), who held the Nats without a hit in 3 2-3 innings of shutout relief. Fox also singled twice, triggering rallies that brought the Sox from behind. Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew homered for the Senators.

IT WAS only the second home run of the year for Nellie Fox (right) but it was a big one. He hit it in the 11th inning of Wednesday night's game at Chicago to beat the Washington Senators, 6-5. Hayes Predicts Big Year For Sophomores In Big 10

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 1960 Big Ten football campaign should be a great one for sophomores, says Ohio State's Woody Hayes, dean of conference coaches.

"The newcomers will be a more prominent factor in the race this season than at least since 1951 when I came to Ohio State," Hayes emphasizes. "We will have as many of nine of them on our first two teams."

Hayes is trying to recoup from sharing eighth place in the Big Ten race last year with a 2-4-1 record—his poorest season. Most of his conference colleagues pick him to be among the top four this time.

"I think you can look for us to be a little more wide open with a two-platoon system," says Hayes. "We will have better overall speed than at any time since 1955, the final year for Hopalong Cassady. We are a comparatively small team, and this is not necessarily to my choosing.

"Mobility instead of ponderous brute power may be the best way of putting it. This comes mainly from having 19 former high school fullbacks converted to linemen in our squad of 65 players. One thing I am pretty sure of—we'll be better than last year.

"The conference is stronger right down the line. Right now I would say Illinois, Michigan State and Iowa should rate as the main contenders, with Purdue a dark-horse."

Hayes, who terms 1960 "the transition year," has 2 lettermen and labels four of them outstanding. These include:

"Matte is a good runner, fair passer and a fighting type of boy I like," says Hayes. "Ferguson is one of our fastest backs and helps make fullback possibly our strongest position. He averaged 6.1 yards a carry last year as a left halfback."

Another outstanding player is Tom Perude, 184-pound junior defensive end.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching — Jim Bunning, Tigers, chilled Orioles with a three-hitter, walking none and striking out six for 3-1 victory.

Hitting — Dick Williams, A's, drove in six runs with a homer, a double and a single in 12-3 upset of Yankees.

Ted Williams has hit 30 home runs in Yankee Stadium in 18 seasons.

New Faces Will Appear In Cleveland's Lineup

CLEVELAND (AP) — Not that there was any lack of them during the previous part of the season, but some new faces will be cropping up in the Cleveland Indians' lineup during the remaining 15 games.

The Indians beat Boston 5-3 Tuesday night, and the New York Yankees lost. The other way around, and the Tribe would have been mathematically eliminated from the pennant race.

Remember big Walter Bond, whose slugging was the sensational news from the Indians back in March?

Manager Jimmy Dykes used him in center field Tuesday night and he hit a single and scored a run. He came up from Vancouver in the Pacific Coast League where he batted .321 and hit 12 home runs.

Bond will switch to right field tonight for the final 1960 meeting with Boston, Dykes said. The Indian pilot expects to use Ty Cline, a Clemson University bonus baby, in center. Cline, 21, signed in June and was sent to Mobile, batting .314 there.

Harvey Kuenn, the Indians' leading hitter at .308 and regular right fielder, will be out the rest of the season.

X-rays Tuesday disclosed that when Kuenn fouled a tip off his left foot in batting practice in New York three weeks ago he received a hair-line fracture that didn't show up in the first X-rays taken.

He played in 13 straight games with the sore foot, but the pain got too much for him in Sunday's doubleheader with the Yankees.

The 5,855 fans who braved Tuesday night's rains and sub-60 temperatures saw Boston's great slugger Ted Williams, honored in pregame ceremonies. Ted got a gold watch from the Indians.

But when the game got going after an hour and five minutes delay because of showers, Williams appeared only as a pinch hitter. He drew bases-loaded walk in the fourth inning and gave way to a pinch runner.

That walk was the third one Dick Stigman gave that inning when he also yielded singles to Willie Basby, Lou Clinton and Pete Runnels. All of Boston's runs came in the rally, which brought Don Newcombe in as a reliever. Newcombe scattered five hits in the remaining 5 1-3 innings and got credit for the victory, his second against three losses.

A walk, Bond's single, and a single by Vic Power scored the first of four runs the Indians made in the second inning off Tom Brewer. John Romano's double, a single by Stigman and a ground out drove in the other three. Mike de la Hoz singled home the Tribe's final run in the third after two walks.

Against the Indians, Williams had a walk in the fourth inning which sent a run across the plate. The Indians won, 5-3. (UPI Telephoto)

Farrah Has 10 Lettermen At Leetonia; Awaits Salem

LEETONIA — Coach Ike Farrah found 10 lettermen waiting when he arrived here to take over as head football coach, replacing Pat Mancusco.

The 1960 opener for the Leetonia Bears is only two days away and is probably the toughest game of the campaign.

Leetonia will face Salem Friday night at the Quakers' field.

One quarterback, three halfbacks and a fullback are among the letter winners at Leetonia.

The Bears lost nine regulars from last season and two others who would have been regulars moved to other cities.

Paul Conrad is the leading candidate for the quarterback spot, but is only a sophomore and may lack the overall experience.

Bob Gullett is expected to be the big gun in the Leetonia backfield. The 155-pound co-captain was one of the team's leading ground gainers last season.

Two other lettermen returning at halfback are Guy Falzetta (150) and Rich Troy (150).

The only letterman at fullback is Joe Gallo, a 185-pound junior.

Looking over his forward wall, Farrah will have to come up with a replacement at tackle. The lone veteran is George King, who scales close to the 200-pound mark.

The guard spots are pretty well set between Joe Sevenich (180), senior co-captain and Jim Less, a 160-pound junior.

A senior letterman expected to handle the duties at center is Jim Stelts.

Eric Painter is the leading candidate for one of the end positions. He is a 150-pound junior.

Farrah, who was assistant coach at Barberton last season, said his team will average between 170 and 175 on the line.

Following the Salem game Friday night, the Bears open Tri-County action against Louisville Sept. 23 at Leetonia.

The 1960 schedule follows:

Sept. 16 Salem, away
Sept. 23 Louisville, home
Sept. 30 East Palestine, away
Oct. 7 Minerva, away
Oct. 14 Columbiana, away
Oct. 21 Poland, home
Oct. 28 Lisbon, away
Nov. 4 Sebring, home
Nov. 11 Wellsville, home

Hank And Smith In Chicago Bout Tonight On TV

CHICAGO (AP) — Henry Hank and Jesse Smith, a pair of hard hitting middleweights, meet in a 10-round Chicago Stadium bout Wednesday night.

Hank, ranked third, rules a solid favorite over the unranked Smith.

A puncher from Detroit, Hank has tried unsuccessfuly to lure one of the middleweight champions into the ring. Neither Paul Pender nor Gene Fullmer have accepted Hank's challenge.

Fullmer holds the National Boxing Association championship, while Pender is the recognized titlist in Massachusetts and New York.

Last month, Hank stopped Rudy Ellis in one round in the Chicago Stadium, giving him a total of 33 knockouts in his 45 victories. He has suffered 11 defeats.

Smith, formerly of Philadelphia, has 29 victories including 21 knockouts. Smith has five losses and three draws.

The fight will be scored on the five-point must system and will be televised nationally (10 p.m. EDT-ABC).

Marine Will Challenge Young Nicklaus Today

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A Marine private today places his 200 pounds in the path of Jack Nicklaus and dares him to come charging through in the National Amateur Golf Tournament.

Among 32 matches in the third round, the most interesting should be defending champion Nicklaus' man-to-man combat with Phil Rodgers, 22, now a Marine stationed at San Diego.

"They've got too many good players in this field to worry about just one guy—even if he is Nicklaus," said Rodgers, whose golfing credentials include being quarter-finalist in the 1957 National Amateur, 1958 NCAA champion while at Houston, and medalist and semifinalist of the 1960 Western Amateur.

Nicklaus, 20, an Ohio State pharmacy student, took the exacting, 6,616-yard St. Louis Country Club course apart in Tuesday's second round. He was five under par, snaking in putts of 12 and 18 feet along the way, in romping over Ken Finke, 19, of Tucson, Ariz., 4 and 3.

The burst of par-busting, best in the tourney thus far, brought a lot of observers rushing to Nicklaus' corner. He had 12 one-putt greens in 33 holes.

Rodgers was two over par, despite his traying drives, in defeating George Hixon, 19, two-time Oklahoma high school champion, 3 and 1.

New Faces Will Appear In Cleveland's Lineup

CLEVELAND (AP) — Not that there was any lack of them during the previous part of the season, but some new faces will be cropping up in the Cleveland Indians' lineup during the remaining 15 games.

The Indians beat Boston 5-3 Tuesday night, and the New York Yankees lost. The other way around, and the Tribe would have been mathematically eliminated from the pennant race.

Remember big Walter Bond, whose slugging was the sensational news from the Indians back in March?

Manager Jimmy Dykes used him in center field Tuesday night and he hit a single and scored a run. He came up from Vancouver in the Pacific Coast League where he batted .321 and hit 12 home runs.

Bond will switch to right field tonight for the final 1960 meeting with Boston, Dykes said. The Indian pilot expects to use Ty Cline, a Clemson University bonus baby, in center. Cline, 21, signed in June and was sent to Mobile, batting .314 there.

Harvey Kuenn, the Indians' leading hitter at .308 and regular right fielder, will be out the rest of the season.

X-rays Tuesday disclosed that when Kuenn fouled a tip off his left foot in batting practice in New York three weeks ago he received a hair-line fracture that didn't show up in the first X-rays taken.

He played in 13 straight games with the sore foot, but the pain got too much for him in Sunday's doubleheader with the Yankees.

The 5,855 fans who braved Tuesday night's rains and sub-60 temperatures saw Boston's great slugger Ted Williams, honored in pregame ceremonies. Ted got a gold watch from the Indians.

But when the game got going after an hour and five minutes delay because of showers, Williams appeared only as a pinch hitter. He drew bases-loaded walk in the fourth inning and gave way to a pinch runner.

That walk was the third one Dick Stigman gave that inning when he also yielded singles to Willie Basby, Lou Clinton and Pete Runnels. All of Boston's runs came in the rally, which brought Don Newcombe in as a reliever. Newcombe scattered five hits in the remaining 5 1-3 innings and got credit for the victory, his second against three losses.

A walk, Bond's single, and a single by Vic Power scored the first of four runs the Indians made in the second inning off Tom Brewer. John Romano's double, a single by Stigman and a ground out drove in the other three. Mike de la Hoz singled home the Tribe's final run in the third after two walks.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

The hunting season opened Monday, with the pressure typical of opening day.

Before the squirrel season ends it will be about as hard to locate a hunter as it is a squirrel.

Many hunters not seeing hair nor hide of a bushy tail will hang up their guns and wait for the rabbit and pheasant season when the prospects will be better.

No doubt game protectors will receive the usual amount of complaints about tresspassers. The landowner will file complaints. One of the most common charges against hunters probably will be shooting too close or among the dairy herd.

Hunters will do well to stop and think before entering any wooded area without consulting the farmer.

BEFORE hunters are classified as a bunch of armed hoodlums, it will be well to get the facts. I am sure more complaints are received by game protectors in this area about nusiance beavers than nusiance hunters.

The broad use of the words "hunting accidents" is a charge against hunters, when many times the actual tragedy did not occur while hunting. I think hunting applies to the actual pursuit of game.

These so-called hunting accidents are merely the misuse of a firearm. Unfortunately, these "accidents" happen to lead the field in the under 21 age groups.

The Salem Hunting Club is one organization that has carried on a "hunter safety" program for the past several years.

This has been done by conservation-minded adults who see the need to instruct youngsters in the safe handling of firearms.

It must give the instructors a great deal of satisfaction to know that not one casualty or accident has occurred among the boys who completed the hunter safety course.

TEACHING hunter safety has some expenses connected with it in the way of ammunition, shoulder patches and the purchase of the necessary guns.

This being true, I would like to remind the parents of the youngsters that it would help a good cause if you slipped the club a "fin" or a "sawbuck" in appreciation of their efforts so they can continue to carry on the good work in the safe handling of firearms. Your son's life is certainly worth more than a buck or two.

Other sportsmen clubs will do well to realize that under the name of sportsmanship they should accept the responsibility of teaching the future hunters in their communities the importance of handling firearms in a safe manner.

Buying or raising game for release might attract hunting interest and increase the membership. And in too many instances this is the long end of club activities. In my opinion, "human conservation" should take top priority over all the fish and game that the lands will support.

Archie Moore Gains TKO In Dallas Fight

DALLAS (AP) —Archie Moore, the world's light heavyweight champion, put away heavyweight George Abinet of Dallas in three rounds Tuesday night then said he wasn't dodging a title fight as the NBA alleges — he just wants $200,000.

Archie, trimmed down to 193 and admitting he was 46 years old but professing no worry about it, floored Abinet twice in the third round. The latter, a Dallas deputy sheriff who was making a comeback after being out of boxing for two years, didn't come out for the fourth round when he found he had a broken nose. So the fight went into the records as a technical knockout in the fourth.

Moore said he knew he was overdue at defending his championship but it was up to the NBA to get him the amount of money he wanted. "My price is rising — a sort of cost of living increase," he added. "I got three kids now, you know."

"They want me to fight Harold Johnson," Moore explained. "But nobody will put up the money. I've fought Johnson before and he's a good boy but I'm not afraid of him."

Archie agreed to return to Dallas Nov. 21 to fight Buddy Turman, who issued a challenge before the bout with Abinet. But he said the fight he really wanted was Eric Schoppner, the light heavyweight, in Berlin, Germany. "It would be for the benefit of a lot of abandoned kids," said Moore.

His next fight will be against Roy Shire at Indianapolis Oct. 1.

Gym Floor At YMCA Closed This Week

The gym floor at the YMCA will be closed the remainder of this week for painting, Carl A. Werner, general secretary, announced. All classes will resume again next week.

Left $2.6 Million

CINCINNATI (AP)—Reuben B. Robertson Jr., Hamilton paper maker and onetime deputy secretary of defense, left an estate worth $2,666,643 under an inventory filed Tuesday in Probate Court. Robertson, 51, president of Champion Paper & Fibre Co., was killed in a traffic crash March 13. Aside from personal effects, his will earmarks his resources for a trust fund set up in 1946.

Law Eyes 20th Win Tonight

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Vernon Law will go after his 20th victory of the season tonight as Pittsburgh opens a two-game series against Los Angeles at Forbes Field.

The Pirate ace failed in his last two appearances to nail down the victory that would give him the first 20-win record of his career. He has seven defeats.

The Dodgers will call on Stan Williams 13-8.

Pittsburgh's National League lead was cut to six and a half games Tuesday night as they dropped a 6-3 decision to San Francisco while second-place St. Louis beat Milwaukee.

The Pirates go into tonight's game with a "magic number" of 11. That is, any combination of Pirate victories and defeats by the second-place club totaling 11 will give Pittsburgh the National League pennant.

San Francisco took a 1-0 lead Tuesday night in the second. Pittsburgh tied it up in the bottom of the second when Don Hoak walked and was pushed home on singles by Dick Schofield and Bob Skinner.

The Giants added three more runs in the sixth.

In the seventh, Gino Cimoli singled and Roberto Clemente socked his 15th home run of the year making it 4-3 San Francisco. That ended Pittsburgh's scoring.

San Francisco put the game on ice in the ninth with two more runs.

Southpaw Mike McCormick went the distance for the Giants and picked up his 13th victory. He struck out 13.

Wilmer Vinegar Bend Mizell started for Pittsburgh and suffered the loss, his eighth against 11 victories.

Mizell pitched six innings and gave up four runs. He was followed to the mound by Clem Labine and Roy Face. Face gave up the two runs in the ninth.

Poet To Be Honored

WASHINGTON (AP) — Poet Robert Frost, 86, will receive a special gold medal under a congressional law signed Tuesday by President Eisenhower.

Bluth, Weber Win Doubles

CHICAGO (AP) — Ray Bluth and Dick Weber of St. Louis, who set a qualifying record for 48 games, Tuesday night, won the National Men's Doubles Bowling Tournament.

Bluth and Weber, winners of the title in 1956, earned $2,000 first place money and a trophy.

Their 10,234 pins knocked down in two days of qualifying that narrowed the field of 168 teams down to eight for the finals put them in sharp contention for the title.

Under the Petersen point system, used by the sponsoring Bowling Proprietors' Association of America, Bluth and Weber tallied 158.18 points.

Second place winners were Billy Welu and Harry Smith, also of St. Louis. They earned $1,500 on their 154.74 point total.

Carmen Salvino and Bill Bunetta of Chicago took third money of $1,300. They had 151.22 points.

Under the Petersen scoring system, a team earns one point for each game won and one point for pins knocked down.

Bluth won the high game honor in the finals with a 288.

Bonham, Purdue Basketball Star, Reported Missing

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Basketball star Ron Bonham of Muncie disappeared from the Purdue University campus today, and friends at Muncie said he was headed back to the University of Cincinnati.

Bonham, who last spring accepted a scholarship at Cincinnati, had enrolled as a freshman at Purdue without scholarship and had paid his fees.

Purdue officials confirmed that the All-Indiana ace's clothing and personal belongings were missing from his dormitory room but were hopeful he would return for the start of classes Wednesday.

At Muncie, the athlete's mother, Mrs. Russell Bonham, said her son was unhappy over Purdue rules that he could not keep his car on the campus and must take ROTC.

Mrs. Bonham said her son wants to play professional basketball and felt he would have a better chance as a Cincinnati graduate.

Browns' Roster Cut Down To 40

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns were down to 40 players today—20 who played with the club last year, 13 rookies and seven acquired from other clubs. Two more must be cut by Tuesday midnight.

The axe fell Tuesday on Willie McClung, regular defensive tackle for most of the last two seasons, and Bill Priatko, a linebacker who played at University of Pittsburgh and was making his second try for the Browns' roster.

McClung, 30, acquired in a trade with the Pittsburgh Steelers before the 1958 season, had age against him. He was in competition with Larry Stephens of Texas, who will be 22 later this month, and Idaho's Jim Prestel, 23.

"Everything else being pretty even, we decided to go along with the younger men," Coach Paul Brown said. "Stephens in particular has come along well. He's about ready to push our regular tackles."

Kowalczyk Says He Won't Go To Dallas

DETROIT (AP)—It looks as if Walt Kowalczyk will play his football this year in Dallas—or not at all.

The former Michigan State back, acquired by the Detroit Lions earlier this year and then sent to the Dallas Cowboys last week, says he will not report to the Texas club. The Lions put several players on an unprotected list and Dallas claimed the stocky fullback.

Kowalczyk said he is tired of moving around.

"I have a wife and two children," he said. "The owners can move players around like cattle and I think I've moved enough for one year."

Kowalczyk got the National Football League Players' Association to support him, and appealed to Commissioner Pete Rozelle as a hardship case. He told the commissioner he was in the process of purchasing a home and had a job in Detroit.

"If this is to be construed as a hardship case," Rozelle said," then there would be no way of justifying any waiver claim or trade."

Archie Moore Gains TKO In Dallas Fight

DALLAS (AP) —Archie Moore, the world's light heavyweight champion, put away heavyweight George Abinet of Dallas in three rounds Tuesday night then said he wasn't dodging a title fight as the NBA alleges — he just wants $200,000.

Archie, trimmed down to 193 and admitting he was 46 years old but professing no worry about it, floored Abinet twice in the third round. The latter, a Dallas deputy sheriff who was making a comeback after being out of boxing for two years, didn't come out for the fourth round when he found he had a broken nose. So the fight went into the records as a technical knockout in the fourth.

Moore said he knew he was overdue at defending his championship but it was up to the NBA to get him the amount of money he wanted. "My price is rising — a sort of cost of living increase," he added. "I got three kids now, you know."

"They want me to fight Harold Johnson," Moore explained. "But nobody will put up the money. I've fought Johnson before and he's a good boy but I'm not afraid of him."

Archie agreed to return to Dallas Nov. 21 to fight Buddy Turman, who issued a challenge before the bout with Abinet. But he said the fight he really wanted was Eric Schoppner, the light heavyweight, in Berlin, Germany. "It would be for the benefit of a lot of abandoned kids," said Moore.

His next fight will be against Roy Shire at Indianapolis Oct. 1.

Bluth, Weber Win Doubles

CHICAGO (AP) — Ray Bluth and Dick Weber of St. Louis, who set a qualifying record for 48 games, Tuesday night, won the National Men's Doubles Bowling Tournament.

Bluth and Weber, winners of the title in 1956, earned $2,000 first place money and a trophy.

Their 10,234 pins knocked down in two days of qualifying that narrowed the field of 168 teams down to eight for the finals put them in sharp contention for the title.

Under the Petersen point system, used by the sponsoring Bowling Proprietors' Association of America, Bluth and Weber tallied 158.18 points.

Second place winners were Billy Welu and Harry Smith, also of St. Louis. They earned $1,500 on their 154.74 point total.

Carmen Salvino and Bill Bunetta of Chicago took third money of $1,300. They had 151.22 points.

Under the Petersen scoring system, a team earns one point for each game won and one point for pins knocked down.

Bluth won the high game honor in the finals with a 288.

Browns' Roster Cut Down To 40

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns were down to 40 players today—20 who played with the club last year, 13 rookies and seven acquired from other clubs. Two more must be cut by Tuesday midnight.

The axe fell Tuesday on Willie McClung, regular defensive tackle for most of the last two seasons, and Bill Priatko, a linebacker who played at University of Pittsburgh and was making his second try for the Browns' roster.

McClung, 30, acquired in a trade with the Pittsburgh Steelers before the 1958 season, had age against him. He was in competition with Larry Stephens of Texas, who will be 22 later this month, and Idaho's Jim Prestel, 23.

"Everything else being pretty even, we decided to go along with the younger men," Coach Paul Brown said. "Stephens in particular has come along well. He's about ready to push our regular tackles."

Kowalczyk Says He Won't Go To Dallas

DETROIT (AP)—It looks as if Walt Kowalczyk will play his football this year in Dallas—or not at all.

The former Michigan State back, acquired by the Detroit Lions earlier this year and then sent to the Dallas Cowboys last week, says he will not report to the Texas club. The Lions put several players on an unprotected list and Dallas claimed the stocky fullback.

Kowalczyk said he is tired of moving around.

"I have a wife and two children," he said. "The owners can move players around like cattle and I think I've moved enough for one year."

Kowalczyk got the National Football League Players' Association to support him, and appealed to Commissioner Pete Rozelle as a hardship case. He told the commissioner he was in the process of purchasing a home and had a job in Detroit.

"If this is to be construed as a hardship case," Rozelle said," then there would be no way of justifying any waiver claim or trade."

Orchardists To Fight Mice

LISBON — Early application of poison bait against mice in orchards has been urged for Columbiana County orchardists, according to Floyd Lower, county farm agent, said plans for combatting the pest were made at a recent meeting in Lisbon.

Fruit growers may contact Lower at the county extension service office or Joe Papania of New Waterford R. D. 1.

Orchards in the Eastern United States are the targets. Damage in past years has amounted to millions of dollars. Mice chew, gnaw and nibble their way around the trees on the base and roots, causing a slow death to the nation's apple crop, according to Lower.

H. A. Merrill, assistant chief of the branch of predator and rodent control at Washington; regional supervisors and mouse control specialists of the Bureau of fisheries and wildlife from the eastern half of the country were present. Paul Ochs of Lancaster and Papania, animal control agents co-operatively employed by the Ohio Department of Agriculture and the Bureau of Fisheries and Wildlife, represented the state at the session.

The No. 1 weapon will be zinc phosphide - treated grain or apple bait. Mechanical equipment can be used, but hand broadcasting in selected cover along the tree row is the preferred method for this area. The pungent odor and dark color repels other animals but attracts mice and causes death within hours. Early application was urged and in no case should treatment be delayed beyond the middle of November. Mouse populations appear to be high this fall and the battle with these pests should be given high priority, the group was told.

After the conference, a tour was conducted at the Ralph Papania & Sons orchard, New Waterford. Several orchard blocks were visited, each under a different type of cultivation. A comparision was made to determine the effects of cultural practices as a method to help control the mouse problem.

Death Pensions Of Vets Clarified

Death pension is payable only to eligible widows and children of wartime veterans and those of the Korean Conflict period, who have died of non-service-connected causes; that is, causes not related to their service, A. G. Bille, VA contact officer, pointed out.

The veteran must have had 90 days service, unless discharged sooner for service-connected disability; or he must have been receiving or was entitled to receive compensation or retirement pay for a service-connected disability incurred during the war, and was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable.

The widow, to be eligible, must have lived continuously with the veteran from the time of marriage until the veteran's death, except where there was a separation due to the misconduct of, or procured by, the veteran without fault on the wife's part. A widow may be eligible for pension if a child was born of the marriage; or should no child have been born, then if the marriage existed for at least five years. A widow with no child will not receive a pension if her annual income is over $1,800. A widow with a child or children will not receive a pension if the annual income is over $3,000. Where there is no widow or the widow is ineligible, the minor child or children will not receive a pension if the annual income, including earned income, exceeds $1,800. The $1,800 income limit applies to each child separately. Bille is contact representative - in - charge, Veterans Administration, 227 N. 5th St., Steubenville.

City Ordinance Forbids Auto Repairs On Street

Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi reminded today that city ordinances forbid use of streets for repairing autos or dismantling old vehicles.

Emergency repair of an auto is allowed, but Section 599-1 of the city code says that otherwise it is unlawful "to use the streets or alleys for the purpose of repairing or stripping a motor vehicle," the chief pointed out.

Radeschi said he issued the reminder principally because the department has received calls of noisy repair work being done on the streets as late as 10 or 11 p. m. Persons who filed the complaints said their sleep was disturbed by the noisy work, the chief added. The complaints came from the Woodlawn Ave.and Monroe St. areas, Radeschi said.

A weekly newspaper published at Linn, Missouri, is called The Unterrified Democrat. It got its name in Civil War days when the editor said that despite threats, the paper would remain Democratic and "unterrified."

CPA Telethon Totals $32,500 In Proceeds

The Rev. George Cranshaw, treasurer for the United Cerebral Palsy Association for Steubenville, Weirton and vicinity, said Sunday's telethon over WSTV produced a total of $32,500 in cash and pledges.

Final results will be announced after receipt of pledged contributions and accurate tabulations by cashiers assigned to receiving donations at the Union Savings Bank in Steubenville. Red Donley, general chairman, said pledged donations should be taken or mailed to the bank as soon as possible. Checks may be made out to "Palsy."

The Columbiana County affiliate of the CPA participated in the fund-raising event.

$500,000 Fire Destroys Grill In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — A small blaze in the basement of the plush Theatrical Grill got out of hand Tuesday night and turned into one of the most spectacular fires seen in downtown Cleveland in some time.

No one was injured, but damage was estimated at a half million dollars.

Flames shot several stories above the three-story brick building, which owner Morris (Mushie) Wexler said was remodeled just two years ago at a cost of $250,000. Dense clouds of smoke hovered over the area as the fire burned out of control for more than four hours.

As a precautionary measure, the Hotel Hollenden, adjacent to the restaurant and bar, was evacuated. Some 200 persons, including those in public rooms, gathered in the lobby of the 12-story hotel.

Asst. Fire Chief Frank J. Cooney said firemen were hampered by certain features of the building. Firemen trying to smash through second and third-floor windows to get at the blaze found the windows backed by brick. The windows had been sealed when air conditioning was installed.

Wexler estimated his loss at more than $500,000. He said this included $80,000 worth of liquor, of which $5,000 worth was delivered shortly before the fire broke out.

Cause of the blaze, which started in the waiters' locker room in the basement, was not determined.

Rush hour traffic was snarled in the area.

Other cafes and restaurants on Short Vincent, where Theatrical Grill is located and a center for Cleveland night life, were closed.

Some 200 firemen from 23 companies fought the five-alarm blaze.

Ten men and some equipment were called from the scene to battle a $31,000 fire at 2925 E. 55th St. Asst. Chief William E. Barry, who estimated damage, said the fire started in a woodworking area on the two-story brick building housing A.E.S., Inc., dealers in high-fidelity equipment.

College Will Hold Orientation Days

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio — A week-long orientation program for freshmen, designed to acquaint new students with The College of Steubenville, the city and the faculty and administration under which they will be studying, will begin Thursday.

Classes will not begin until next Tuesday.

On Thursday, all freshmen will meet in the ballroom of the Ft. Steuben Hotel at 9 a. m., where they will meet faculty advisers and members of the administration. This will be followed by registration in the ballroom.

Students will have a free afternoon, during which they may pay their fees and purchase their books and supplies for the coming year.

Friday morning freshmen will gather at the Elks Club ballroom for a full day of testing. The morning session will last from 9 until 12. The afternoon session will start at 1 and lasts until 3.

All freshmen men and new students then will be guests of the inter-fraternity council at the Alpha House, for an informal smoker and get-together. Women students will be guests of the Council of Women's Organizations at the Weir House.

On Sunday evening the Student Council will be host at a wiener roast and tour of the new campus site on College Heights.

Monday evening at 8, the President's Reception will be held at the Elks Club ballroom.

Chief Asks Check On Heating Appliances For Winter Use

"Normal precautions and common sense will prevent almost all home accidents involving heating appliances," Chief Charles Bryan said today in suggesting that now is the time to check heating appliances before cold weather.

Furnaces, water heaters, incinerators and room heaters should be checked for adequate ventilation, proper adjustment and safe connections, the chief pointed out.

For any heating appliance to operate safely and at full capacity, it must have ventilation. Burning any fuel without a good fresh air supply can produce carbon monoxide, he warned.

Vents which carry away the products of combustion also should be checked regularly, he said.

He outlined nine rules householders should follow to insure the best and safest use of equipment. They include:

Make sure the heater is vented to a good chimney.

See that the vent pipe goes up, not down, to reach the chimney.

See that there is a cleanout opening with cap in the chimney under the stove pipe.

Make sure the chimney is clean. One method is to blow smoke in the clean-out opening to make sure it is drawing properly. If the smoke is drawn into the opening and up the chimney, there is sufficient draft.

Use a safety thimble to keep the pipe from going too far into the chimney. Seal around the pipe with cement or plaster where it enters the chimney.

Make sure there is outside fresh air to the space where the heater is located.

Have a qualified installer connect and adjust your heater.

Don't use a cook stove for room heating.

Call an authorized repairman if you suspect the equipment is not working properly, or if you smell fumes.

"It may cost a few dollars, but it might save your life," Chief Bryan concluded.

Polling Place Sought In East End Precinct

The County Election Board is seeking a new location for the polling place for Precinct B of the First Ward for use at the Nov. 8 general election, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said today.

The polling place for the East End precinct formerly was located in a St. George St. home which no longer is available, O'Hanlon explained. The board is seeking to rent another location, not necessarily on St. George St. but preferably in the immediate area, he said.

Chester Colt Mothers Hear Coach Of Juniors

Robert Blake, Chester Colt junior high school football coach, spoke on teamwork and health habits at a meeting of the Colt Football Mothers Tuesday night at the high school.

Mrs. Roy Cashdollar announced the group's cookbook project will be completed next week. Plans were made to purchase equipment such as shoes and first aid kits for the team.

Mrs. Alvin Clutter and Mrs. Harold Ash were named co-chairmen of a rummage sale to be held Oct. 4-6. Mrs. Robert Hindes, president, was in charge. About 15 attended.

The next meeting will be Oct. 11.

Men's Room Chosen To Cast Secret Ballots

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Haroliese Brown was conducting a union election for the National Labor Relations Board. The law required the truck drivers be allowed to cast their ballots in secret.

Miss Brown searched the building for a room to meet the secrecy requirements. She selected the only such place she could find—the men's room.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Weight Jumps With Higher Education

by Ida Jean Kain

"I have been using your calorie chart and have lost 7 pounds. I have learned how to cut out high calorie foods and how to leave the table feeling just comfortable instead of overly stuffed.

"I must admit it took nearly two months of practice to accomplish this. By exercising I've made my muscles firm. I like to feel the right weight...the test is how my clothes fit. I am 5 feet 3½ tall, weight 123 pounds and measure 36, 24, 37. I'd like to stay this way but with college life it's very difficult.

"WHEN I WAS a freshman, the pounds piled on fast. This was the case with most of my friends. All the girls, including me, were wearing very tight skirts, not from preference but because of a sudden increase in weight. My roommate gained 26 pounds during her first two years, and added three inches to her hips! She's dieting now but having a tough time.

"The trouble is we are not active...we're in classes and labs nearly all day, and study all evening. We eat our meals in a cafeteria which makes it hard to diet. We spend our after-class and evening study-breaks at the candy and soda pop store.

"I realize this is bad practice. Believe me, many of us have tried to break it many times. I hope you can help me and other college students who are faced with the problem of poundage."

Co-eds, tune in. The best way to control appetite is to eat three moderate meals a day. The amount of food it takes to satisfy is largely a matter of habit. Don't booby-trap yourself by going beyond nature's satiety signal.

Why trade the delight of feeling slim and svelte for five or ten minutes of continued eating? If you eat in a cafeteria, choose a good meal and skip the dessert the first round. At the finish of the meal, if you're still hungry, take a dessert and divide it with a classmate.

Ask the manager of the soda pop store to stock up on assorted non-nutritive soft drinks. Cooperate by ordering that kind . . . no calories. Arrange with some store to install a penny-weighing machine . . . save those weekly weight tickets.

TO KEEP streamlined, take an exercise break halfway through your evening study period. Ups-a-daisy on your shoulders, swing legs back beyond head and pedal, touching alternate toes to floor. Pull toes toward instep to stretch calf muscles, keeping knees straight.

Then get into a sprinter's position, set to go, hands on floor, one knee bent, other leg stretched back. With a vigorous jump, reverse position of legs.

Repeat 6 times, later 12, still later 20. Get into the beautiful habit of taking a 15-minute exercise break every evening...then back to the books.

Note to freshmen...ask your mothers not to send food from home!

Send a long self-addressed, stamped envelope for "Slim Hips In A Hurry" and "Revised Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Pied Piper Of Bees

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — A swarm of bees took up residence on the rear bumper of a new convertible owned by J. C. Curtis. Among the curious persons who dropped by was Judson Goad, who keeps bees. He went for a beehive and raked the swarm off the bumper. At first the bees buzzed furiously, but when the queen entered the hive all the others followed into the permanent home.

Stoneage Camp Survey Reported

A report on a survey of a stoneage camp site along the Ohio River in Hancock County was given by Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Cline at a meeting of the Aboriginal Explorers Club Monday night at the Cline home at Hillcrest, Wellsville.

The area has been sold as an industrial site and the camp will be covered. Mr. and Mrs. Cline reported finding stone implements and projectiles.

Cline also screened slides of his vacation in Michigan where he visited historical sites and archaeological collections.

Slides of the historic line marker at the Ohio-Pennsylvania State line on Harvey Ave. also were screened.

Slides also were shown of Indian burial sites found near a highway construction project at Williamsport. They were provided by Richard S. Thompson, secretary.

Jim Monte displayed bone awls, pottery shards and flint arrowheads excavated from beneath a rock shelter. Harry R. Cline, Jim Woodrow and Ray Simon conducted a discussion on archaeological interests. Archaic peoples of the Ohio Valley also were discussed. These Indians lived near shoals in the river and fed on mussels.

It Was Stately Prank

DES MOINES (AP) — "For sale" signs appeared on the lawn of a stately residence here, but state officials said it was only a prank. The Governor's Mansion, they said, is definitely not for sale.

Bringing Up A Family

Home Fun Helps Child With Reading

No matter what method of teaching reading is used in your school, you can help your child in the early grades to have fun at learning simple sounds in words. First practice him on beginning sounds of letters, which practically always are consonants. Dwell on the vowel sounds later.

Garry C. Meyers

Have your child see together a number of words beginning with the same letter and sound, like book, boat, bear. You might draw a picture or have him cut out and put it above the word it says. You could have him paste such a group of pictures, cut from old magazines, with the right word printed under each picture.

Using such beginning letters as t or g, there could be a group beginning with the soft sound and a group with the hard sound.

AFTER HE HAD practiced with initial consonant letters and sounds, you could have him learn letter combinations, like pl, tr, st—plane, plow, plate; train, trap, track; stove, stone, stilts. Soon your child could have a whole scrapbook full of groups of pictured words.

Then you could have him do likewise with words which have the same endings — sock, rock, lock. Moreover, he will like to see and hear how words rhyme—mat, cat, hat; and have fun naming as many words as he can which rhyme with a word you name.

When you practice him on the vowel sounds, dwell at first only on the long and short sounds, like cub—cube; mar—mare; pin—pine; or pairs like net—eel; nut—mule; cap—cape.

Having helped him to get sounds of letters in one-syllable words, help him next to see that longer words may have two or more syllables.

FIRST PRACTICE him on words of two syllables, each of which is a familiar word, like dishpan, earthworm, sawmill. He will like to name more of such words.

As you say aloud some words of two or more syllables, have him tap as you say each syllable, or as he himself says the names of pictured things he sees before him — horseshoe, camel, grasshopper, elephant, hippopotamus.

Of course he will observe soon that some letters in words don't always sound as they look—spinach, envy, women. It's better not to dwell long on such words, but use the time on words which do sound as they are spelled. Once he gets the hang of sounding them out, he can pretty easily learn to take care of other words.

NOTICE OF ELECTION ON TAX LEVY IN EXCESS OF THE TEN MILL LIMITATION

Rev. Code, Secs. 345.03; 3501.11(G); 5705.191, 5705.25

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of a Resolution of the Council of the City of East Liverpool, Columbiana County, Ohio, passed on the 15th day of August, 1960, there will be submitted to a vote of the people of said City of East Liverpool at a General Election to be held in the City of East Liverpool, Columbiana County, Ohio, at the regular places of voting therein, on Tuesday, the 8th day of November, 1960, the question of levying a tax, in excess of the ten mill limitation, for the benefit of the City of East Liverpool, for the purpose of providing an adequate amount for current expenses, to-wit: providing funds to supplement General Funds appropriation for the collection and disposal of public garbage and trash and expenses incident thereto.

Said tax being: A renewal of an existing tax of two (2) mills to run for five years at a rate not exceeding two (2) mills for each one dollar of valuation, which amounts to Twenty cents ($0.20) for each one hundred dollars of valuation, for five (5) years, being the tax years 1960, 1961, 1962, 1963 and 1964, including a levy upon the tax duplicate of the current year.

The Polls for said Election will be open at 6:30 o'clock A. M. and remain open until 6:30 o'clock P. M. Eastern Standard Time of said day.

By order of the Board of Elections, of Columbiana County, Ohio.
C. L. Stacey, Chairman
Frank R. O'Hanlon, Clerk
Dated August 17, 1960.
E. L. Review Aug. 24, 31, Sept. 7, 14, 1960.

LEGAL NOTICE

LETTIE HARTENBACH, the Defendant in the above entitled action, whose last known place of residence was 2019 Ohio Avenue, East Liverpool, Ohio, will take notice that on the 19th day of August, 1960, the Plaintiff, Hosmer M. Hartenbach, filed his petition in the Court of Common Pleas, Columbiana County, Ohio, and being Case Number 46364, praying for a divorce from the Defendant, Lettie Hartenbach, on the grounds of Extreme Cruelty and Wilfull Absence for over one year and said Cause will be for hearing on or after the 12th day of October, 1960.
PAUL TOBIN,
Attorney for the Plaintiff.

NOTICE OF ELECTION ON TAX LEVY IN EXCESS OF THE TEN MILL LIMITATION

Rev. Code, Secs. 345.03; 3501.11(G); 5705.191, 5705.25

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of a Resolution of the Council of the City of East Liverpool, Columbiana County, Ohio, passed on the 15th day of August, 1960, there will be submitted to a vote of the people of said City of East Liverpool at a General Election to be held in the City of East Liverpool, Columbiana County, Ohio, at the regular places of voting therein, on Tuesday, the 8th day of November, 1960, the question of levying a tax, in excess of the ten mill limitation, for the benefit of the City of East Liverpool, for the purpose of providing an adequate amount for current expenses, to-wit: providing funds to supplement General Funds appropriation for the collection and disposal of public garbage and trash and expenses incident thereto.

Said tax being: A renewal of an existing tax of two (2) mills to run for five years at a rate not exceeding two (2) mills for each one dollar of valuation, which amounts to Twenty cents ($0.20) for each one hundred dollars of valuation, for five (5) years, being the tax years 1960, 1961, 1962, 1963 and 1964, including a levy upon the tax duplicate of the current year.

The Polls for said Election will be open at 6:30 o'clock A. M. and remain open until 6:30 o'clock P. M. Eastern Standard Time of said day.

By order of the Board of Elections, of Columbiana County, Ohio.

C. L. Stacey, Chairman
Frank R. O'Hanlon, Clerk

Dated August 17, 1960.
E. L. Review Aug. 24, 31, Sept. 7, 14, 1960.

LEGAL NOTICE

LETTIE HARTENBACH, the Defendant in the above entitled action, whose last known place of residence was 2019 Ohio Avenue, East Liverpool, Ohio, will take notice that on the 19th day of August, 1960, the Plaintiff, Hosmer M. Hartenbach, filed his petition in the Court of Common Pleas, Columbiana County, Ohio, and being Case Number 46364, praying for a divorce from the Defendant, Lettie Hartenbach, on the grounds of Extreme Cruelty and Wilfull Absence for over one year and said Cause will be for hearing on or after the 12th day of October, 1960.

PAUL TOBIN,
Attorney for the Plaintiff.

Holliday St. is in East End, and one of the best locations you could ask for, if you want a good level lot, a very nice neighborhood, a 1 story home, double detached garage, basement, and a good economical coal furnace. The home is well taken care of, and we feel sure that you will agree that the price of $9000.00 is a very fair market price.

264 W. 9th St.—For a 3 bedroom, 2 story home in a very convenient location close to town, you'll never find a better buy than this completely remodeled home with a new gas furnace, full basement, 3 bedrooms, and it can be yours for $5800.00

$1000.00 CASH, and the assumption of a Direct GI Loan WILL BUY this COMPLETELY REMODELED, 2 story home at the foot of LINCOLN AVE. where you are only a block from the center of town. There are 3 bedrooms, full basement, basement garage, new bath, modern kitchen, and LOW ENOUGH PAYMENTS to make buying this home EASIER THAN RENTING. If you want LOTS OF HOME for a LOW PRICE give us a CALL TODAY.

FOR INEXPENSIVE CLOSE TO TOWN LIVING, DON'T OVERLOOK THIS HOME AT 345 RAY ST. THE HOME IS IN GOOD CONDITION, HAS 3 LARGE BEDROOMS, IS SITUATED ON AN EXTRA LARGE LOT, AND THE HOME IS IN A-1 CONDITION FOR A TOTAL PRICE OF $5500.00

WE HAVE A FINE DUPLEX ON AMBROSE AVE. THAT HAS 4 ROOMS AND BATH ON EACH SIDE, THE HOME IS ON ONE FLOOR, AND HAS SEPARATE FURNACES, IT'S LOCATED ONE BLOCK FROM McKINLEY SCHOOL, AND THERE IS ALWAYS GOOD INCOME. THE HOME IS PRICED AT MUCH LESS THAN MARKET VALUE —YOU CAN BUY IT FOR $8,000.00 AND LET IT PAY FOR ITSELF WHILE YOU LIVE IN ONE-HALF OF THIS HOME.

Holliday St. is in East End, and one of the best locations you could ask for, if you want a good level lot, a very nice neighborhood, a 1 story home, double detached garage, basement, and a good economical coal furnace. The home is well taken care of, and we feel sure that you will agree that the price of $9000.00 is a very fair market price.

264 W. 9th St.—For a 3 bedroom, 2 story home in a very convenient location close to town, you'll never find a better buy than this completely remodeled home with a new gas furnace, full basement, 3 bedrooms, and it can be yours for $5800.00

$1000.00 CASH, and the assumption of a Direct GI Loan WILL BUY this COMPLETELY REMODELED, 2 story home at the foot of LINCOLN AVE. where you are only a block from the center of town. There are 3 bedrooms, full basement, basement garage, new bath, modern kitchen, and LOW ENOUGH PAYMENTS to make buying this home EASIER THAN RENTING. If you want LOTS OF HOME for a LOW PRICE give us a CALL TODAY.

FOR INEXPENSIVE CLOSE TO TOWN LIVING, DON'T OVERLOOK THIS HOME AT 345 RAY ST. THE HOME IS IN GOOD CONDITION, HAS 3 LARGE BEDROOMS, IS SITUATED ON AN EXTRA LARGE LOT, AND THE HOME IS IN A-1 CONDITION FOR A TOTAL PRICE OF $5500.00

WE HAVE A FINE DUPLEX ON AMBROSE AVE. THAT HAS 4 ROOMS AND BATH ON EACH SIDE, THE HOME IS ON ONE FLOOR, AND HAS SEPARATE FURNACES. IT'S LOCATED ONE BLOCK FROM McKINLEY SCHOOL, AND THERE IS ALWAYS GOOD INCOME. THE HOME IS PRICED AT MUCH LESS THAN MARKET VALUE —YOU CAN BUY IT FOR $8,000.00 AND LET IT PAY FOR ITSELF WHILE YOU LIVE IN ONE-HALF OF THIS HOME.

Mrs. George Smith Returned As President Of Lisbon Club

Mrs. George Smith was elected to a second term as president of the Loyal Women's Class of First Christian Church at Lisbon when it met Monday night.

Other officers to serve for the coming year are Mrs. Ruth McKee, vice president; Mrs. Helen Guy, secretary; Mrs. Robert Stock, assistant secretary; Mrs. Lydia Benton, treasurer; Mrs. William Rose, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Smith, missionary chairman, and Mrs. Mary Hoy, assistant. Mrs. Velva Allmon is teacher.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Allmon and projects for the year were discussed.

Members with birthday anniversaries during the past three months were honored and a birthday cake and lunch were served. Hostesses were Mrs. Allmon, Mrs. Charles Stark, Mrs. Stock and Mrs. Rose. There were 19 present.

The next social meeting will be the Christmas party, a coverdish dinner and 50-cent gift exchange Dec. 12.

The Young Women's Bible Class of the First Presbyterian Church had dinner at Knight's Restaurant in Canfield and a shopping tour at the Boardman Plaza Monday night.

The group will meet Oct. 10.

The American Legion Post Auxiliary met Monday night with Mrs. Carl Morgan, president, presiding, at the post home.

Members were reminded of the fall conference in Uhrichsville Sept. 29 at 8:30 a. m. Anyone desiring to attend should notify the president.

Tentative plans were made to hold the November meeting in Salem as guests of the Ohio Fuel & Gas Co.

Mrs. Jane Mullen won a prize. Lunch was served by a committee composed of Mrs. Ella Mae McCoy, Mrs. Marjory Gardner, Mrs. Mullen and Mrs. Mary Neal.

Mrs. Dorothy Hempstead gave a demonstration and exhibit of metal craft and some of the members would take up the art. Members may call Mrs. Hempstead for further information.

Mrs. Gertrude McCord of Maple St. was hostess to the Victory Club Monday night.

Honors at 500 were shared by Mrs. Victor Williams and Mrs. Robert Stacey. Lunch was enjoyed.

Mrs. Stacey of N. Jefferson St. will entertain in two weeks.

Miss Judy Hartman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hartman of the Fairfield Rd., was among a class of 55 receiving their senior stripes from the Aultman Hospital School of Nursing at Canton Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartman attended the ceremony held at St. Paul's Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Miss Hartman is just completing a three-month course in psychiatrics at Massillon State Hospital and will return to Aultman Hospital to complete her next 10 months of schooling before graduation.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wise and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wise and children of Columbiana and Miss Bertha Webber of Sherman St were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Webber of W. Maple St.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gerling and daughter, Ann, of Berea spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lewis, of N. Market St.

Ike Signs Scaled-Down Anti-Payola Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Tuesday signed into law a scaled-down anti-payola bill aimed at eliminating deceptive TV-radio practices exposed by congressional investigators.

The bill, outlawing quiz show fixing and payola, is an outgrowth of headline-making House inquiries into fraudulent TV shows and undercover payoffs to disc jockeys by record promoters.

Ike Signs Bill To Help Aged In Medical Expenses

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Tuesday signed into law the bill setting up a new federal - state program to help pay medical expenses of needy persons over 65.

Sponsors of the legislation estimate that 12.4 million of the 16 million Americans over 65 will be eligible for benefits under the medical care provisions.

The federal government will pay an expected 202 million to help finance the program the first year, with 60 million coming from the states.

By the fifth year, it is figured the costs will be $340 million in federal funds, $180 million in state contributions. Later the total would go higher. Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming estimates it could "certainly" hit $1.5 billion.

The size and extent of the benefits are entirely up to each state. The program could get under way Oct. 1 but it is not known how many states will be ready by then.

The new law also includes a number of minor liberalizations in the Social Security Act.

Dr. Boggs To Head WVU Education College

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Dr. Earl L. Boggs, a native of this state who has been working in Virginia, is succeeding E. K. Feaster as dean of the West Virginia University College of Education.

Feaster, whose name became a household word because of the report on education which bore it, left to become the president of Fairmont State College.

Dr. Eddie C. Kennedy has been serving as acting dean and will continue to do so until Boggs arrives on or before Feb. 3 for the second semester.

For the past five years Boggs has been dean of Longwood College at Farmville, Va. Before that he was chairman of the graduate committee of the School of Education at the University of Virginia.

Amvit Declares 30-Cent Dividend

The American Vitrified Products Co. of Cleveland has declared a regular quarterly dividend of 30 cents per share, it was announced today by E. L. Miller, President, following the meeting of the Board of Directors.

The regular quarterly dividend of 30 cents per share is payable Sept. 23, to stockholders of record Sept. 16, 1960.

American Vitrified is one of the nation's largest producers of both clay and concrete pipe and allied products. With headquarters in Cleveland, it has plants in Brazil, Ind., Cleveland, Crawfordsville, Ind., Detroit, East Liverpool, Grand Ledge, Mich., Lisbon, Los Angeles, Milwaukee, South Bend, St. Louis and Whitehall, Ill. A new plant recently completed in New Jersey is now in full operation.

The company employs over 1,200 people and in 1959 did approximately $15 million in gross sales.

South Side PTA Hears Storybook Forest Aide

A talk on the "Joy of Living" was given by Arthur Jennings, a clown at Storybook Forest near Ligonier, at the meeting of the South Side Parent - Teacher Association Monday night in the school near Hookstown.

A question - and - answer period followed. Mrs. Hazel Walker was program chairman and Mrs. Jennings was a guest.

Plans were made for a skating party Sept. 22 from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m. at Melody Lane Skating Rink. Carl Walcott, vice president, presided.

The attendance banner was won by Mrs. Eleanor Jones' class in the high school and by Miss Zula Whitehill in the elementary building.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Phyllis Swearingen assisted by the executive board. The next meeting will be Oct. 10.

A talk on the "Joy of Living" was given by Arthur Jennings, a clown at Storybook Forest near Ligonier, at the meeting of the South Side Parent - Teacher Association Monday night in the school near Hookstown.

A question - and - answer period followed. Mrs. Hazel Walker was program chairman and Mrs. Jennings was a guest.

Plans were made for a skating party Sept. 22 from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m. at Melody Lane Skating Rink. Carl Walcott, vice president, presided.

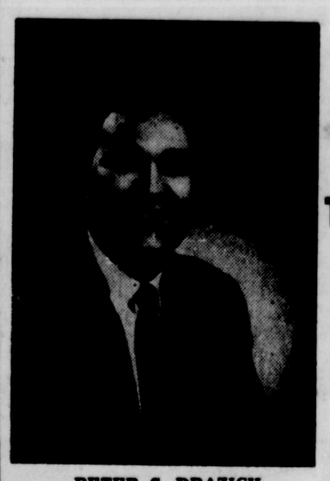

The attendance banner was won by Mrs. Eleanor Jones' class in the high school and by Miss Zula Whitehill in the elementary building.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Phyllis Swearingen assisted by the executive board. The next meeting will be Oct. 10.
